BUILDING UNIONS WILL ASK FOR OFFICIAL AID

They Will Attempt to Prosecute Employers for Conspiracy.

Pledge Made of Men for Work on School Buildings—Wholesale Lumber Dealers to Combine.

"With a view to ending such pernicious practices in the future," a committee of five union men was appointed by the Board of Building Trades yesterday to obtain evidence that employers in the building industry are engaged in unlawful conspiracy to stultify competition and to crush lawful organizations of workingmen. This evidence is to be laid before prosecuting authorities, and is also to be made the basis for public denunciation of the employers. This was the first action taken by the Board of Building Trades since the various contractors and dealers made a close combination to defeat the unions.

The meeting of the board was largely attended. It was held in secret, but afterward a statement, with the resolutions attached, was issued. In the preamble to the resolutions this statement is made:

Owing to the attitude of some of the members of the Contractors' and Sub-Contractors' Association relative to their employment of organized labor in the construction of buildings, &c.; and the fact that their refusal to complete their contracts has become a menace to the public welfare; and because of their utter contempt for public opinion in the matter of public utilities; and because of their refusal to meet organized labor, denying the right of workmen to associate together for the purpose of securing just and fair treatment and by this action attempting to override the free and lawful right to work while such work is in abundance, while, on the other hand, they themselves not only claim the right but do organize for the purpose of exterminating such other bodies, which action is seriously detrimental to the public good; therefore, the Board of Building Trades, representing 250,000 workers, finds itself forced to bring to the public notice the true condition of affairs.

It is further said that certain facts are in the possession of various delegates and individual members of organizations which prove conclusively that the contractors, sub-contractors, and others in certain lines of business meet and conspire together for the purpose of stultifying competition in submitting estimates on work to be done.

The committee of five consists of Edward Kelly of the Electrical Workers' Union, James Nugent of the steamfitters' helpers, Richard Pattison of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Edward Scully of the marble cutters, and W. H. Farley, delegate of the tile layers.

School Commissioner Samuel B. Donnelly went to the meeting as a representative of the Building Committee of the Board of Education to ask for proof that the board was willing and able to supply men to continue work on the public schools. He was shown the records of the board and told that if the material was furnished the unions represented would supply the men no matter who might cart the material.

It was stated after the meeting that the board is willing to pledge itself to supply men under any conditions for the public schools, and, further, that it has always been willing to do so. It was also stated that the work on the public schools is delayed on account of the shut-downs in the yards of the Building Materials and Lumber Dealers' Associations, and that proceedings will be taken in the courts to compel these associations to show cause why material is not delivered.

A call was issued yesterday by the wholesale lumber dealers for a meeting at the Produce Exchange Building this afternoon to take measures for co-operating with the Lumber Dealers' Association in the shut-down. The representative of one of the largest firms of wholesale dealers said yesterday:

"We have no trouble with unions, but the lumber trade is a compact one, and there is no trade in which the interests of the wholesalers and retailers are so closely identified. The wholesale men have always aided the retail men in case of any stress, and will do so now."

About forty wholesale firms will be represented at this meeting.

Architects, builders, and others representing the building trades of the Borough of the Bronx, to the number of about 100, met last evening in Loeffler's Hall, Willis Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-eighth Street, and formally organized the Bronx Building Trades Association, for the purpose of protecting their interests against the alleged misrule and abuse of power by the trades unions.

The following officers were elected: Charles Baxter, President; Philip Freudenmacher, First Vice President; Arthur Archtander, Second Vice President; Daniel Sherry, Treasurer, and Henry Wright Secretary.

After a set of by-laws was proposed and referred to a committee, a declaration of principles was read and adopted. It will be presented to-night at a meeting of the central body in the Townsend Building in Broadway by the following five delegates who were elected last night and given full power to act: Capt. Baxter, Mr. Freudenmacher, Mr. Achtander, Henry Holarith, and K. Lofnik.

The Iron League, Employers' Association of Architectural Iron Workers and Wire Workers and Manufacturers' Association, whose employes are on strike and who have given them until June 1 to return to work, opened their shops yesterday.

In the afternoon report was made that some of the shops were working with a full force of men.

GLOOMY IN BRIDGEPORT.

Trolley Strike Situation Unchanged, and Business Badly Crippled.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 25.—At the present time the trolley strike situation is as far from a settlement as it was the day the conductors and motormen went out. The company refuses to submit the difficulty to arbitration, and it is upon this basis that the strikers hoped for a settlement.

The strike has had such a serious effect on the business men of the city that a meeting of the Directors of the Bridgeport Business Men's Association was held this afternoon to discuss arbitration, intimidation, and mediation.

After a thorough canvass of the situation it was decided to have a meeting of the association Thursday night, when a liberal discussion of the question will be had.

The business men are suffering seriously. People from the many small towns with which the cars connect are not coming into Bridgeport, and even the city people are not riding to the centre to do their purchasing either in the cars or in the strikers' 'buses.

The cars were taken off all lines to-night at 8 o'clock, but beginning to-morrow morning cars will be run on the regular schedule from 5 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, making the longest stretch that has been attempted since the strike began.

TRIES TO KILL HIS BROTHER.

Charles Virog's Revolver Bullets Barely Miss the Rev. Stephen Virog of Trenton, N. J.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—"I will shoot you before morning," cried Charles Virog to his brother, the Rev. Stephen Virog, as he rushed out of the door of the latter's residence at 180 Home Avenue, hatless and coatless late last night after he had tried in vain to kill the minister.

The sight of the pistol in the hands of the wild-looking man deterred any one of the many passers-by from making an attempt to stop or capture him. Later it was learned by the police that the fugitive, who is thirty years old and lives in Passaic, came to his brother's house, and, after making a demand for money, tried to kill him, the minister having refused him the money.

The latter dodged when the visitor's revolver was fired, and the bullet was imbedded in the wall. Before he could take aim again his brother grappled with him, but in the struggle Charles managed to discharge the three remaining cartridges, one of which just grazed the head of the minister. It had been a long time since the brothers had met, Charles having returned only recently from Europe. The police are looking for him.

LEATHER BOND ISSUE.

United States Company's Officials Considering the Question of Raising $5,000,000.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, May 25.—It is understood here that the question of raising additional working capital is still receiving the attention of United States Leather officials, and it is said in well-informed circles that a circular will be issued to stockholders with reference to the matter in the near future. The company is desirous of raising about $5,000,000, but it has been a difficult matter to determine how such an amount should be raised. An issue of additional bonds would have to be assented to by 80 per cent. of the preferred stockholders, but it is believed that it would be impossible to get the consent of the desired number.

There are indications, however, that the company will give the stockholders an opportunity to express their opinion about issuing additional bonds, for that is the only way to settle the matter. Many of the preferred stockholders are averse to issuing any security that would have priority over the preferred stock, as regards either assets or dividends. The expansion in the company's business has been accompanied by additional requirements in the way of working capital, a great deal of which has been appropriated from time to time in acquiring additional lands.

New land acquisitions have brought the value of assets to a point where officials figure that they are equal to the full value of the preferred stock and all its accumulated dividends, and that this valuation would be realized in careful liquidation of the company.

MARYLAND DROUGHT BROKEN.

Terrific Thunderstorms Followed by Heavy Rains—Crop Losses Less Severe Than Anticipated.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, May 25.—For thirty-six hours Maryland has been a centre of electrical storms and heavy rains. The drought in all parts of the State is effectually broken, and dispatches from the best truck-growing sections of the Peninsula and the southern counties state that the loss will not be as heavy as feared a few days ago. The tomato crop will not be as large as usual, and the conditions may affect the packing industries. The wheat crop on the Eastern Shore will be cut in half. In the western part of the State the hay crop is ruined.

While no fatalities are reported, the damage by lightning in various parts of the State is considerable. In Baltimore several residences were struck and the inmates became panic-stricken.

The lightning played pranks with the trolley cars here and in Hagerstown. In the vicinity of the latter place two cars were struck and fired. Harry Cutty, a motorman, was hurled from the platform and picked up insensible, with his arm seared and burned. A bolt struck another car running between Hagerstown and Williamsport. Several passengers were severely shocked.

A spark set fire to the dress of Miss Lamkin, but she escaped injury. Several panic-stricken persons were injured by leaping from the car. D. Clayton Kemp's residence, near Williamsport, was struck and the family stunned. In some parts of the State five furious thunderstorms followed each other within six or eight hours.

CAPT. MOORE'S AIR COOLER.

Summer Atmosphere Is Fed Into Weather Chief's Invention and Comes Out with November Frost in It.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Capt. Willis Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau, is longing for the advent of scorching weather in order to fully test the properties of his new patent air cooler, a device that is expected to bear the same relation to Summer heat that the ordinary basement furnace does to the Winter cold.

Capt. Moore has been at work on his device for a good while, and it was announced some time ago that his device was about ready for business. All that is wanted now is some good blistering weather to bring out in full relief its wonderful powers.

The thing is called the "nevo," which is a word derived from spelling oven backward. The "nevo" is expected to work on a reversed set of conditions and produce a reversed set of effects on the human system. The "nevo" is to the eye a tall copper boiler. It takes air from the top of a window and emits it at the bottom in a cool, dry, and breathable state, which is said to be highly agreeable on an average Washington day in July or August.

The scientific idea of the "nevo" is that ordinary heated air is filtered through chemically treated ice and with the dust and heat and moisture abstracted from it made fit for the human lungs. In the process the air gains somewhat in specific gravity, and so by a reversal of the laws of nature a circulation can be established of hot air downward into the room.

So nicely devised is the machine that if it is desired to renovate the air of a room the window can be closed and the air run through the nevo again and again by the ordinary convexion incident to the heating of the room either from the human body, the radiation from outside, or by artificial heating. The nevo can reduce the temperature of an ordinary room to freezing in the course of a few hours.

The chief problem now before Capt. Moore is to reduce the cost of manufacturing the nevo. The Government can foot bills for such a thing when the private citizen cannot afford to think of it, and must resort to the corner supply of soda water, the electric fan, or a street-car ride.

Will of Benjamin F. Jones.

PITTSBURG, Penn., May 25.—The will of Benjamin F. Jones, the well-known steel manufacturer, was filed for probate this afternoon. No estimate is made of the value of the estate, but it is said by those who should know to be not less than $60,000,000. The widow is to get the income from the bulk of the estate, the balance going to the four children. At Mrs. Jones's death the income from the estate is to be divided equally each year among the children. These trusts are to be continued until the death of the last of the four children, when the principal is to be divided equally among all the testator's grandchildren.

DEVERY WOULD RUN FOR THE MAYORALTY

Accepts Support of "The Bugs of Greater New York."

He Talks of His Ambitions and Pays His Respects to Charles F. Murphy at House Warming of New Club.

William S. Devery practically announced himself for the first time in unequivocal terms last night as a candidate for Mayor. He did not do so in so many words, but accepted his nomination by "The Bugs of Greater New York" without hesitation, and in the course of his talk intimated so strongly his intention of being a candidate that his adherents accepted him at his word.

The clubhouse of "The Bugs," 306 West Twenty-eighth Street, was thrown open to the members and invited guests at 8 o'clock. The organization is social-political in its purposes, its chief object being the advancement of the political aspirations of William S. Devery, aspirant for the Mayoralty of the Greater New York, and, if things go his way, the Governorship of the Empire State, and possibly the Presidency. Questioned about the latter hope last night, Mr. Devery said that it was not unreasonable. It was the aspiration of every decent, well meaning, manly fellow in the country.

DEVERY ON HIS HOPES.

"It's infectious," said the ex-Chief; "Roosevelt has it since he's been it. Grover has been it twice and would like to be it again. All the other Presidents in their graves, if they could get out, would have the bug fever again. Maybe George Washington wouldn't. He refused a third term.

"That don't mean that this club's named for any bug that is 'botherin'' my bonnet. All I want is a fair show, no favor, and a chance at Charley Murphy. He's a lamp with its light out, a wagon without a horse, an automobile with no gasoline, or a fool that tries to write poetry."

Mr. Devery was then interrupted by a long-haired man, who insisted on reading what he called an "epock." It read as follows until "the Chief" stopped the poet with the price of a drink or two and a night's lodging:

Bill Devery was a "copper" with a club,
Never used it on a "feller" with a "thud";
He's the friend of union labor,
And is the same to his neighbor,
But he's layin' for a shaver
Of consequential behavior.

Tammany Hall was all in favor
Till of Murphy it did savor,
Then we thought of Mr. Murphy
Who should be the Czar of Turkey;
We will make him nit and nothing,
Nothing not worth any something—

At this point the Chief paid for the price of his patience and with pride showed visitors over the new clubhouse of which he is the patron.

In the basement there is a grill room, modern in every equipment as any in the Tenderloin, as well as a kitchen of ample accommodations for anything other than a barbecue. The parlor floor above the basement would look larger than it appears if it were not for the violent red of the walls and the large portrait of William S. Devery in a frame which was a mass of graceful gold curves. The portrait is not an idealized likeness.

On the second floor there are three large card rooms with reversible tables, on one side of finely grained and polished oak and on the other of green cloth with a sort of gutter partitioned off, so that the man raking in his chips may have them in the compartments immediately in front of him. On this floor there is also a porcelain bath where the members after political discussions may temper the anger that may be still within them. The third floor is similarly arranged with the exception that the bath is eliminated and there are hall bedrooms for politicians who are too tired after argument to go to their own homes for rest.

The only objection made by the friends and neighbors of Mr. Devery, whose home is two doors below, to the arrangements of the club was the appearance of a colored boy in livery consisting of gold trimmings and blue cloth. As the young man wearing the uniform was not obtrusive and kept himself to the upper floor, and as his hat bore the inscription of "Restaurant Aid," he was forgiven. This was even against the protests of those who insisted that the Chief had been moved by some dude to have a monkey about the house instead of "a good Irishman in his shirt sleeves, ready to serve the boys and to stand for no nonsense, the sort of a lad who would say, 'What in —— will you have, Mike?'"

Before the speechmaking were songs and recitations in the club parlor to the evident delight of the company assembled, the 200 members of the club and the 300 who have made application for membership and were guests of the members.

Prouder than any other members of the Bugs were the few immediate lieutenants of Devery, who wore in their buttonholes gold imitations of "the Pump." There was a bug climbing up the pump, its body being an emerald. They had a habit of congregating about the new clock in the rear of the reception room. This was a marvel of ingenuity, the dial being a part of a beer keg and the support a wooden horse such as one sees in places where the beer comes "direct from the keg."

James M. Congalton presided at the speechmaking, Edward M. Schneider taking care of those who could not stand speechmaking very long without an occasional chance to wet their throats so that they might cheer. An inebriated person who had found his way into the place announced that the Bugs were humbugs, and was let out of the door into Twenty-eighth Street not in the manner of those who are "shown to the door."

After W. B. Munter delivered himself of his opinion that Devery was the next best man in the Democratic Party to William Jennings Bryan, and J. J. Kelley of Brooklyn had spoken as the friend of the laboring man, who believed what was needed was another Lincoln and that Devery was the man, W. W. McLaughlin related what he called the wrongs of the workingman when "Henry George was counted out," and said of Devery that he believed that he was, like Gen. Grant, a man of faults and failings, but able to drink everything in sight and attend to his duties and win victories such as he would win in the Fall when he would be elected Mayor. There were a number of other speakers, and all of them wound up their oratorical efforts with nominating Devery as Mayor.

DEVERY ON HIS CAMPAIGN.

Then the ex-Chief spoke, as follows:

"They have referred to this club as a 'bughouse.' Well, it is appropriately named, as you may not all understand. In all damp places around pumps, hydrants, and such like the bugs come together and they become more the more you kill of them. Another thing about them, they always stick together, though they do spread at an amazing rate. For this reason we hope that this will be the starting point for a Bug Club in every district of New York. I have been called to Woodhaven to address the workingmen there to-morrow and before I get through I hope to have them all bugs with bughouses.

"People are always looking for scapegoats and they talk about Deveryism. Don't you believe all this talk about the last municipal defeat being due to Deveryism. It was all the Marquis of Wantage, who had everything corralled from abroad at the expense of 4,000,000 people.

"It is time to step out and teach Tammany a lesson. The fight is on, and I am here to a finish. If they had all Niagara back of them, they could not sweep me out of the way."

At the conclusion of Mr. Devery's remarks there was a rush to the grillroom, where the kegs were tapped and food was served, the toasts being to Devery, the next Mayor, accompanied with the song that is associated with his name.

McLAUGHLIN ON DEVERY.

He Points to the Last City Election and Declares Brooklyn Would Never Stand for Deveryism.

The announcement made by ex-Deputy Police Commissioner William S. Devery that he intended to begin his Mayoralty campaign in Brooklyn and the sentiments he expressed with regard to some of the Democratic leaders of that borough excited lively interest in Willoughby Street yesterday. Between Hugh McLaughlin and the ex-Police Chief there has been no love lost for the past two years, and the gray "Sage of Willoughby Street" made caustic reply to the former head of the police force.

In making his announcement Devery declared that he would probably "throw a few hot ones into Deacon Pat McCarren and Dead One McLaughlin" in a few days. "McLaughlin," he said, "doesn't give the young men in Brooklyn any chance. Hugh has got to go."

Mr. McLaughlin's face wore a cold, hard smile as he discussed Mr. Devery's statements yesterday.

"Devery," he said, "has no use for me because I demanded his removal a couple of years ago. It would be impossible for us to agree on any subject of government in this community. Devery has never stood for decency or order. When he was Chief of Police he tried to do things in this borough, and I stopped him. He tried to remove two police officials here because they were doing their duty. I sent word across the river that they must be restored and that I would not have any dealings with them over there unless these men were restored. They were put back, and then I told them over the river that Devery should be deposed. But instead of doing this Mr. Croker made him a member of his Democratic Club. I gave them warning that if Devery was not suppressed we would lose the next election. History proves that I was right.

"Devery talks a great deal, and his language is that of the slums. If he should come to Brooklyn he will find that the people here are not of the sort he has been used to dealing with. Brooklynites would never stand for Deveryism, you may be sure."

MRS. A. T. KEMP'S DIVORCE.

Preliminary Decree Granted Her by Rhode Island Court—May Be Made Final After Six Months.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25.—Isabelle Mary Kemp was granted a divorce to-day from her husband, Arthur T. Kemp, by Judge William W. Douglas, sitting in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Judge Douglas announced his decision in favor of the plaintiff at the conclusion of the hearing of her petition. Under the new Rhode Island law the case must be presented again to the Supreme Court at the expiration of six months, and if there has arisen no reason why the divorce should not be granted, a final decree will be entered and the divorce will be absolute for the plaintiff and the respondent.

The case for Mrs. Kemp, who is a daughter of Mrs. Frederic Neilson and a sister of Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, was presented by Samuel R. Honey, entirely on depositions, and Mr. Kemp, while represented nominally by counsel, presented no counter-plea and the divorce was virtually unopposed. There were three depositions in all. Mrs. Kemp deposed that she had been married to Mr. Kemp six years, and that in the Fall of 1901 she was taken sick, and by orders of her physician went to Old Point Comfort, her husband remaining in New York; that upon recovering her health she had returned to New York and found that during her absence her husband had closed his house against her. Having no means of support, she had been compelled to go to her mother's house; that her husband had contributed nothing toward her support from one year prior to the filing of her petition for divorce.

Mrs. Neilson, Mrs. Kemp's mother, testified that Mr. Kemp had contributed nothing to his wife's support and that he had told her that he did not intend to contribute to her support.

Henry F. Eldridge testified regarding property owned by Mr. Kemp in New York and Newport.

HARMONY SOCIETY SUIT.

Heirs of George Rapp to Begin Action Against J. S. Duss and All Others Connected with Sale of the Property.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—The collateral heirs of George Rapp, founder of the Harmony Society, will file a suit in the United States District Court of Western Pennsylvania against John S. Duss, (sole Trustee of the Harmony Society,) Mrs. Duss, Christine Schoneman, aged eighty; Barbara Bosch, aged eighty-six; Frans Gillman, aged eighty-two, (surviving members of the Harmony Society,) the Union Company, the Liberty Land Company, the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company, the American Bridge Company, and all others having had anything to do with the transactions in the attempted sale of the properties of the Harmony Society, in Beaver County, for $2,500,000. The complainants are G. L. Rapp, Keyport, N. J.; Mrs. Ada Everitt, Jersey City; Mrs. Louisa R. Tryon and Mrs. Eliza B. Munn, Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. Jessie Wright and Mrs. Christine Rodgers, New York, and Mrs. Carrie Hudson, Chicago.

The plaintiffs will ask the court to declare all deeds and conveyances null and void. The bill will allege conspiracy on the part of the defendants, and that John S. Duss instituted suits during the last few years, upon which the Supreme Court acted, for the purpose of creating a color of right to alienate the property and secure considerations for the defendants.

Knox & Reed, attorneys for the American Bridge Company, say the title to the property was examined and suits such as will be instituted were taken into account.

RUNAWAY CHILD SHOT.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 25.—Four runaway children, including a little girl suffering from two bullet wounds inflicted by the small rifle of one of her boy companions, because she cried and wanted to go home, were found yesterday in the care of a woman in Liberty Corners, N. J., after having been absent from their homes in Plainfield since Saturday.

The party consisted of William James, ten years old, son of Henry James of Belmont Avenue; Theresa Watson, ten years old, daughter of Henry S. Watson of Manning Avenue, and Ethel and Orville James, sister and brother of William. It was William who shot the Watson girl, Saturday afternoon, and the wounds are serious, because of the long delay. The boy was arrested.

Runaway Horse Nearly Drowned Him.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., May 25.—In a runaway accident at Morris Plains Edward Drake, fifteen years old, had a narrow escape from drowning this afternoon. A horse he was holding made a sudden start, and he was pitched out of the surrey and landed head first in a barrel of water. In that position, with his feet sticking out of the barrel, he remained for several seconds before a rescuer pulled him out. The horse, before it stopped running, caused three other runaways.

FEAR BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

Twenty-four Lines Centring in Chicago Refuse Demands.

Six Thousand Freight Handlers Ask 25 Per Cent. Wage Increase, 10-Hour Day, and Recognition of Union.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Twenty-four railroads centring in Chicago threw down the gauntlet to-day to their freight handlers by formally refusing to grant them any increase in wages. This action forces the strike issue to the front, and the men will hold a meeting before the close of the week and consider what course is to be taken, and whether the refusal warrants a walkout.

The railroad managers met to consider the demands of 6,000 freight handlers for a 25 per cent. increase, a ten-hour workday, and no discrimination against members of the union. The managers had statistics to show that the present rate of wages in Chicago, which averages 17 cents an hour, is higher than that in all except two cities of the Middle West, and that the local workers have been granted a 15 per cent. increase in pay since July of last year.

With the men in the Cupples Station at St. Louis on a strike, those in Kansas City ready to go out, and the freight handlers everywhere forming a powerful organization, the managers decided the time had arrived to show the men that they must be reasonable, and in their action the railroads are as a unit.

After taking all phases of the matter into consideration, the managers adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That each railroad company in the association advise its freight handlers that their request for an increase of 25 per cent. in wages and other demands have been carefully considered, and in view of the increase of approximately 15 per cent. granted about a year ago a further advance cannot be conceded.

The managers signing the declaration represented the following railroad systems:

Santa Fé,	Chicago & Eastern Illinois,
Baltimore & Ohio,	Chicago & Western Indiana,
Illinois Central,	Wabash,
Lake Shore,	Wisconsin Central,
Michigan Central,	Chicago Great Western,
Nickel Plate,	Rock Island,
Pennsylvania,	Chicago, Lake Shore & Eastern,
Northwestern,	Burlington,
Milwaukee & St. Paul,	Chicago Junction.
Monon,
Grand Trunk,
Chicago & Alton,
Chicago & Erie,

"The demands of the men were made on all the roads individually," said Sisson Thompson, who represents the managers, "and all the roads were represented at the meeting. The demands were carelessly drawn up, came to the managers in an unbusinesslike way, and in one sense are not worthy of consideration.

"The consensus of opinion at the meeting was that the present wage scale, adopted after the strike last July, was reasonable and just, and that further concessions were impossible. Opinions differed as to the probability of a strike, but several of the managers admit they are preparing for one."

The move of the managers was not taken seriously by the leaders of the Freight Handlers' Union. They declared that from inside information they knew the roads were willing to treat with the men, but wanted them to make all the advances.

"They will treat with us, all right," said Larry J. Curran, President of the union, "and will give us a good increase, too. We will meet with them and talk the matter over, and I am willing to bet we get more than they are paying us now."

Representatives of the packers and their employes met at the offices of Nelson Morris & Co. in the afternoon to consider the demands of the laborers for 20 cents an hour instead of their present scale, which varies from 15 to 17½ cents. The packers said they were willing to make a flat rate of 17½ cents for all the men of the laboring grade, but the laborers fixed 19 cents as their compromise rate. Neither side was willing to make further concessions, and after three hours of debate the meeting broke up to convene again to-morrow.

"In spite of this disagreement, I feel confident we will adjust the matter on Wednesday," said President M. Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen. "I am relieved at the outlook, though the men will not compromise on less than 19 cents an hour."

PREDICTS HIGHER COTTON.

New "Cotton King," Back in New Orleans, Denies That He Settled with Shorts Here.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 25.—This morning, after an absence of a week, W. P. Brown, the new "cotton king," was seen on the floor of the Cotton Exchange again. He was asked whether it is true that shorts settled with him before he left New York. Mr. Brown answered:

"There is absolutely no truth in it." In answer to questions about the market and conditions in general, he said:

"I believe that cotton will go higher, much higher, solely on its own merits. Manipulation has had very little to do with the advance, particularly in New York, where July is selling 1 cent per pound lower than actual cotton may be bought in the South and shipped to the New York market and tendered. About Mr. Sully, all I can say is that I noticed in the newspapers this morning that he says cotton will go much higher. I have been bullish on cotton for four years, and I have been bullish and am now bullish because consumption has overtaken production. So far as I can judge, the bull crowd in New York has been bullish for the last few months.

"I don't believe for a minute that mills will shut down on account of high prices of the raw material. In the first place, the mills have sold their output for several months to come and must run in order to carry out their contracts. What do I think of the new crop? I know but very little about it except that it is one of the latest crops on record, which means that we will get but little new cotton before the latter part of September or the first of October, which adds to the already strained condition of the supply of American cotton."

DINNER TO T. N. M'CARTER.

Leslie D. Ward Gives an Elaborate Entertainment at Newark.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., May 25.—Dr. Leslie D. Ward, First Vice President of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, gave a dinner at his home, 1,038 Broad Street, to-night in honor of Thomas N. McCarter, ex-Attorney General and President of the new Public Service Corporation.

The dinner, which was one of the most elaborate affairs ever given in this city, was held in the art gallery of Dr. Ward's residence, and was furnished by Delmonico of New York. An elaborate musical programme was rendered with a minstrel entertainment. The menu cards were hand-painted on satin, and on each was the name of each guest, forty of whom were present.

Richard Washington's Trial Begins.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 25.—Charged with the murder of Joseph Goddard, the barrier champion pugilist, Richard Washington, negro constable of Pensaukin Township, was placed on trial to-day. Assistant Prosecutor Archer, in opening the case for the State, said that although the shooting of Goddard was wilful, he would ask only for a verdict of murder in the second degree. The State called several witnesses, and the defense had taken its side up when the court adjourned. Washington claims the shooting was accidental.

THE PRESIDENT TALKS OF THE FIGHT IN OHIO.

Says Those Who Favor His Nomination Will Indorse Him—Gratified by Action of Mr. McKinley's Home County.

WALLA WALLA, Washington, May 25.—Secretary to the President Loeb this afternoon gave out the following statement:

"In speaking of the sudden political developments in Ohio, the President this afternoon said:

"'I have not asked any man for his support. I have had nothing whatever to do with raising the issue as to my indorsement. Sooner or later it was bound to arise, and, inasmuch as it has now arisen, of course, those who favor my Administration and nomination will indorse them, and those who do not will oppose them.'

"The President also said he was deeply touched by the action of President McKinley's home county, in which Canton is situated, in instructing so heartily in his favor. Nothing could have pleased him more."

CHICAGO AND WALL STREET.

Mayor Harrison Answers Criticism and Takes a Fall Out of New York.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, May 25.—"The best hopes of New York along the line of Chicago's becoming a 'way station' are doomed to disappointment," was Mayor Harrison's reply to-day to Wall Street criticism.

"If Wall Street is more tired of Chicago than Chicago is of Wall Street, I miss my guess. The criticism of Chicago is based on a natural hungriness of the Wall Street speculator, who looks at everything from the standpoint of the ticker. Another reason is New York's jealousy of Chicago's growing greatness and Chicago's threats against New York's supremacy. Then some of the criticism is probably based on intemperate remarks and bulletins of the Republican Campaign Committee. These things break out every two years, when Chicago is roasted by Republican Campaign Committees."

SADDLE AND HARNESS TRUST.

Plans Being Arranged in Chicago for a $35,000,000 Combination.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Plans for a new $35,000,000 combine, the American Saddlery and Harness Company, were discussed this morning when representatives of about fifteen of the largest harness and saddlery concerns met and tried to settle upon what concerns should be taken over by the new trust. It is expected that when the new organization is complete and in running order the capital stock will approximate $50,000,000.

It is said that thirty of the largest concerns in the country will be in the combine when it is finally formed. Fifteen were represented to-day, and more than half a dozen will be here for the meeting to-morrow. The capital stock will be issued in preferred and common, but there will be no bond issue.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO BRANCH.

Twelve-Mile Extension in West Virginia to Meet More of the Gould Interests.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, May 25.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is spreading out in West Virginia to meet the move of the Gould interests. It has been decided to construct an important connection between its Belington branch and the line extending from Weston to Pickens, West Va., Buckhannon being the junction point on the latter branch. The new road will be twelve miles in length, and open up valuable timber and coal lands, in addition to affording a low-grade outlet for much of the products of the territory on the line between Weston and Richwood, West Va.

Belington lies in a rich district that is just now receiving more than usual attention, and the Belington division of the Baltimore and Ohio now touches there, as does the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg of the Gould excursion, and the Roaring Creek and Belington Road, owned by interests said to be favorable to the Goulds.

The recently announced new line for the Gould interest from Pittsburg to Baltimore will also take in Belington.

EXPECTS TRANSATLANTIC MARCONI SERVICE SOON.

W. D. Deeks of the Canadian and American Companies Says the Table Head Station Is in Perfect Order.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, May 25.—A dispatch from Halifax says:

"The Marconi station at Table Head, C. B., is in perfect order for the reception and transmission of transatlantic messages. The delay in the establishment of a wireless service between England and America has been entirely due to the station at Poldhu, which is being re-equipped with machinery similar to that at Table Head, and within a few days messages will probably again flash across the Atlantic and the first long-distance wireless service on a commercial basis be established."

This statement was made by W. D. Deeks of New York, who is interested in both the Canadian and the American Marconi companies, and who is on his way from Table Head. Continuing, Mr. Deeks said:

"The present difficulty with us is of a purely mechanical character. But R. N. Vivian, who is in charge of the Table Head station, expects to receive word any day that Poldhu is ready to receive and transmit messages.

"On Saturday a wireless station was opened in Chicago, and another in Milwaukee, and communication has been established between the two places. In Canada an overland station will be established at Vancouver and others at Port Arthur, the western terminus of the Canadian Northern, and probably at Halifax."

SEEKS PERPETUAL ALIMONY.

Mrs. Cunard, Remarried, Wants Payments of Divorced Husband, E. M. Padelford, Continued.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., May 25.—Counsel representing Mrs. Florence Padelford Cunard of 7 Portman Square, London, to-day filed a petition in one of the local courts asking for a citation upon Eli Kirk Price of Philadelphia, as trustee, to show cause why alimony of $6,000 a year heretofore paid to Mrs. Cunard by him as trustee for Edward M. Padelford, from whom Mrs. Cunard was divorced in 1889 by the New York Supreme Court, should not continue to be paid during Mr. Padelford's lifetime.

Mrs. Cunard's maiden name was Florence McFeeters of Baltimore. Mr. Padelford comes of a prominent California family, and Mrs. Cunard's present husband is one of the Cunard family of London, prominently identified with the shipping industry.

POST OFFICE ATTORNEY PLACED UNDER ARREST

Daniel V. Miller Charged with Conspiracy to Bribe.

The John J. Ryan & Co. Turf Concern Said to Have Paid Money—Dismissal of the Official Announced.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Daniel V. Miller, an Assistant Attorney in the office of the Assistant Attorney General for the Post Office Department, was arrested to-day on a charge of conspiracy to bribe and to accept money in violation of the law. The charge is made in connection with the case of John J. Ryan & Co., a turf investment concern accused of fraudulent use of the mails. Mr. Miller, before his arrest, was discharged from the department by Postmaster General Payne. Miller was the only man left in the office of the Assistant Attorney General after the dismissal of Judge Tyner and the suspension of First Assistant Attorney Christiancy.

Postmaster General Payne made the formal announcement of this latest development in the investigation as follows:

"Daniel V. Miller, Assistant Attorney in the office of the Assistant Attorney General for the Post Office Department, is charged with accepting a bribe for a decision in connection with a case before the department, involving the fraudulent use of the mails by John J. Ryan & Co. The case has been in the hands of Inspectors W. J. Vickery of Cincinnati and R. M. Fulton of St. Louis for some days. Complaint was made by Inspector Fulton before a United States Commissioner in Cincinnati Saturday and a warrant was issued. Inspector Fulton arrived here yesterday and this morning exhibited the papers to District Attorney Beach."

Mr. Payne said that this statement was all that could be said at this time, in view of the fact that the case is now before the judicial authorities. He said that the case has been under consideration ever since the general investigation began. He declined to say what explanatory statement had been made by Miller.

A warrant has been issued also for the arrest of Joseph W. Johns of Rockville, Ind., who is charged with having been a partner or go-between in the transaction. His arrest is expected shortly. It is said that Johns kept $2,000 as his share of the bribe, and that Miller received $2,500 for what he did. The warrant includes the name of Johns and also that of Ryan of the get-rich-quick concern. The special charge against Johns is the same as that against Miller—conspiracy to bribe and to accept money in violation of law.

The penalty prescribed for the offense is a fine of not more than three times the amount asked or accepted and imprisonment for not more than three years.

Miller came here from Terre Haute, Ind., about two years ago. He was appointed by ex-Assistant Attorney General James N. Tyner. The charge against Miller has been under investigation for three months. The Ryan Company operated at St. Louis and Covington, Ky. Its methods and working operations are said to be similar to those of the Arnold Company, which has figured conspicuously in the Post Office investigation. The inspectors have been quietly at work on the case, and action was delayed so they might get together all the papers and evidence which, in their opinion, was necessary. Post Office Inspector in charge W. J. Vickery, at Cincinnati, and Post Office Inspector R. M. Fulton at St. Louis recently were given full charge of the case.

Complaint was made by Inspector Fulton before a United States Commissioner in Cincinnati Saturday, and a warrant was then issued for Miller and for the other party. Inspector Fulton immediately went to Washington, while another Inspector went West from Cincinnati to make the other arrest. Inspector Fulton to-day exhibited the papers in the case to United States District Attorney Beach.

Miller was at his desk all day to-day. He was called into the office of Assistant Attorney General Robb shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and notified of his immediate dismissal and of the steps that had been taken. He was allowed to draw his salary and then return to the private office of the Assistant Attorney General, where Inspectors were in waiting.

Miller spent the evening in the office of Assistant District Attorney Taggart, waiting for the details connected with his bail bond to be arranged. Mr. Robb remained with him, and it was finally arranged that the Citizens' Guaranty and Trust Company of Parkersburg, West Va., should be accepted on his bond for the sum of $1,500.

When seen and asked for a statement as to his responsibility Miller said that he was not guilty and that when the whole story came out and the truth was known he would come out all right.

The Ryan Company was the beneficiary under a decision of the Assistant Attorney General of the Post Office Department, made several months ago, subsequent to the decision in the Arnold case, and couched in practically the same terms as that decision. Those decisions declared the concerns named to be free to use the mails. The Arnold decision, it is said, was signed by Assistant Attorney General Tyner and the Ryan decision by George A. C. Christiancy, the Law Clerk of the department, who was then Acting Assistant Attorney General on account of Mr. Tyner's protracted illness. Mr. Christiancy was at the Post Office Department to-day on a summons from the department, and was closely examined regarding the case.

It was learned to-day that the first clue to the guilt of Miller was found in an admission made by himself, when closely questioned during the investigation into the decisions in favor of the get-rich-quick concerns. Later in the evening it was learned that Miller had made further admissions, and that in effect he had turned State's evidence, and would make further disclosures in a few days when he had time to recover from the excitement and shock incident to his arrest.

There were in all thirty-three get-rich-quick concerns at one time last year on the anxious seat before the Post Office Department. All feared that they would be barred from the mails and would have to shut down. They were coining money from victims all over the West, and were ready to spend all kinds of money to get the department to let them alone. They were not all turf investment affairs. Some were endless chain lotteries and others real estate companies providing for weekly assessments, with a chance to draw a thousand-dollar lot. In one of these a well-known Western United States Senator was interested, first as an attorney before the Post Office Department and then from the fact that he received a present of $2,000 worth of stock in the company and was paid a dividend of 7½ per cent. a month on it. The letter of the Senator acknowledging the payment of the first dividend was used on one of the advertisements of the company. The Senator, who was endowed with the $2,000 of get-rich-quick stock, had said that he "had never in all his life made an investment that proved so profitable as this, and he had no hesitation in commending it to all persons who wanted something good."

TORNADOES KILL FIFTEEN

Many Others Injured by Storms in Southern Nebraska.

Five Persons Meet Death and Eight Hurt in One House—Church Wrecked and Pastor and Three Women Killed.

HASTINGS, Neb., May 25.—A series of heavy storms, two of which developed into the worst tornadoes that have visited Southern Nebraska for years, passed over portions of Clay, Franklin, and Kearney Counties last evening. Fifteen persons are known to have lost their lives, and more than a score of persons were more or less seriously injured.

Near Norman, at the home of Daniel McCurdy, a number of relatives and friends were spending the day, and not one in the house escaped death or serious injury. Daniel and Robert McCurdy and three women were killed. Eight other persons were injured, four of them badly.

Two miles south of Upland German Lutheran services were being held in a school house when the storm struck and demolished it, killing four of the occupants, including the minister, and injuring eight others. Three of the dead are women.

At Pauline Mr. and Mrs. James Mumaw and their child were killed. Three other persons, one a woman, met death in the storm.

The storm was equally destructive at Fairfield, but the people were warned of its coming and sought cellars for safety. Six dwellings were blown to pieces at that place, but their occupants escaped injury with a few exceptions. Mrs. A. W. Broderick and a child were seriously hurt, as was Charles Taylor, who was caught under a falling chimney. Every dwelling and outbuilding in the path of the tornado was blown to pieces, and the financial loss thus far accounted for will reach about $60,000.

The family of Peter Hockinson, nine in number, was reunited late to-day. They lived near Norman, and were separated by the storm, it being feared at first that most of them had been killed.

There were two tornadoes, both originating within a mile of Fairfield. The first one moved to the northwest and the second off to the southwest. The one to the northwest did the greater damage, and all the fatalities seem to have been in its path. The greatest loss of property was sustained by farmers. The heaviest individual loss reported is that suffered by Charles Taylor, who places the damage to his stock farm, including cattle and horses killed, at $21,000.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 25.—A tornado struck the town of Rolfe, seventy miles west of here, late yesterday, killing Fong Foo, a laundryman, fatally injuring a child, and wrecking the State Bank Building, Crayon's general store, the Hotel De Main, and one other building. Several residences were damaged.

ROCK ISLAND THWARTED.

Texas Railroad Commission Refuses to Allow Purchase of North and South Lines of Southern Pacific.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 25.—The Railroad Commission to-day passed an order refusing to sanction the purchase by the Rock Island of the North and South lines of the Southern Pacific in Texas. The trackage contracts between the Rock Island and these lines are also disapproved.

The following are the principal points of objection offered:

First—That the ownership of the stock of the Houston and Texas branch of the Texas and New Orleans Railroad in equal amounts by the Southern Pacific Company and by the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railroad Company upon an agreed basis of control and management is equivalent to consolidation of these properties under one management, and subjects said separate Texas railroad corporations to a common control contrary to a provision of the State Constitution.

Second—A consolidation of these several properties has been effected by a private stock.

Third—That while it does not appear from the trackage contracts or agreements that there is to be a common and consolidated management of these properties, it is evident from the statement of Robert Mather, Vice President of the Rock Island, that there is another contract or agreement that has been entered into between these companies which has not been submitted to the Railroad Commission.

Fourth—That the Rock Island under its Texas charter has no authority to purchase the stock of other railroad corporations, and if it has such authority the Railroad Commission declines to sanction such a policy.

Fifth—That the agreement means the establishment of a community of interest between Rock Island and Southern Pacific so far as affects their operation and business in Texas and precludes competition between them. It is not known what effect this decision on the part of the Railroad Commission will have on the plans of the Rock Island as to its affairs in Texas. It is stated that the order is to be strictly enforced and that there will not be permitted any evasion on the part of the companies concerned.

The only way in which relief can be obtained by the railroad companies concerned is to appear before the Legislature and secure the necessary sanction or authority to carry out the deal which it was sought to have the Railroad Commission approve. The Legislature will not meet for nearly two years.

Special to The New York Times.

DALLAS, Texas, May 25.—A bulletin from Austin to-night says that representatives of the Rock Island Company say that company is going to disregard the decision of the State Railroad Commission in disapproving the contracts with the Southern Pacific Company for the control of certain lines in Texas and will test that matter in the courts, both State and Federal, if necessary.

NO SANTA FE BOND ISSUE.

President Ripley Denies That the Company Plans One—Its Resources Ample Now.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, May 25.—President Ripley of the Santa Fé denies that his company intends to make an additional bond issue. When the Santa Fé put out the $30,000,000 serial debentures it was said the proceeds would be used for the purchase of equipment, the construction and acquisition of additional branch lines and the purchase of outstanding bonds and stocks of branch-line companies, the construction and acquisition of additional terminal facilities, and the reduction of grades and improvements of a permanent character; also to reimburse the treasury for expenditures for such purposes.

Under the terms of the general mortgage the company is entitled to issue $30,000,000 of its general fours at a rate not to exceed $3,000,000 a year, for improvement and acquisitions, and any portion of the $3,000,000 not certified in any fiscal year is cumulative. Of this issue, $750,000 of each $3,000,000 can be applied for the construction or acquisition of branch lines or extensions. Of these bonds there remained on June 30, 1902, $14,500,471, of which $6,000,000 was then available, and of the balance $3,000,000 will become available on July 1, 1903. The company therefore has now ample resources to take care of all its improvements and extensions.

To Increase Detroit Southern Capital.

At a meeting held yesterday in this city the stockholders of the Detroit Southern Railroad Company authorized the voting Trustees to consent to an increase of the capital stock from $17,000,000 to $28,000,000, making $12,000,000 preferred and $16,000,000 common. It is proposed to construct several extensions to coal mines and other branch lines to obtain a share of the lake coal and ore trade.

DR. E. C. WENDT A SUICIDE.

Well-Known Physician, Formerly of This City, Shoots Himself in Paris While Temporarily Insane.

PARIS, May 25.—Dr. Edmund Charles Wendt of New York shot and killed himself with a pistol in his apartments here to-day during temporary aberration of the mind.

The authorities have notified United States Consul General Gowdy.

Dr. Edmund C. Wendt, son of Charles E. Wendt, was born about forty-five years ago, and was graduated at Strassburg in 1877. Coming to New York, he entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons, from which he was graduated in 1880. When he first came here he was an assistant to Dr. Leonard Weber; later he became connected with The Medical Record. He translated works by Theodor Billroth and A. Gusserow, and wrote a book on cholera which was much consulted at the time of the cholera scare in New York.

He married the sister of Edwin Einstein, who was a Republican candidate for Mayor of New York. Mrs. Wendt was a prominent member of the Women's Health Protective Association. About seven years ago Dr. and Mrs. Wendt went to Europe and took up their abode in Southern France. After living there a few years they went to Zurich. From there they removed to Paris about a year ago. Since leaving America Dr. Wendt had continued to write for scientific periodicals, making a specialty of sanitation.

While in this city Dr. Wendt lived at 118 West Seventy-ninth Street. He leaves two children besides the widow.

Dr. George F. Shrady, who knew Dr. Wendt, said yesterday he was a brilliant man, and had done much for the medical profession.

THE KING'S VISIT TO IRELAND.

Ex-Nationalist M. P. Denounces the "Trivial Hostility" to His Majesty of a Certain Section.

LONDON TIMES—NEW YORK TIMES Special Cablegram.

LONDON, May 26.—A telegram from Dublin to The Times says that Arthur Moore, ex-Nationalist member of Parliament for Derry and a faithful supporter of Timothy Healy's party, has sent £10 to the Irish Parliamentary Fund, with a letter in which he says he relies on the prudence and moderation of Mr. Redmond, Mr. O'Brien, and the party to bring the Land bill to a successful consummation.

Denouncing the "trivial hostility" of a certain section to the approaching visit to Ireland of King Edward, Mr. Moore writes:

"The King is our friend and well-wisher, and has the true interests of the country at heart. Let Mr. Harrington [the Lord Mayor of Dublin] make up his mind to do his duty. If he does not he will be left high and dry, as a Citizens' Committee will be formed and the people themselves will give the King a royal welcome."

FOR IRELAND'S BETTERMENT.

Industrial League Incorporated in This State—Membership Includes Prominent Irish-Americans.

The Irish Industrial League of America, in which a number of prominent men in this city are interested, has been incorporated. Its purposes are the promoting of industrial, commercial, and agricultural pursuits and the development of the economic and material resources of Ireland.

The promoters of the plan propose to take steps toward the accomplishment of their purposes by voluntary association and pecuniary assistance. In a great measure, the organization is philanthropic in character. Although just incorporated the league has been tentatively organized for some time past. The Directors include Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, John D. Crimmins, Vincent P. Travers, Richard Deeves, Thomas H. Kelly, John Quinn, Charles W. Sloane, Eugene Kelly, James Byrne, John Byrne, ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant, Eugene A. Philbin, Recorder John W. Goff, Thomas B. Minahan, and George J. Gillespie.

NOBLEMEN FIGHT A DUEL.

Prince Radziwill and Count Sizzo Went from London to France for the Purpose—Neither Hurt.

PARIS, May 25.—A duel with pistols was fought this morning at Villebon, near Paris, between Prince Radziwill, an Attaché of the Russian Embassy in London, and Count Edward Sizzo of Noris, an Austrian nobleman and a well-known London clubman. The duel was the outcome of a quarrel over cards, and Count Sizzo was the challenger. Shots were three times exchanged at fifteen paces, but neither of the duelists was injured. The principals were reconciled on the ground.

Besides the four seconds, who all came from London, a doctor was the only person to witness the duel.

EMPEROR WILLIAM SARCASTIC.

His Reply to Reports That a Statue of Charles V. is to be Placed in Berlin Cathedral.

BERLIN, May 25.—The newspapers have been printing items to the effect that a statue of Emperor Charles V. is to be placed in the new Cathedral of Berlin, and a number of Protestant organs have expressed themselves as pained and surprised. Emperor William wrote on the margin of a clipping of this kind:

"Besides him, Diocletian, Nero, Torquemada, and Alva will be placed in the Cathedral. Lucifer himself has been proposed, only we do not know whether to place him in the pulpit or in the Emperor's box."

The North German Gazette prints the foregoing at the head of its columns to-day as a semi-official answer to the Emperor's critics.

THE CHESS TOURNAMENT.

VIENNA, May 25.—The seventeenth and semi-final round of the international gambit chess tournament was begun in this city this afternoon, when the order of play was as follows: Marshall vs. Teichmann, Gunsberg vs. Schlechter, Swiderski vs. Marco, Pillsbury vs. Maroczy, and Tschigorin vs. Mieses.

When an adjournment was made this evening Teichmann had disposed of Marshall, Gunsberg had gone down before Schlechter, Pillsbury and Maroczy had drawn, and Tschigorin had been beaten by Mieses. The game between Swiderski and Marco was adjourned, greatly in favor of the latter.

Inasmuch as both Tschigorin and Marshall were beaten to-day, the latter cannot possibly do more than equal the Russian's score to-morrow.

The record up to date:

	Won.	Lost.		Won.	Lost.
Tschigorin	12	5	Maroczy	8½	8½
Marshall	11	6	Mieses	8½	8½
Pillsbury	9½	7½	Swiderski	8	8
Marco	9	7	Schlechter	6½	10½
Teichmann	9	8	Gunsberg	2	15

The final round of the tournament is scheduled for to-morrow, the pairing being as follows: Maroczy vs. Swiderski, Marco vs. Gunsberg, Schlechter vs. Marshall, Teichmann vs. Tschigorin, and Mieses vs. Pillsbury.

PARIS, May 25.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Biltmore, with J. Ransch up, at the St. Cloud meeting to-day won the Printemps Handicap, worth $1,600. Mr. Vanderbilt's Reinette II. took second place in the race for the Prix Guayacourt at the meeting.

MRS. BEDFORD ADMITS CHILD IS NOT HER OWN

Pleads Guilty in London Police Court and Is Fined £10.

Had the Case Gone to Trial She Might Have Been Sent to Prison for Seven Years—No Further Litigation Expected.

LONDON, May 25.—Mrs. Gunning S. Bedford (who was arrested at Queenstown on May 16 on the arrival there from New York of the Cunard liner Umbria, charged with making a false declaration of a child's birth,) was brought up on remand at the Bow Street Police Court here to-day, and pleaded guilty. She admitted that the child was not her own, and said she had adopted it. Mrs. Bedford was fined £10.

Mrs. Bedford, when she appeared in the dock, was pale and agitated. A formidable array of counsel appeared for both sides. The prosecution showed Mrs. Bedford came to England from Paris in December, and that she had advertised as "Mme. B., desirous of adopting a female child," with the result that the child of a workingwoman in Isleworth was transferred to Mrs. Bedford's keeping, under the name of Margaret Carnette. Mrs. Bedford registered the child as her own, and took it to Paris, and thence to America.

Counsel for the prosecution added that, as the foregoing facts had been established and the child could no longer be claimed as the heiress of the Bedford estate, they were not desirous of severe measures, and asked the Magistrate to deal with the case as a technical offense, and not send it to the higher courts, where a penalty of seven years' imprisonment could have been inflicted. After consultation with counsel, Mrs. Bedford admitted her guilt.

Marshall Hall, K. C., on behalf of the prisoner, maintained that Mrs. Bedford only acted in accordance with the desire of her dead husband, who wished to adopt the child and make it their legitimate offspring, as permitted in the case of married couples under the French law. There was no intention to defraud or illegally to secure a legacy.

The Magistrate inflicted the heaviest fine the law allowed.

Mrs. Bedford applied for her property held by the police, and everything was returned to her except a loaded revolver. This she excitedly demanded, saying:

"Certainly I want it. I have always carried one ever since my husband and myself were attacked."

The lawyers quieted her, but Mrs. Bedford said:

"It doesn't matter. I'll get another."

Mrs. Bedford retains the baby as her adopted daughter.

Coudert Brothers, the attorneys having in charge the interests of the heirs-at-law of Judge Gunning S. Bedford and Frederick Bedford, declared yesterday that they did not believe further litigation of any sort would be necessary to secure for their clients the money involved in the estate, amounting to something like $800,000.

"We for the time rested our case simply on the criminal proceedings in London," said Lorenzo Semple of Coudert Brothers. "We were satisfied that the arrest of Mrs. Bedford would bring matters to an issue, and we also were confident that she could not escape those proceedings, but should she have done so we would have continued in the civil courts. A civil suit, however, was just what we wished to avoid, as she could have fought us for years in the civil courts, whereas a criminal case, such as was brought, compelled her to act without dodging. Naturally we were sure of our ground or we would not have taken such a radical step as to secure the arrest of the woman. As an example of the care we took I will say that the Register before whom Mrs. Bedford went in London on the 18th of last December, representing herself as the aunt of the girl child, was on the steamer on which Mrs. Bedford crossed.

"Our London representative went to Queenstown and the Register identified Mrs. Bedford positively as the woman who came before him swearing to be the aunt of the child. It was only after this positive identification that we ordered the arrest in the interest of our clients. The Register would have gone on the stand had it been necessary and would have sworn to these facts. Also we would have brought in persons connected with our Paris office which Mrs. Bedford had visited only four days before the reputed birth of the baby. It is evident that Mrs. Bedford, realizing the impossibility of her case, declined to take any chance on being imprisoned, and pleaded guilty. In the Magistrate's court she could do this and escape with a fine, whereas had the case gone to the higher courts for a regular trial she would have been liable to seven years' imprisonment.

"I do not imagine that there will be any trouble over the money now. There are five heirs-at-law, of whom we represent two—Mrs. Wright of Hempstead, L. I., and Mrs. Zerega of Plainfield, N. J. The other three desire that their names be kept out of the case for the present, as they do not wish to be bothered with the notoriety or by interviewers."

Most of the property involved is located on Washington Heights and in Greenwich Street, this city. No personal property is involved.

NAVY'S WAR ON SALOONS.

Acting Secretary Darling Following Up Mr. Moody's Demand for Reform at Bremerton, Wash.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Following out the announcement of Secretary Moody that unless saloons are abolished on Front Street at Bremerton, Washington, work at the Puget Sound Navy Yard would be reduced to a minimum, Acting Secretary Darling will direct that no more ships be ordered there for repair or docking until he is satisfied with conditions in that town. This work, so far as practicable, will be done at the Mare Island Navy Yard. Ships too large for docking at Mare Island will come to the Atlantic Coast.

Telegraphic instructions have been sent to the Pacific Squadron, which was about to proceed to Bremerton for repairs, to remain at San Francisco until further orders, and Mr. Darling has wired Capt. J. V. B. Bleecker, the acting commandant at Bremerton, regarding the truth of newspaper reports that the Bremerton Town Council had declined to approve the revoking of the licenses of the saloons and gambling houses on Front Street and that these places are still in operation.

If these reports be true, Acting Secretary Darling says the department has been misled. Some time ago, because of the evil influences which investigation showed existed directly outside the Bremerton yard, an order was issued that no more ships be sent there until this condition was remedied. Although powerful political influence was brought to bear on the department to revoke this order, Acting Secretary Darling stood his ground, and not until the Bremerton authorities officially informed him that the licenses for all saloons and gambling houses on Front Street had been revoked and these places closed, did he consent that the gunboat Ranger go there for docking. That vessel has just arrived at Bremerton. Mr. Darling is determined that American sailors shall not be subjected to evil influences such as have existed just outside the gates of the Bremerton yard.

It was announced to-day that the orders recently issued to Capt. Charles J. Barclay to take command of the Bremerton yard will not be revoked in favor of Capt. Bleecker, the present acting commandant. Secretary Moody was urged by the United States Senators from Washington to revoke Capt. Barclay's orders and appoint Capt. Bleecker commandant of the yard.

With the exception of the armored cruiser New York, the other vessels of the Pacific Squadron, consisting of the Boston, Marblehead, and Ranger, can be docked at the Mare Island Yard. If it is necessary to keep ships away from Bremerton, the New York probably will come to Atlantic waters a year sooner than was intended, for a complete overhauling, which will require two years' work. When recommissioned the New York will be attached to the new European cruiser squadron.

MACEDONIAN CHIEF'S DEATH.

A Greek Spy Betrayed Deltcheff's Whereabouts to the Turks.

LONDON TIMES—NEW YORK TIMES Special Cablegram.

LONDON, May 26.—Detailed reports of the death of Deltcheff, the famous Macedonian chief, says the Sofia correspondent of The Times, show that he accompanied a band under Voivoda and Kirtchovsky, together with the poet Tavoroff, and entered the village of Banitsa, near Seres, where his presence was betrayed to the Turks by a Greek spy.

A large force surrounded the village, and all the members of the revolutionary band were killed after a long resistance. It is stated that the inhabitants of the village, to which the Turks set fire, were also killed.

Deltcheff was thirty-two years old. He was a schoolmaster, and practically created the present Macedonian organization, which has ramifications in all parts of the country.

The Vienna correspondent of The Times says perquisitions and arrests continue in the vilayet of Adrianople. Numbers of priests and school teachers have been taken into custody. Arms have been found in six villages. The male population has fled, and agricultural work is at a standstill.

150 MACEDONIANS KILLED.

VIENNA, May 25.—About 150 Macedonian insurgents were killed at the village of Smerdesh, south of the Lake of Presba, (which is southwest of Monastir,) on May 21, according to a dispatch to the Neue Freie Presse from Salonika.

The insurgents, who had possession of quantities of dynamite, sought refuge in the village and were attacked by Turkish troops. The fighting lasted for thirty hours, and, ultimately, all the houses were burned or blown up by dynamite by the Turks.

One hundred and fifty bodies were found in the ruins.

BERLIN, May 25.—The Lokal Anzeiger prints the following dispatch from Salonika:

"The insurgents seized the village of Smerdesh, on the Lake of Presba, and Turkish soldiers surrounded the place. They fought for thirty hours. The rebels threw dynamite and dynamite bombs at the houses, which caught fire. The wind spread the flames and burned up the whole town. One hundred and fifty bodies of insurgents were found in the ruins."

JEWS, PANIC-STRICKEN, LEAVING ST. PETERSBURG.

Fear Similar Outrages to Those at Kishineff at the Celebration to be Held on Friday.

BERLIN, May 25.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Lokal Anzeiger confirms the report that the Jews in that city are in fear that similar outrages to those at Kishineff may occur in the Russian capital during the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the foundation of St. Petersburg, which will be held on May 29.

All the Jews who are possessed of means are preparing to go to Finland, while the poor Jews are panic stricken.

The authorities hope to avoid rioting through diverting the attention of the masses by giving free shows at the theatres and other entertainments.

ENGLISH KISHINEFF FUND.

Appeal to be Issued Immediately—Meeting of the Jewish Board of Deputies.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, May 25.—A meeting of the Jewish Board of Deputies was held to-day in the synagogue of the Spanish and Portuguese Jews at Kilburn.

David Alexander reported that Claude Montefiore and himself, after deliberating, had decided to issue an immediate appeal for funds to succor the sufferers from the Kishineff atrocities. They would, he added, also watch public opinion, and if necessary for the purpose of keeping public indignation alive, would hold a public meeting. At present, however, there was no need of this step, for the public conscience could not be more effectively aroused than it had been by the letters and accounts already published.

B. L. Cohen, M. P., announced his readiness to ask a further question in the House of Commons, but he suggested that at present no good purpose could be served in this way. The stereotyped official answer in regard to the dismissal of the Governor of Bessarabia would not advance matters.

The Carnegie Hall Kishineff Meeting.

Ex-President Cleveland is to speak and Mayor Low to preside at the meeting to be held in Carnegie Hall to-morrow night at 8 o'clock to express the indignation of the city at the massacre of Jews in Russia. Other speakers will be President J. G. Schurman of Cornell University, the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, the Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur, and Edward M. Shepard.

Kishineff Receives Money from Here.

The State Bank of 398 Grand Street, which is the treasury of subscriptions for the Kishineff sufferers, received yesterday a cablegram from Perlmutter Kligman, banker, of Kishineff, acknowledging the receipt of 25,000 rubles, the first amount sent from here. The sum received in subscriptions during the day was $3,400.10, which brings the total of the New York fund up to $30,050.32.

Theatrical Benefit for Kishineff.

William T. Keogh, manager of the new Star Theatre, has set aside Friday night of this week for a benefit for the Jewish sufferers of Kishineff. The attraction will be "A Wife's Secret."

CARPENTERS' UNION REJECTED.

Brotherhood Not Admitted to the Board of Building Trades.

The Board of Building Trades yesterday by a vote of over two-thirds rejected the application of the Brotherhood of Carpenters for representation. The Credentials Committee of the board sent in a report, which was mainly to the effect that the brotherhood did not comply with the conditions necessary for representation in the board.

It was held that the brotherhood was ineligible because of its recent agreement with the Employing Cabinetmakers and Interior Decorators' Association, which provides that none except members of the brotherhood shall be employed in any shops or buildings where members of the association have contracts, and that no sympathetic strikes would be allowed while the agreement, which was for a year, was in force.

If the board follows its rules the brotherhood men will be looked upon simply as non-union men and will be liable to be struck against by the unions in the board on all buildings. So far the brotherhood has taken the aggressive, and has been striking against the Amalgamated Carpenters' Society, which the board has taken under its wing.

Three Policy Men Sentenced.

That policy has not been stamped out in this city with the removal of "Al" Adams, the "Policy King," from his former sphere of activity to Sing Sing, became evident yesterday, when three men pleaded guilty to the possession of policy slips before Judge Cowing in the Court of General Session. One was sent to prison for three months, one for two, and the third, a youth who was ill and penitent, was let off with a fine of $25.

TAMMANY PLANNING CAMPAIGN.

Democratic City Committee to Decide on Organization of Conferences as to Candidates.

Charles F. Murphy returned from Mount Clemens, Mich., yesterday and went to the renovated Tammany Hall to begin the labors of making the organization ready for the Fall campaign. Mr. Murphy took his seat in the front of the Wigwam near Fourteenth Street, where there are light and air. For more than a quarter of a century the leaders of Tammany have spent many hours in the back room which Leader Murphy found to be unsanitary and unfit for occupancy.

After receiving the congratulations of many leaders Mr. Murphy buckled down to active work. In accordance with word sent from Mount Clemens a meeting of the Executive Committee will be held this evening. Resolutions were prepared in reference to the Kishineff massacre and also resolutions in reference to the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of a municipality on Manhattan Island.

Mr. Murphy would make no remarks to indicate his future plans, but it was said by his friends that from now until election day he would be in the vicinity of New York, except for a short sojourn at Saratoga at the time of the Democratic State Committee meeting.

The first act in the Democratic campaign for the Mayoralty will be taken to-morrow, when the City Committee, comprised of representatives of the various Democratic organizations of the Greater New York, will meet. The first preliminaries will be to effect the organization necessary to carry on the conferences as to candidates, basis of representation, and other details. It was said last evening that there would be no discussion of candidates for Mayor and Controller until the plan of campaign was further developed.

The leaders who will represent the various Democratic organizations at the conference on Wednesday evening are as follows:

MANHATTAN AND BRONX—Louis F. Haffen, Charles F. Murphy, Eugene J. McGuire, and Daniel F. McMahon.

BROOKLYN—James Shevlin, John L. Shea, Patrick H. McCarren, Bernard J. York, and J. C. Moffatt.

QUEENS—President Cassidy, Sutphin, Kadien, Bannon, and Cousel.

RICHMOND—Thomas W. Fitzgerald, John J. Kenney, Edward Muller, Henry Yettman, and Frederick Vitt.

It is probable that at the meeting of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall to-night some action will be taken on the charges which have been filed against William S. Devery that he procured his victory at the primaries last year by fraud and the purchase of votes. Some Tammany men thought that another leader would be chosen to succeed Devery and that his final "turn-down" by the district leaders was to occur. Mr. Murphy would make no statement last evening as to the truth or falsity of these rumors.

SOUTH CAROLINA AND 1904.

Would Accept an Eastern Man as Democratic Nominee, Says Chairman Garris of State Railroad Commission.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—C. W. Garris of South Carolina, who is Chairman of the Railroad Commission of that State, and who has been prominent in its politics, had this to say to-day touching the Democratic nomination for President in 1904:

"I do not undertake to say specifically what Democrat would suit my State, but I do say that South Carolina would be willing to go a long way along the line of concessions to bring the Federal Government back to Democratic Administration. I feel safe in saying that our people are willing to go again to the East for a Democratic leader, if it is necessary. It begins to look as if the oldtime alliance between the South and East, with consequent victory, is coming around. Our people feel that there is a chance for success next year, and will do all they can to assist in making that success certain.

"The South is unalterably opposed to negro office holders, and is willing to make more than a reasonable concession to have its feelings respected in this particular. The present Republican Administration has done more, in the name of buncombe, to precipitate a positive Southern feeling in this direction than all of its predecessors. However, the white people of the South have not any feeling of prejudice against the negro as a citizen. They are willing and ready to give him justice in the courts and in business transactions, and as a matter of fact do that, but they do object, and will for all time, to such social and political prominence as would inure to him out of the Rooseveltian idea of what ought to be done with the negro.

"Our Southern people will not oppose a sound monetary system, but they are as wholly opposed to trust control of manufacturing, transportation, and productive industry as they were in the last two Presidential elections."

SOUTHERN ROADS TO COMBINE.

The Southern Railway and the Mobile and Ohio Will Probably Be Consolidated on July 1.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 25.—The Southern Railway and the Mobile and Ohio Railroad will consolidate on July 1 if there is no hitch in the present plans of the management of those roads.

This information has not yet been officially announced, but it is learned on high authority that such is the intention of the controlling interests of the two railways.

The Southern has owned a majority of the stock of the Mobile and Ohio for some time, and it was the intention to consolidate the roads in April, but the fact that there was considerable legislative excitement at that time in Mississippi caused the management of the Southern to postpone the matter. It was deemed the wiser course to wait until this feeling had subsided before making public the fact that the two great systems would be united under one management.

It is probable that the name of the Mobile and Ohio will no longer be used, and that in July the lines composing that system will be operated under the name of the Southern Railway Company.

ITALIAN ENMITY TO AUSTRIA.

Revived by the Beating of Italian Students by Austrians at Innsbruck.

ROME, May 25.—The bad feeling on the part of Italians against Austria, which has been latent here since the Austrian occupation of Northern Italy, in spite of the twenty-one years' alliance between the two countries, has been revived by an incident which has just occurred at the University of Innsbruck, where a number of students of Italian nationality, but who are Austrian subjects were set upon and beaten by the Austrian students. The Italians in Italy as well as those subject to Austria are urging the institution of an Italian university at Trieste.

The incident had an echo in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. Replying to questions on the subject, Minister Baccelli said that the matter was one concerning the internal affairs of Austria and did not concern Italian subjects. The Government could not intervene because subjects of Austria, although of Italian origin, were being maltreated in their own country.

Slater Engine Company Fails.

WARREN, Mass., May 25.—The Slater Engine Company to-day made an assignment to G. W. Anderson, a Boston attorney, for the benefit of its creditors, pending a reorganization of the company. A meeting of creditors will be held in a few days, at which time a statement of assets and liabilities will be made and the plan for reorganization will be submitted to interested parties. In the meantime the several departments will be operated with a small force of men to complete existing contracts. The company employs about 100 men.

The ALLIS-CHALMERS COMPANY desires to dispose of its lease of the entire wing of the twentieth floor of the Broad-Exchange Building, 25 Broad Street, and announces that on or about July 1st it will remove to larger offices in the Empire Building, 71 Broadway, New York City.

ACCUSED OF KILLING MARCUM.

Curtis Jett and Thomas White Indicted for Assassination of Lawyer in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 25.—Curtis Jett and Thomas White have been indicted by the Special Grand Jury at Jackson for the murder of James B. Marcum.

Marcum was assassinated as a result of the Hargis-Cockrill feud. Jett is in jail at Winchester; White as not yet been arrested.

WOULD BAR SUNDAY TRAVEL.

Presbyterian General Assembly Also Expresses Regret That Sunday Work Will Go On at St. Louis.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 25.—The General Assembly resumed its sessions at 10 o'clock this morning at Immanuel Church, the first business to come before the Commissioners being the report of the Board of Missions for Freedmen.

Charles Payson Cheeseman, D. D., of Pittsburg, Chairman of the board, presented the report, which showed an encouraging condition.

The report of the board brought out a lively discussion on the question of how best to accomplish the work, a question that has caused much discussion in past Assemblies. Dr. Page introduced a resolution that was construed as attacking the "Peoria plan" and which aroused considerable opposition from the Commissioners supporting the present board. The majority of Commissioners, however, and all of the colored Commissioners favored the adoption of the report as read, and it was adopted.

Dr. Richard S. Holmes of Pittsburg read the report of the Special Committee on Presbyterian Building in New York, and the report was adopted.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke then offered a resolution, which was adopted by the Assembly, that the Moderator appoint a new committee of five on Presbyterian Building, to be composed of two ministers and three laymen, and that Dr. Holmes be made Chairman of that committee. A supplementary report was made by Dr. Van Dyke, as Chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures. The minor and unimportant recommendations made in this report were adopted without discussion.

Dr. James Yereance of New York City, from the Committee on Sabbath Observance, offered a resolution on the subject of Sunday travel by Commissioners and precipitated a lively debate from those Commissioners who had been obliged to travel on Sunday on their way to this Assembly because, as they declared, the railroads had failed to keep their contracts.

Commissioner Yereance also introduced a resolution expressing the Assembly's profound regret that the managers of the St. Louis Exposition had seen fit to permit Sunday work on the exposition buildings. Another resolution approved the organization of a California Sabbath Observance Association, which should have for its object the procuring of legislation in connection with proper Sunday observance. All of these resolutions were adopted.

The special committee on the Assembly Herald, the official organ of the Presbyterian Church, then submitted its report. The report showed a circulation of 36,772 copies, a slight decrease from the previous report. The committee urged the proposition to change the Assembly Herald from a monthly to a weekly publication. The report recommended the removal of the business office from New York to Philadelphia. The report was adopted.

The Rev. S. B. Nelson, D. D., of Rochester, N. Y., introduced a resolution that the Assembly appoint a committee of nine to act as a Board of Arbitration in disputes between labor and capital. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

According to the Commissioners from the Buffalo (N. Y.) Synod, that city has already practically won the fight for next year's General Presbyterian Assembly, and will be selected by the committee on place of meeting of the next General Assembly in 1904.

PRESIDENT GREETS WAR HERO.

Publicly Praises Capt. Steinman of First Washington Regiment for Record in Philippines.

WALLA WALLA, Washington, May 25.—The President's train, which left Seattle at 11:30 last night over the Northern Pacific Railway, glided down the beautiful Yakima Valley to-day. The first speech of the day was made at Clelum, in the Cascade Mountains, to a thousand coal miners who had come down from Roslyn.

At North Yakima the President spoke on irrigation to a large audience. He dwelt here on the importance of irrigating and of the approval of the acts of the last session of Congress. A feature of the crowd here was the presence of thousands of Indians from the Yakima Reservation.

At Ellensburg the President spoke fifteen minutes on good citizenship to 5,000 people. First of all, he said:

"Let me greet those whom I know others will not grudge my specially greeting—men of the Grand Army and the representatives of those who did even more than the men of the civil war, the women. For while the men went to battle, to the women fell the hardest task of seeing husband or lover, father or brother going to the war, she herself having to stay behind with the load of doubt, anxiety, and uncertainty, and often the difficulty of making both ends meet in the household while the breadwinner was away."

The President asked that Capt. Steinman of the First Washington Regiment be presented to him at the close of the speech. While speaking he referred to Steinman's company having been the severest sufferer among the volunteers in the Philippine campaign. When Capt. Steinman was introduced the President grasped his hand and said warmly:

"Captain, I know all about you and your company; your company was a crack-a-jack, and I'm mighty glad to meet you and to know you."

The Presidential party arrived in Pasco at 2:05 P. M. and were greeted by a crowd of about 750. The President made a general talk on irrigation, stating that through the assistance of the National Irrigation act all the so-called barren wastes, including that surrounding Pasco, would undoubtedly be irrigated; that National reservoirs would be constructed to conserve the supply of water now going to waste in the Columbia and Snake Rivers, and the barren waste would be changed to a veritable Garden of Eden.

To the President was given a box of assorted fruits grown about four miles from Pasco, as a testimonial of what Pasco land would do under irrigation. The President spoke for a little over ten minutes. The eastward journey was then resumed.

About 500 persons, including many school children, met the Presidential train at Wallula. The President made a brief address, directed largely to the school children, in which he encouraged them to keep on striving to secure an education. He spoke in complimentary terms of the resources of the country and its possibilities if irrigation could be secured.

Flowers were presented to him by the school children.

Mrs. Roosevelt to Visit Groton.

GROTON, Mass., May 25.—Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the President, will come to Groton to attend the annual prize day exercises at Groton School, in which her two sons are pupils, next Friday. Mrs. Roosevelt's proposed visit has been kept a secret, and the fact that she would visit Groton on this occasion was made known only to-night. It is expected that she will arrive Thursday evening or Friday morning, and remain only long enough to attend the exercises.

Private Detective's Bail Forfeited.

John M. Boland, a private detective, failed to respond when he was called to trial before Judge Cowing in the Court of General Sessions yesterday on a charge of perjury. He had been out on cash bail of $1,000, which was forfeited. The indictment was the result of testimony he gave in the divorce suit of William G. against Augusta Weaver before Justice Scott in the Supreme Court.

LEE, "TRUST BUSTER," ESCAPES.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—Apparently nothing can keep William J. Lee, the "trust buster," in custody. After numerous escapes and captures, after being sealed up "for good" in the State Hospital after dismissal of habeas corpus proceedings, he disappeared last night and left no trace behind.

He retired at 9 o'clock. This morning the door was still locked, the windows barred, the masonry undisturbed. Everything was as it should be, except that Lee was gone. Dr. Ward, in charge of the institution, is conducting an inquiry as to the whereabouts of the man and as to who let him out, but he has found no clue as yet.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 25.—Fire early to-day destroyed two frame dwellings on Spencer Street, with a loss of $12,000. They were owned by A. J. Howland.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The ice manufacturing plant of the American Ice Company at Eighth and Catharine Streets was destroyed by fire of unknown origin today. The building is valued at $50,000 and the machinery is said to be worth $150,000. E. H. Hare, General Superintendent of Engineering, says the machinery is practically worthless. During the progress of the fire there were numerous explosions of ammonia tanks, but no one was injured.

PUPILS STARTED ON HISTORY COMPETITION

Mr. Janvier's First Article Eagerly Read in the Schools.

Substituted in Some Institutions for the English Lessons—Commendation from Wheeler H. Peckham.

Interest of the teachers and pupils of the public schools in the New York City History Competition being conducted by THE NEW YORK TIMES—widespread as it had been last week—was augmented yesterday by the publication of the first article of Mr. Janvier's series upon which the competitive essays to be submitted by pupils are to be based. The publication of this article had been looked forward to by both teachers and pupils with pleasurable expectation, and the testimony of teachers interviewed yesterday was that this expectation was more than fulfilled.

"I read Mr. Janvier's article with the greatest of pleasure," said Dr. John Mickleborough, Principal of the Boys' High School of Brooklyn. "What appealed to me most from the standpoint of a teacher was that the article was written in language which was comprehensible to the minds of the students who are expected to study the series and base a composition of their own upon it.

"I have always found Mr. Janvier a delightful writer, but I was somewhat afraid that he might write over the heads of those who, in this instance, are to be his most intent readers. If his first article is to be taken as a criterion of those which are to follow, he has evidently kept in mind the class of persons for whom, principally, he is writing, and has not made the mistake of couching his articles in language beyond their perception. He is to be congratulated on this. I think the simplicity of the manner in which he tells the story of New York's beginnings will add no little to the interest which the students will take in the competition."

Dr. Mickleborough gave his teachers of English permission to substitute the Janvier articles, and the composition to be based on them for the regular course of English, and most of them have done so. The same plan has been followed in several other high schools.

The advantage to a school of having the Janvier articles substituted for the regular work in English is that twenty essays of merit are certain to be submitted from the competing class of such a school, and a prize award for that class assured, unless there should be more than 1,000 essays submitted "as the best of twenty in the class of a teacher of English," in which case, of course, the selection of the 1,000 would be upon the basis of comparative merit.

"Everybody had a copy of Mr. Janvier's first article here this morning" was the reply of the teachers put it in the De Witt Clinton Boys' High School, in One Hundred and Second Street, between Amsterdam and Amsterdam Avenues, when asked of the manner in which the competition was received.

Principal John T. Buchanan, when the competition was first announced, with the cordial indorsement of Superintendent Maxwell and Mayor Low, called the attention of the scholars to its terms. From that time interest has increased from day to day until it became evident in the school that when the first article appeared it would receive general attention.

This seems to have been the case. Mr. Buchanan yesterday morning mentioned the competition a second time, but it was hardly necessary, judging from the number of pupils who had come to school with copies of Mr. Janvier's article in hand.

The only thing that bids fair to conflict with the general participation of scholars in the competition is the near approach of the final English examinations. These will make, it is said, a good deal of work, but it is not thought that many who would take sufficient interest in the actual preparation of essays will be deterred by the additional effort necessary to do both.

Some communications have been received from students eligible to compete in the contest who are most desirous of doing so, complaining that their teachers have not taken the matter up. These instances are few, but the tone of the letters is such as to arouse sympathy. In view of the fact that Mayor Low, City Superintendent of Schools Maxwell, and President Ivins of the Board of Education have all appealed to the teachers to bring the competition to the attention of their pupils in some one way, Mayor Low's expressive phrase, "that the children of the city may have a realizing sense of the long history of New York, and be filled with the public-spirited desire to be worthy citizens of such a city," THE TIMES is confident that if the pupils who are anxious to compete inform their teachers of their desire, none of them will refuse to undertake the work of examining their essays and forwarding to THE TIMES the best two submitted from a class.

In most of the schools the teachers of English seem to have entered into the competition with a genuine enthusiasm. They want to see their boys and girls make a good showing in a contest sanctioned by both the highest city and school authorities, and they have been eager to obtain knowledge of all the details of the competition. They have offered every encouragement to their pupils to compete, and if a fair measure of success attends the efforts of their pupils it will be to them a matter of pride.

The competition is arousing interest, not alone in the schools, but among those who have a realizing sense of the civic good which will be accomplished by having the school children learned in the city's history.

Wheeler H. Peckham, President of the City Club, spoke yesterday in hearty commendation of the competition.

"The idea appeals very pleasantly to me," he said, "and I should think that, in addition to stimulating a healthy competition among the pupils in our schools, the undertaking, considered as a whole, would form rather a valuable part of the anniversary celebration.

"But for Mr. Janvier's articles, I should hardly think that school children would make a study of city history critical enough to award the lessons to be learned, for their mental attainment would hardly be adequate to the examination of the primary, or even secondary, sources of information. But under the present scheme the results of a careful study are presented to them, and it seems to me that they must necessarily take away much that will be useful."

ANTI-CANAL SENATORS TALK.

In an Open Letter They Attack the Thousand-Ton Barge Project.

The Republican State Senators who voted against the Thousand-Ton Barge Canal bill have issued an open letter explaining their reasons for the vote, "in view of the fact that the bill cannot become a law unless ratified by popular vote at the coming election."

Much of the clamor for the canal, say the Senators, comes from the same interests in large cities "that have by their exactions and overcharges for docks, elevators, and other terminal facilities enriched themselves at the public expense while directly contributing to the decline of canal commerce since 1880." The cities, and not the State at large, they claim, are to be benefited by the bill, for there is no proof that any condition of emergency in the development of the great commercial centres warrants a general tax to raise $101,000,000 in the State.

New York City and Buffalo, the Senators assert, will derive great benefits that are not shared with other and smaller towns. For the majority it would be better to establish a competing railroad from here to Buffalo than a canal, and it has been proved, they add, that such a plan would be less expensive. Incidentally it is remarked that probably the estimate of $101,000,000 is too low, and that unforeseen emergencies will raise the sum enormously. It is prophesied that through the enactment of the bill the laboring population will be injured by the importation of "tens of thousands of foreign laborers of the lowest type." Besides, they say, the canals are already drawing from lakes and streams much water that is needed for other purposes, such as manufacturing and municipal uses.

The State might as well abandon the effort to defray its expenses without a direct tax levy, continue the Senators, if the canal scheme is adopted, and, whether the present policy of taxes be abandoned openly or not, the canal improvement will postpone indefinitely the realization of the hoped-for good roads, publicly owned forest parks, perfected system of charities, and adequate educational system. The whole plan, they declare, is economically unsound from the standpoint of the whole State or any part thereof.

"Why should New York expend $200,000,000 in a doubtful experiment to bring the products of the farms and factories of the great Northwest to the seaboard for a dime less per ton than they are now transported?" is asked. "Will we be richer for paying the dime it now costs them? Such a public improvement should be undertaken, if at all, by the Federal Government at National and not at State expense."

INCREASE IN CANAL TONNAGE.

State Figures for Third Week of May Show a Gain of 17,604 Tons Over Last Year.

ALBANY, May 25.—The increase in canal tonnage over that of last year, which was noted at the beginning of the present season, continues according to a statement given out by Superintendent of Public Works Boyd.

The figures for the third week of May show 115,705 tons, an increase of 17,604 tons. There was an increase in through freight east of about 6,000 tons.

The total of the eastern shipments was 60,400 in comparison with 64,821 tons last year, a small decrease, while the western shipments were 55,805 as against 33,280 tons last year. The large increase in western shipments over last year is looked upon as a very favorable indication.

TINY LAD KILLED BY CAR.

Suffered for Many Minutes Under Wheels, and Was Dead When a Wrecking Wagon Arrived.

While playing with several other children at Second Avenue, near Seventy-seventh Street, yesterday morning, Frederick Berringer, four years old, of 232 East Seventy-seventh Street, started to run across the tracks without noticing that a north-bound express car was approaching at full speed. The car struck the boy and rolled him under the fender until he was wedged between it and the forward wheel.

He was badly cut, but was still alive when Dennis F. Gleason of 125 East One Hundred and Fourth Street, the motorman, brought the car to a standstill. Bystanders tried to raise the great mass with their hands, but their efforts were futile, and it was not until the arrival of the wrecking wagon, bystanders say fully twenty minutes after the accident, that the forward end of the car was raised and the tiny crushed body extricated and lifted into the waiting ambulance. The boy was dead.

Gleason was arrested, and in the Yorkville Court was remanded to the custody of the Coroner. He declared that the children directly in front of the car, and it was impossible for him to stop in time.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I witnessed this morning an accident, very shocking, although, unfortunately, not a rarity in this city. A child, about five years old, was run over by a car of the Metropolitan express on Second Avenue, between Seventy-seventh and Seventy-sixth Streets. What impressed me was that the child had to lay for some time before the wrecking truck came.

It seems to me that it would be the simplest thing in the world that each car should have at least the most necessary apparatus for just such emergencies, furthermore, that each conductor and motorman should be trained for just such accidents. I saw the child after it had been put in the ambulance, and it seemed to me that the life of the child might have been saved had it been sooner removed from under the car.

Another thing: Impelled by the feeling of a father, and forgetting everything else, I got into the ambulance ready to assist the surgeon in anything. Instead of being welcomed by the young man, I was treated in a rowdyish manner and was ordered off, which order was seconded by the policeman. The behavior of the ambulance surgeon toward me was very brutal. I must, however, confess that this is the first time that I met such a rowdy of an ambulance surgeon. As a rule, the ambulance surgeon, recognizing a physician, would welcome any aid offered.

BOY RUN OVER AND KILLED.

Driver of a Wagon Locked Up Charged with Homicide.

Edward Boyland, seven years old, of 157 East Eighty-seventh Street, playing in the street last night in front of his house, was knocked down and run over by a horse and wagon driven by Christopher Strube of 240 East Forty-sixth Street.

Dr. Erdman of the Presbyterian Hospital wished to take the boy to the hospital, but the father had him taken home, where he died later. Strube was looked up, charged with homicide, in the East Eighty-eighth Street Station.

PISTOL FACTORY SHUTS DOWN.

Smith & Wesson Close Indefinitely When Employes Form a Union.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 25.—The firm of Smith & Wesson, makers of revolvers, closed its factory this evening for an indefinite period. This step is taken presumably on account of labor troubles, the men having signified their intention of forming a union, despite the opposition of the firm.

The following notice was posted to-day:

"This factory will be closed to-night and remain closed until further notice for purposes of reorganization. Wages will be paid at the office on receipt of statements. Any of our employes who are desirous of resuming work upon the reopening of the factory will kindly communicate with the Superintendent.

SMITH & WESSON."

Last week a number of employes were called into the office and questioned regarding their connection with the movement to form a union, and as a result eleven were discharged. The firm threatened at that time to shut down the works, but the employes did not desist from their purpose.

Joseph H. Wesson said this afternoon that the factory would be started again as soon as a sufficient number of men to make it an object to start the engine have signified their intention of returning.

In this way it is expected the firm will be able to sift out the union men. The Central Labor Union of Springfield has indorsed the action of the men.

DECISION ON ARNOLD ESTATE.

Depreciation in Securities Bought at a Premium Will Be Charged Against the Widow's Life Income.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 25.—Supreme Court Justice Maddox to-day filed a decision in the contest over the will of Richard Arnold, late of the firm of Arnold & Constable of New York City. The contest was brought by Frederick Constable and Townsend Wandell, as executors of Mr. Arnold's will against Caroline H. Johnson and others.

Mrs. Johnson, a daughter of Mr. Arnold, and her five children received legacies from the deceased. Mrs. Johnson has a life interest in the estate and the grandchildren's interest amounts to $1,200,000. The Supreme Court was asked to pass upon the question whether a depreciation in the value of the securities bought at a premium for the benefit of the children's trust fund shall be borne by the life beneficiary or by the children.

The executors invested $459,000 in railroad securities and Government bonds, the premium amounting to $138,555. The premium has decreased and will continue to decrease as the bonds approach maturity. Justice Maddox's decision is:

"The loss through the wasting away of the premium paid on purchase of bonds selling above par should be borne by Mrs. Johnson, the beneficiary for life, and not by the children. The trustees should create a sinking fund by retaining out of the income every year such an amount as at the maturity of the bonds will make good to the capital the premium paid upon the original purchase to the end that the capital may be kept intact."

D. Le Roy Dresser's Barn Burned.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., May 25.—The barn on the country seat of D. Le Roy Dresser, on Centre Island, was destroyed by fire last night. Five valuable horses perished and several carriages. The electric plant on the estate also was destroyed, and the losses are estimated at $15,000.

CITY CELEBRATION BEGUN

Exercises Are Held in the Catholic Parochial Schools.

Officials and Children of the Public Schools Will Keep the City's 250th Anniversary To-day.

While the observance of the city's two hundred and fiftieth birthday has been in progress since Sunday—on that day in the churches and yesterday in the Roman Catholic parochial schools—the chief and official celebration will be held to-day. All arrangements have been completed for the observances, which will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber in the afternoon. There will be, also, exercises of a patriotic character in all of the public schools during the day.

The celebration in the Catholic schools yesterday was in accordance with a circular request sent out by Mgr. Mooney, Vicar General, and President of the Roman Catholic School Board of New York City, to the pastors of all the parishes. Mgr. Mooney asked that the pupils participate in such exercises of music, oratory, and religion as would serve to intensify their love for "what promises to become the largest, noblest, richest, and most Catholic city in the world."

Nearly 70,000 boys and girls, regular attendants at the parochial schools, all enjoyed, and nearly all took part in, the exercises. Their assembly rooms were decorated with flags and bunting, and with flowers and appropriate mottoes, maps, and pictures. Similar exercises were held in the academies and the asylums at the Catholic Protectory. At the latter institution the Protectory band furnished patriotic music.

Lectures on the city's history were delivered last night at the Educational Alliance, Jefferson Street and East Broadway, by Dr. Frank Bergen Kelley, at the Young Men's Christian Association, 8 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, by W. I. Scandlin, at Public School No. 5, at Edgecombe Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-first Street, by Mrs. Emma Moffatt Tyng, and at Public School No. 14, at 225 East Twenty-seventh Street, by William H. Kelly.

For two hours the large hall of Cooper Union was filled by an audience numbering about nine hundred persons, attending a general lecture delivered by Stephen Jenkins, under the auspices of the Board of Education. More than two hundred stereopticon views were used to illustrate the progress of the city.

Col. Alexander F. Ketchum, ex-member of the School Board, delivered an address during the morning at the Wadleigh High School, in connection with anniversary exercises.

The New York Universalist Club held a dinner at the Hotel Marlborough last night in celebration of the city's birthday. There were about 300 persons present. Half of them were women. Louis A. Ames, President of the club, was toastmaster. The programme of toasts included the following: "Early New York," Robert B. Roosevelt; "Old Landmarks," Edward Hagaman Hall; "Our City," Borough President Cantor; "Educational Resources of the Metropolis," Frederick P. Keppel, Secretary of Columbia University; "Municipal Government," William Hepburn Russell, Commissioner of Accounts; "The Church and the City," the Rev. Frank Oliver Hall, pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity.

Borough President Cantor was referred to as the "coming Mayor of New York City" by Toastmaster Hall when he introduced him, and the remark evoked long cheering.

Observing the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the city, the Reformed Church Union had a dinner at the St. Denis Hotel last evening. William L. Mason, Professor of History in the De Witt Clinton High School, afterward gave a historical sketch of New York illustrated with stereopticon views. There were about 200 persons present at the dinner.

In the public schools there will be exercises of a patriotic character this afternoon. Besides the singing of "America," "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the official city song, "Eight Bells Ahoy," there will be an address by the Principal, a teacher, or some citizen, on the history of the city. Some of the pupils will read compositions on dramatic episodes or important events in the city's history.

Inasmuch as this one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ralph Waldo Emerson fell yesterday and Decoration Day comes on May 30, at the suggestion of Superintendent Maxwell, the exercises will include also the recitation of "The Concord Hymn" and an appropriate tribute to New York soldiers who have fallen in battle.

In connection with the exercises to be held in the girls' grammar department of Public School No. 87 at 1 o'clock this afternoon a framed copy of the Declaration of Independence will be presented to the school by the Knickerbocker Chapter, New York City, of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The official exercises at the City Hall will begin at 3 o'clock, with an invocation by the Rev. Dr. Cornelius L. Wells. Mayor Low then will deliver an address of welcome. The oration of the day will be delivered by Gen. James Grant Wilson. Other addresses will be made by Elihu Root, Secretary of War; Gov. Odell, Justice John Clinton Gray, Bishop Potter, and the Rev. H. Pereira Mendes. The music will include the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and America," and the benediction will be spoken by Archbishop Farley.

During the afternoon there will be a programme of music rendered by Fanciulli's Seventy-first Regiment Band, in City Hall Park. The programme follows:

PART I.

Grand chorus ..... "Hallelujah" ..... Handel
Grand chorus.
Chorus ..... "The Heavens Are Telling" .. Haydn
Symphonic poem. "Les Preludes" ..... Liszt
Fantasie... "Allegoric of New York," ..... Fanciulli under various governments.
Characteristic... "Floral Dance" ..... Langey
American sketch. "Down South" ..... Middleton

PART II.

Grand march ..... "Centennial" ..... Fanciulli
Grand port pourri of favorite and celebrated works of old and modern masters. ..... All authors
Two patriotic hymns ..... A. C. Butts
Grand American fantasie finale.. Herbert
"Auld Lang Syne," "Home Sweet Home"

Beyond the decorations of the City Hall and along lower Broadway there was little yesterday to indicate an observance of the occasion. Here and there in the uptown streets was to be seen a flag or a piece of bunting, but nowhere in the upper part of the city were there any elaborate decorations.

Those at the City Hall were added to yesterday by the erection of what is intended to be a Grecian triumphal arch—a series of white poles which extend along the edge of the plaza in front of the Hall. On these were hung flags and shields and vari-colored pennants, and between them were stretched ropes of Christmas greens. The Aldermanic Chamber, where to-day's exercises are to be held, is profusely bedecked with flags and bunting and emblems.

The two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the city is also the one hundredth anniversary of the City Hall. Yesterday stone cutters put into place in the south corridor of the Hall the stone tablet bearing the name of the architect, John McComb, and of the Mayor and Aldermanic committee that looked after the building of the Hall. These tablets were on top of the coping above the roof. The stone cutters had to clip off some two inches of the original thickness of the tablet, and the chips were carried away as souvenirs. Among the Mayor's callers yesterday were Mrs. Frances Gayle Spowers and Mrs. Collingwood of Montclair, N. J., great-granddaughters of John McComb, the architect. They offered the Mayor the use for the celebration to-day of a large oil pointing of McComb.

English Congratulations for New York.

LONDON, May 25.—At a meeting to-night of the Municipal County Club of Great Britain it was resolved to cable congratulations to Mayor Low on the occasion of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of New York City.

CARLEY FREED FROM DEBTS.

His Discharge from Bankruptcy Due to Decision in Kentucky National Bank's Suit.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—Judge Kirkpatrick, in the United States District Court, made an order to-day discharging in bankruptcy Francis D. Carley of New York. Carley made an application about three years ago to be adjudged a bankrupt, stating his liabilities at the time to be slightly in excess of $1,000,000.

Carley's discharge from bankruptcy has been fought by the Kentucky National Bank and others. The bank recently sought to amend its specifications, and charged that Carley in some of his stock transactions had been acting for William K. Vanderbilt, and in this way sought to have brought in assets certain stocks which stood in Mr. Vanderbilt's name. Mr. Vanderbilt denied that Carley had acted for him, and Judge Kirkpatrick refused to permit the amending of the specifications.

The case was carried to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which sustained Judge Kirkpatrick. To-day's order is the result of that decision.

LEFT CHURCH, WENT TO CELL.

Colored Girl Tried to Obey Orders to be Home Early, but Slept in Prison.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., May 25.—Miss Anna Bond is not lacking in religious fervor. Though the sermon in church had lasted for two hours on Sunday night, she had been raised to heights sublime and would gladly have stayed until the preacher had driven home the lesson which he wished to impress upon his sinful congregation. But Miss Bond had received strict injunction to be home by 10:30 o'clock, and, duty calling, she arose from a front pew and started out just as the preacher was coming to the most fervid part of his oratory. She intended to go home. Instead she spent the night in a cell at a police station.

Miss Bond was arraigned in the Second Precinct Police Court this morning. There were evidences that she had wept freely and her dark face was darker from the shadow that woe had thrown upon it. Special Officer Carter, also colored, took her to the bar and with becoming dignity told the court that she had been guilty of the indecorum, not to say misdemeanor, of disturbing the services of the colored Baptist Church at Orange and Fourteenth Streets by leaving before the sermon was over.

"I couldn't help it," said Miss Bond, as tears welled into her eyes when the Magistrate asked her kindly for her defense. "You see, I went to the church at 7:30. I intended to stay clear through. I enjoyed the sermon when it began at 8 o'clock. Then he preached till 10 o'clock steady, and he didn't seem to get ready to stop, and I knew I had to be home, so I couldn't do anything else but get up and go out."

That changed the aspect of things. Carter was asked sternly to explain. He admitted with reluctance that the sermons were sometimes pretty long—that the preacher often talked for two hours, and sometimes let his enthusiasm carry him further. But he did not see that this gave any excuse for disturbance. The Justice thought differently, however, and Miss Bond was permitted to return to her home, at 20 Winant Street, East Orange, and explain why she had not obeyed the injunction to be there at 10:30 last night.

TRAFFIC IN CITIZENS' PAPERS.

Immigration Officials Detect Sale of Thousands of Fraudulent Certificates to Aliens.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Immigration officials said to-day that they had investigated reports that thousands of fraudulent naturalization papers had been sold to arriving immigrants at New York, and had ascertained that the purpose was not to facilitate the admission of immigrants into the United States, but to permit male immigrants to secure work on the subway and other improvements in New York, as under the State laws only citizens can work on improvements of that kind.

Chief Wilkie of the Treasury Secret Service has received information that in New York City a large number, probably as high as 5,000 aliens, were given these certificates and charged exorbitant prices for them. In some cases as much as $50 was paid for a fraudulent certificate.

The Secret Service agents in other cities during the last year and a half have discovered numerous fraudulent naturalization papers. They are tearing up the papers wherever found. The cities in which they have been discovered include Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del., Providence, Pittsburg, St. Louis, and Buffalo.

In these cities the fraudulent papers, though granted in the regular manner by the courts, were obtained through misrepresentations and perjured testimony, and it is stated were used for political purposes.

CHARLES L. CURTIS ARRESTED.

Charles L. Curtis, former cashier for the plumbers' supplies firm of George Huber & Co., of 467 East One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, who disappeared on March 28, after having drawn $900 from the Germania Savings Bank to pay the employes of the firm, was arrested last night just as he was enjoying a reunion with his wife and two children at their home, 636 East One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street, by Detectives Frasse and O'Rourke, who said afterward that Curtis remembered drawing the money from the bank, but told them his mind was a blank from that time until a week ago, when he found himself in Savannah, Ga.

Asphalt Petition Refused.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—Judge Kirkpatrick in the United States Circuit Court to-day refused the petition of Harry C. Spinks to have set aside as fraudulently issued certain gold collateral certificates of the Asphalt Company of America, aggregating $3,700,000. Spinks charged that the certificates had been issued to A. L. Barber, Francis V. Greene, and George W. Elkins. Judge Kirkpatrick to-day said the decree confirming the sale of the assets of the company had been made, and that the petition if it had any merits had been filed too late.

To Stop Encroachments on Sidewalks.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Cosby announced yesterday that he would make an effort to stop encroachments upon the sidewalks by builders of new structures in Manhattan. He took the first step in this direction when he obtained an order from Justice Dugro returnable in the Supreme Court on Wednesday directing the Knickerbocker Trust Company to show cause why an injunction should not issue enjoining it from completing the building at Thirty-fourth Street and Fifth Avenue pending an application directing it to tear down the broad steps thereof.

Killed by Bursting Factory Wheel.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., May 25.—Anton Sachsman, seventeen years old, of 488 Fifteenth Avenue, was killed by the bursting of an emory wheel in the structural iron factory of C. C. Lienan & Sons, in Fairmount Avenue, late this afternoon. He was polishing some iron work when the wheel went to pieces and knocked his head almost off.

A Vanderbilt Teacher Dead.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 25.—Stewart Pelham, who was nearly eighty years of age, and once conducted the leading boarding school for boys in Poughkeepsie, having numbered the late Cornelius Vanderbilt among his pupils, was attacked with heart disease while reading the market quotations in a broker's office here to-day. He died in a friend's arms.

Trial of Mrs. Taylor for Murder.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 25.—The trial of Mrs. Kate Taylor for the murder of her husband, Lafayette Taylor, at East Lake, Sullivan County, on Jan. 26, was begun to-day. Mrs. Taylor is alleged to have shot her husband, chopped up the body, and burned it in a stove.

ADVANCE SALE OF JUNE UNDERMUSLINS.

First Floor.

In a few days the town will be flooded with sales of Undermuslins. Adjectives will be employed in a most reckless manner in order to emphasize the merits of each and every one. As words are no man's private property, they may be applied or misapplied according to the spirit and humor of the writer.

NO ARGUMENT, HOWEVER, IS EMPLOYED BY THE SIMPSON CRAWFORD COMPANY UNLESS IT BE SUBSTANTIATED WITH FACTS.

Relative to our present showing of Undermuslins, we employ the phrases, "Greater and better stocks" and "More decisive economies." The keenest memory and the sternest critic cannot bring to light any practical illustration or evidence that can refute these phrases.

Those interested in fine qualities, beautiful styles, broad assortments and real economy should not fail to share in the Simpson Crawford Co. present Undermuslin offerings.

Men's Suits to Order

The weather has very kindly given unprepared men a few days more to prepare clothes for the hot weather. We have had a sample of what summer weather is likely to be, and it told a man just how thin he wants his clothes. If we get your order promptly, your suit will probably be ready for the time the hot weather gets back.

We have a handsome collection of cheviots and neat worsteds that can be made up as cool as you like. They are almost featherweight in themselves. They can be quarter or half-lined to allow the air to go right through the mesh of the cloth. They are the best possible suits for hot weather wear. $25 and $30.

If you prefer the more substantial serges, we have the best weaves of these durable fabrics, in blue and black. They are always cool and always look well. They can also be half or quarter-lined with single back in the vest; coats double or single-breasted.

$25 and $30, to order.

This Remarkable Display of Muslin Underwear

We're proud of the splendid array of White Garments for women which fills the store today—proud of its beauty and excellence, proud of its refined character, proud of its little prices.

The accomplishment is great, first of all, because we have not been compelled to go to any subterfuge, or make any artistic or quality sacrifice to procure the Underwear at the low prices.

The best and most sanitary factories in the country have done the work of production—four of the factories represent the Consumers' League label.

There is no gaudiness, no superficial pretentiousness about the pieces. Nothing is done to give an artificial idea of large value. Refinement of style and solid worth in quality are the attributes of all the WANAMAKER garments, from the lowest-priced piece to the most elaborate garment in the Sale.

This is why the enthusiasm was so great yesterday; this is why that enthusiasm will continue throughout the Sale.

Yesterday we took space for detailed descriptions. Today we confine ourselves to a mere hint of the prices:

More Table Linens

In this Summer Sale of White

In our list of offerings of Housekeeping Linens for this June White Sale we have set a pace that is by no means easy to maintain. But we did it knowingly, and are prepared early for the great occasion.

Today we present a new relay of items, that correspond in every way with the superb offerings told of yesterday—opportunities to buy household supplies that mean the most important savings to those having houses to equip—whether private residence, boarding houses or hotels.

Take, for example, the 60c table linen by the yard, and the 25c bleached huckaback towels, among today's news—values that are simply unapproachable.

And then the rest of the splendid story:

Girls' Wash Dresses At $1.35 Worth $2 to $4

This is a most attractive collection of washable dresses for girls, and the price is remarkably little to be offered just before Decoration Day. The dresses are made of chambray, gingham and cheviot in sailor, guimpe, Russian and high neck styles. The dresses are in various desirable shades, including a few in white. They are well made, attractive in style and include a full range of sizes from 6 to 12 years. They sell regularly at $2 to $4, today

$1.35 Each

Second floor, Ninth street.

New Embroideries

White dresses, shirt-waists, children's frocks, summer underwear—all demand quantities of embroideries for their effective trimming. Women who are planning home sewing of this nature will revel in this array of charming embroideries, in the prettiest patterns of the season. A word of the newest arrivals—thousands of yards of them:

Embroidered Bandings, straight and irregular at 25c to $2 a yard.

Flouncings, 18 in., 22 in., 27 in., 45 in. wide—full skirt widths, at 50c to $8.50 a yard.

Allovers, in embroidery and lace effects, $1.25 to $11.50 a yard.

Allover plaitings, for entire shirt-waist yokes or guimpes, 30 varieties, 50c to $2.75 a yard.

Ribbon Beadings, Medallions, Motifs, 4c each to $1.25 a yard.

Edgings and Insertions, in tiny "baby patterns," two or three widths, 25c to 75c a yard.

Then a group of specially priced offerings, due to fortunate purchases:

Girls' Tailored Suits

A Price-Reduction

The crisp, cool day, like yesterday, is the ideal weather for wearing such tailored suits and costumes as these offered today at a new price.

Thirty in all, of voile and broadcloth, superbly made and tailored; in a variety of stylish shades, and white. Silk-lined throughout. Sizes 14 to 18 years; now reduced to

$45 Each, from $57 to $80

Second floor, Ninth street.

May Sale of Parasols

Several fortunate happenings have contributed to this remarkable offering of parasols, which is probably the best you ever knew to come before Decoration Day.

One group composes a manufacturer's complete line of samples, presenting a variety that is as broad as the ideas of the season. Another group is composed of specially made parasols that we have secured at half their real value. There are large quantities in all these groups. The parasols are in perfect condition, notwithstanding their almost ridiculously low prices. These three groups:

$2.50 Parasols at $1.25

Fancy parasols with all-silk fancy striped covers with fancy borders. Some of figured pongee with red and blue ring dots. Also some in plain black, navy blue, garnet and green. Manufacturer's samples of parasols in two groups.

$3 to $4 Parasols at $1.90

Fancy parasols in an exceptional variety of styles with covers of taffeta silk, plaited and hemstitched, Dresden stripes, polka-dots and various striped borders.

$5 and $6 Parasols at $2.50

These are the higher qualities of the same collection of samples, splendidly made and in most artistic styles.

Summer Dresses Under-Price

We have this morning a collection of about one hundred handsome Summer dresses of organdy, Swiss muslin and other thin fabrics, which are marked at savings of from $10 to $30 on their earlier prices. These dresses are handsome and correct in style, but they are picked from those brought in earlier in the season, and are pushed aside by the dresses that come later. Some of them show a little mussing from the handling they have received. They are divided into two groups as follows:

$35 to $40 Dresses at $25 — Handsome Dresses of organdy and dotted Swiss muslin, partly trimmed with lace.

$40 to $60 Dresses at $30 — Summer Costumes of organdy and point d'esprit with trimmings of lace and ribbon.

The newer goods which are now being shown present the most elaborate collection of ready-made Summer Dresses to be found in this city. There are costumes of organdy, point d'esprit and China silk, at $15 to $125.

Shirt-waist Dresses of lawn, linen and canvas, $5.50 to $34. There are light-weight Tailor-made Suits and Separate Skirts of every description, from the lowest prices to the handsomest you could desire.

Second floor, Broadway.

Five Extraordinary Offerings of Wash Dress Goods

Here are five groups of cotton and linen-and-cotton dress goods that present what are probably the most remarkable values ever announced anywhere in the month of May.

The goods are all of a staple and desirable character, and right in the height of popular demand. The prices are the lowest ever quoted on equal goods:

35c Corded Striped Madras at 12½c

Fine American madras in sixty choice patterns, in narrow stripes of color and black, woven in grounds largely of corded white, though there is a scattering of blue, gray and tan grounds in the collection. 25,000 yards at 12½c a yard.

50c Silk Striped Dimities at 12½c

Dainty Silk Striped Dimities, in handsomely printed patterns of foulard designs in white, and black-and-white printing on light pink, light blue, reseda, and light heliotrope grounds; printed on a cloth of cluster silk stripes and embroidered silk polka dots. One of the most attractive of the finer cotton dress stuffs. Some forty-five attractive patterns to choose from. Regular 50c quality, now 12½c a yard.

25c Printed Irish Dimities at 12½c

All dimity lovers show a preference for those of Irish make and printing. This is principally on account of their finish, which other makers have never quite equaled. Here is a lot secured from an importer's season's surplus, and added to the lot are some of our own goods in attractive figures and stripes, and plenty of small floral printings on white grounds. 12½c, from 25c.

35c Striped Linen Batiste at 15c

Probably about enough of these attractive Mercerized Striped Linen Batistes are left of the 150,000 yards we started the sale with to last out another day's selling. The goods are in the natural linen or pongee grounds, woven with attractive mercerised figured stripes of white of the lustre of silk. Always 35c until this offering came. Now 15c a yard.

25c Embroidered Swiss Muslins, 18c

Had they been made in Switzerland instead of America, we would have had to ask you originally 60c a yard for the goods. We found a lot the owner wanted to turn into cash promptly, and we took them because the patterns were so good—pretty black and colored figured stripes on white grounds. Some forty patterns to choose from, at 18c a yard.

Rotunda.

Fine Silks at a Tempting Price—58c

There's nothing inherently tempting about silks at 58c, unless you happen to know that they are rightfully valued at 75c, 85c and $1 a yard—as these are.

And, better yet, they are fine, new Silks for Summer, in black, white and dainty colorings. The timeliness plus the money-saving in this quartette of silks constitutes their claim to being temptingly priced at 58c. Don't you agree?

75c White Taffetas at 58c Yard

Bright, lustrous White Taffetas, in two fine qualities—one foreign, the other of domestic manufacture; a very unusual offering.

85c Black Crepe de Chine at 58c Yard

Fine Black Crepe de Chine, 23 in. wide; a seasonable offering at a very low price.

$1 Black Foulards at 58c Yard

24-in. plain Black Foulard, of excellent quality; a very serviceable silk for summer waists and dresses.

$1 Striped Louisines at 58c Yard

Excellent quality 24-in. Striped Louisine, in a great variety of splendid colors, plain and changeable. All have neat hair-line stripes in white or self-colors. Particularly good styles for waists and shirt-waist suits.

Rotunda.

Waist Patterns and Waist Lengths

Both considerably under-price.

The Waist Patterns come from Switzerland, and formed an importer's surplus stock. They are embroidered on plain lawn, mostly in neat patterns of roses, daisies, running vines and medallion effects. Each pattern has 1⅓ yards extra of plain lawn; 48 inches wide. Prices,

$1 for $1.50 to $2.50 Qualities
$1.50 for $2.50 to $4 Qualities

The Waist Lengths are remnants of some of our prettiest mercerised white wash goods, most of them worth 25c to 50c a yard. Pieces of 2¼ to 4 yards—enough for a shirt-waist, are priced to-day at 25c to 75c the remnant.

SIR MICHAEL HERBERT APPEALS TO THE IRISH

British Ambassador Hopes Those Here Will Bury the Hatchet.

Secretary Root at Pilgrims' Dinner Declares War Between the United States and Great Britain Would Show Incapacity Worse Than Crime.

International good fellowship was the keynote of the dinner given last evening at Delmonico's by the Pilgrims of the United States to Sir Michael Herbert, British Ambassador to the United States. One hundred and twenty-five Pilgrims, and their guests sat down to dine in the big banquet hall, which was artistically draped with American and British flags. Bishop Henry C. Potter, President of the society, presided at the dinner, with Sir Michael at his right and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw at his left. At the right of the British Ambassador sat Secretary of War Root.

In the centre of the room was a fountain, lighted by multi-colored incandescent bulbs. The tables were arranged so as to form three sides of a square, with four smaller round tables inside the square. The orchestra was in the main gallery, and during the speechmaking several ladies took seats in the small galleries. With the exception of the flags interdraped, and of the bank of palms opposite the toastmaster, there were no decorations. The souvenir menu cards bore the crest and emblem of the Pilgrims in a nest of the flags of the two nations. There were no set toasts, and all the speakers addressed the diners in an impromptu fashion. Among the guests was Th. Lewald, Imperial German Commissioner General to the St. Louis Exposition.

It was after 10 o'clock when Bishop Potter rapped for order and then publicly rebuked himself for having been absent at the last dinner of the society, then accepting the rebuke in a spirit of humility. He made a brief and humorous address of welcome to the guests, calling attention to the by-laws of the organization which permits citizens of the United States and its dependencies to come in.

"I wish especially to call the attention of our Secretary of War to the plural of 'dependencies,'" remarked the Bishop.

Following this the Secretary, H. D. Woodward, read letters of regret from Secretary of State Hay, from the Governor General of Canada, and from St. Clair McKelway. Secretary Hay paid especial tribute to Sir Michael as his friend of many years, and congratulated both Great Britain and the United States on having at Washington a man who stood so solidly for peace and for perfect frankness and honesty in the Diplomatic Service.

The Governor General of Canada regretted that prior engagements to attend the Toronto races made it impossible for him to attend the dinner in honor of the Ambassador from his country to this.

There also was a communication from the Society of American Authors which was holding a dinner simultaneously at the Waldorf-Astoria. A reply was ready by Secretary Woodward, and dispatched to the other diners. A cablegram from the Pilgrims of London, extending hearty brotherhood greetings to the New York Pilgrims and to the Ambassador, also was read. Bishop Potter proposed the toast standing to the President, which was drunk while the orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner." The succeeding toast, to King Edward VII., was drunk to the air of "God Save the King."

"I have had many surprises to-night," said Bishop Potter, in introducing Sir Michael Herbert, "but the greatest was when I learned from Sir Michael's lips that he is not an Irishman. However, in spite of that drawback, he has, with the able aid of an American wife, successfully encountered the difficulties of diplomacy. His has been a difficult post, one in which he would be criticised if he parted his hair in the middle, and equally criticised if he didn't. For a long time it was the pleasant custom of persons of this country to indulge in what was termed 'twisting the lion's tail.' Of course, we have gotten over much of that now, but whatever of it we have left toward Britain as a nation, we have our fondness for individual Englishmen, and Sir Michael is one of them."

SIR MICHAEL SPEAKS.

Sir Michael was enthusiastically greeted when he arose to speak. He said:

"Fellow-Pilgrims and Gentlemen: This occasion reminds me of a similar occasion not long ago when Ambassador Choate of your country addressed the Pilgrims of London at their dinner. In the comparison, however, I am much at a disadvantage with Ambassador Choate, for he long practiced eloquence, while I have been educated in a school of silence, in the diplomatic service. Mr. Choate had another advantage, for in England one may talk as much as one likes about the union of the race, while in this country such talk finds occasional objection on the part of your Latin, German, Slav, and Hibernian populations. Technically, these people are right, but I think, in reality, they are wrong, for our language and our literature draws up together in a manner that is not to be mistaken or underestimated.

"Last October, when first I came here as your Ambassador, I first was struck with the extreme change in public opinion here since my former visit eighteen years before. On the former visit the practice of 'twisting the lion's tail' was generally practiced as a sort of a national game by the politicians and the newspapers, but now I notice that baseball and football have succeeded as the game.

"Sometimes the old practice is brought into light by our Hibernian friends, but eventually I hope that the present good feeling in Ireland may extend to the Irish in this country, so they, too, will bury the hatchet.

"In England, too, the old patronizing feeling and air has given way to a sympathy and fellowship which is the feeling especially of the King and of his Ministers. When I was appointed to this post I was warned by some Englishmen as to the feeling I would encounter here, but I accepted the post knowing it would be a labor of love in this, my second home. What task could be more noble and inspiring than to aid in bringing two nations together? Many reasons may be assigned for the present happy state of affairs, not the least of which is the presence of Mr. Choate in London and the years of service at Washington of Lord Pauncefote. Credit in no small measure is due to the service of many years of your representatives at the Court of St. James prior to the service of Mr. Choate, and to organizations like the Pilgrims.

"Now I think I have done enough of what your Mr. Dooley characterizes as 'plastering and cementing,' so I will thank you for your greeting to-night and assure you that my feeling but duplicates the feeling I know to be held by the King and the people whom I represent."

SECRETARY ROOT'S ADDRESS.

Secretary Shaw declined to speak, as Bishop Potter laughingly announced, and so Secretary Root was introduced as the next speaker, the orchestra starting off with "Johnnie Get Your Gun" as the Secretary of War arose.

"This is a painful practice of making one pay for a dinner with a speech," said Mr. Root, "but its pain is offset by the pleasure of being able to say some words of welcome to your guest of the evening, the British Ambassador. He took away from us a beautiful American girl, and it was our duty to compel him to bring her back, even if he did have to be appointed Ambassador to do so. The statement made by Bishop Potter as to the feeling indulged in in this country toward individual Englishmen is the basis of your society, and is aided by your policy of bringing people together. The best way to adjust differences between men is to bring them face to face, so that the influence of personality may be felt.

"It is the same in public affairs, and the bringing of representatives of nations together, where they cannot fire letters and indorsements at one another, is a long step toward universal peace. Take, for instance, the feeling of friendship shown between the members of the Senate and House in Congress. There the personal contact makes friends of political and policy antagonists. Before personal contact prejudice disappears. This bringing together of representatives on social occasions is one of the slow processes that make for better civilization. It is a mistake to imagine that such dinners as these are only formal and necessarily inconsequential. Every one of them that brings us together is a brick in the structure of peace and good-fellowship and an aid to civilization.

"It is a time when it is of the greatest importance for the people of one country to know the people of every other country, for it is a time when the passions and the sentiments of peoples form policies and sway a nation for war or peace, not, as in former days, a time when rulers might get together and determine upon a general policy of peace or war. Every influence that brings men closer together in their personalities makes war more and more impossible.

"The tie that binds us to England is one that cannot be broken. Besides blood and language and customs and literature it must be remembered that England is our best customer and our best friend. It is English law and English custom that make America the home it is for us to-day. War, except as a last resort, is a crime, but between Great Britain and the United States, with all our facilities and reasons for avoiding misunderstandings, war would show an incapacity worse than crime.

"For this state of happy feelings between the countries we are more than indebted to Sir Michael's predecessor, Lord Pauncefote. He came to us at a time when our people did not so readily understand Englishmen as they do to-day, but he was a great man, whom none could misunderstand, whom none could mistrust. Sir Michael is his worthy successor; deception is unknown to him, and our future welfare as two countries united in one brotherhood is greatly enhanced by his presence as his country's representative."

THE OTHER SPEAKERS.

Wayne MacVeagh was the next speaker, declaring that he said ditto to everything that had been said concerning Sir Michael. He made a plea for international peace, and declared he saw nothing but a world peace for twenty-five years to come at least, crediting the feeling between Great Britain and the United States for much of this condition.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, who followed, said that the English-speaking people had more of their share of the good things of this world, and that they must give of their abundance to others less fortunate. "The motto of your society," he said, "should be, 'Blood is thicker than water.' England and the United States need no treaty.

"The feeling of fellowship is in the air, and binds more closely than any artificial tie. Moreover, there seems to be a fatality that impels persons to tear themselves apart as soon as they are tied together. We need no treaty written in ink, for blood not only is thicker than water, but it is far more indelible than ink."

Gen. J. H. Wilson of the United States Army declared that the only trouble in the union of the Anglo-Saxon peoples was as to who should declare for the policy of the race. "We cannot accept the absolute dictation of that policy from England," he declared, "but if it be determined by the majority rule, then we shall be for such a policy for all time. The majority now is clearly on this side of the Atlantic."

Gen. Joseph Wheeler was the last speaker of the evening, and received cheers and applause when he arose. He declared his pleasure at being present at a dinner that so emphasized the feeling of brotherly love and international amity.

MERGER NEGOTIATIONS OFF.

Official announcement was made yesterday that the much-talked-about consolidation of the National Bank of Commerce with the Western National Bank of the United States in the City of New York would not take place. The announcement was authorized by Joseph C. Hendrix, President of the National Bank of Commerce, who said that the merger negotiations, which had been pending, had been terminated and that there would be no consolidation.

Wall Street generally was much surprised by this announcement, as it had looked on the negotiations for a consolidation as practically concluded with a consolidation assured. No reasons for the termination of the negotiations were given.

TRIOLA MEETS DEATH CALMLY.

OSSINING, N. Y., May 25.—Five separate applications of the electric current were applied this morning before Antonio Triola was pronounced dead in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison. Because he was of thin and wiry build, said State Electrician Davis, he did not have enough tissue to carry the current immediately to a vital spot. His hair, thick and greasy, acted as a partial insulation.

Triola, who was twenty-one years old, shot and killed Mamie Sereli, a young Italian actress who played in east side theatres.

APPROVE BRIDGE PLAZA PLAN.

The Local Boards of Public Improvement of the Bedford and Williamsburg Districts, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, adopted the plan for the proposed extension of the Brooklyn plaza of the Williamsburg Bridge from its northeast corner to the junction of Grand and Hooper Streets. Those who voted for the extension were President of the Borough J. Edward Swanstrom and Aldermen Stewart, Dickinson, Brenner, and Holler. Alderman Keely voted against the plan.

This adoption of the plan will, it is thought, end the fight which has been waged, mainly by property owners in lower Grand Street, against the proposed improvement.

JAMES SORAHAN ARRESTED.

Having returned recently from Europe, James Sorahan was locked up in Police Headquarters yesterday, charged with the murder of his brother Henry last September at their home in West Nineteenth Street. At the same time he shot his sister Bridget, but she recovered, and will appear against him to-day when he is arraigned in court. He was arrested in the Yorkville Police Court after having been discharged by the Magistrate when brought in as a "suspicious person." According to Inspector McClusky he confessed the murder last night and admitted having a long prison record. When first arrested, say the police, he exclaimed:

"Now the whole thing is off my mind and I can sleep to-night."

Pamphlet on Charities Department.

In pursuance of its plan to give the public information as to exactly what is going on in the city's Governmental departments, the City Club has issued a pamphlet dealing exhaustively with the Department of Public Charities during the present administration and the preceding one. To ex-Commissioner Keller, who was head of the department under Mayor Van Wyck, some praise and some blame are given. The investigators conclude that the administration of Commissioner Homer Folks is an improvement over Mr. Keller's. Ten cents forwarded by mail to the City Club, 19 West Thirty-fourth Street, will secure a copy of the pamphlet which is also for sale at newsstands.

EMERSON EXTOLLED AT AUTHORS' DINNER

One Hundredth Anniversary of His Birth Observed.

Henry Watterson Incidentally Praises Andrew Carnegie—Chancellor MacCracken on Americanism—Poem by Edwin Markham.

Emerson, the poet-preacher, the teacher of ideals, the philosopher, the friend, was extolled at the dinner of the Society of American Authors in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf last night. The dinner was in commemoration of the centenary of Emerson's birth, and members of the society and their guests to the number of 200 gathered to pay tribute.

The speakers were Col. Henry Watterson, Chancellor McCracken of New York University, President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell, Dr. William C. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, and S. J. Barrows. Edwin Markham read a poem written for the occasion.

Ex-Surrogate Rastus S. Ransom, President of the society, presided. After reading a letter from Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who was a friend of Emerson, and a cable message from Edwin Arnold, he presented Prof. Moncure Conway, another friend of Emerson, who came to tell something of the author's personality.

"He was a man of peculiar charm in his playfulness, simplicity, and childlikeness," said Prof. Conway. "He drew our attention away from the sorrows of life by making us forget them in the joys of existence. He destroyed care and weaned us from our aches and pain. Ah, he was a great heart, a great heart."

Charles H. Haswell, the engineer and writer, who had come in his ninety-fifth year to join in the tribute, was introduced and spoke a few words.

Col. Watterson delivered an address on "The Ideal in Public Life." He said, in part:

"We have happily left behind us the gibbet and the stake. No further need of the Voltaires, the Rousseaus, and the Diderots to declaim against kingcraft and priestcraft. We have done something more than mark time. We report progress.

"The pulpit begins to turn from the sinister visage of theology and to teach the simple lessons of Christ and Him crucified. The press, which used to be omniscient, is now only indiscriminate; a clear gain; emitting by force of publicity, if not of shine, a kind of light, through whose diverse rays and foggy lustre we may now and then get a glimpse of truth.

"Brook Farm was a failure because it was long ages before its time; yet it set a candle upon the altars of humanity and left a not unmeaning tradition behind it. That lovely idyl lives to-day in the hearts of the men who are returning to the world some of the millions their genius for accumulation drew from it in such sums and for such purposes as will presently establish it as a fact, and not an empty saying, that there is more pleasure in giving than in receiving.

"One at least of these men has rendered us a modern and truer reading of the spirit of the Sermon on the Mount in the declaration that he would be ashamed to take his millions with him into the throne-room of grace; and let us believe that in laying down this principle and acting upon it, Carnegie is but the first of a line of Kings whose dynasty is safer than that of Hapsburg or of Hohenzollern, whose right divine is registered where alone divine rights belong; of a line of Kings who shall ordain a new polity, establish a new Gospel, from whose bell towers it shall be proclaimed that there is actually a God above riches and might, who will demand, and in this world too, a strict accounting.

"Let cynics deride them, let casuists find other than noble motives for their benefactions, I, at least, will look no gift horse in the mouth; the rather see in them the dawn of a day when money shall be so cheap and plenty—even as it used to be in the Confederacy—that it shall be said of him who hath it, the more he hath, the poorer he is!

"The ideal in public life is first of all and over all a Public Opinion, compelling the same moral obligation in public as in private affairs; of a Public Opinion able to distinguish between the spurious and the real; in short, of a trained intelligence sufficiently diffused among the people to protect them at least against the grosser forms of deception."

Chancellor MacCracken told of the "Fame of Emerson." After defining the peculiar mission of such a "preacher of the theology of nature," he said:

"Here on Fifth Avenue, in the Waldorf-Astoria, where within a short mile is the centre of American club life, of American fashion, of American social movements, I think it fit to repeat what he teaches of patriotism. Emerson says: 'If a temperate wise man should look over our American society, the first danger that would excite his alarm would be the European influences upon this country.'

"Yet when Emerson said this, American young women were not expatriating themselves by dozens as now, in order to clutch foreign titles, regardless of what it may cost, whether in money, in sneers against the fathers and mothers who earned the money, or in self-respect. Nor had any New York landlord then disowned his birthright in America while still holding fast to his inherited increment of American real estate."

President Schurman spoke of Emerson's influence on the higher thought of America, hailing him as a prophet and seer; seer because he dreamed dreams of divine truth, and prophet because he possessed the peculiar power to set forth what was revealed to him; the free thinker, unhampered by rituals and creeds, and the man, intensely American, in his individual philosophy, in his optimism and in his sterling patriotism.

Dr. Harris on "The Philosophy of Emerson," and Mr. Barrows on "Personal Reminiscences" were the other speakers. Here is a stanza of Mr. Markham's poem:

New Adam was he with no Past behind,
No dead hand reaching from the grave to bind,
No terror come from old tradition—none
Had power upon that spirit sweet with sun.
He dared to follow an untraveled way,
And flout the Emerson of yesterday;
To cast away the moldy charts, and steer
By the star of his own soul without a fear.

At the reception which preceded the dinner there was on exhibition in the anteroom a collection of books, manuscripts, and other relics of Emerson, many of which were loaned by Prof. Conway. These included a number of rare first editions and English reprints, among these latter the first small Fraser, with Carlyle's preface; a bronze head of Emerson by Symonds of London, and a crayon portrait of Emerson taken from life by Eastman Johnson on the order of Henry W. Longfellow.

CELEBRATION IN BROOKLYN.

Prof. Griggs Speaks and Clergyman Reads a Memorial Poem.

The Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ralph Waldo Emerson last night at the Academy of Music. About 3,000 persons were present. An address on "The Life and Influence of Emerson" was delivered by Prof. Edward H. Griggs of the institute. An original poem was read by the Rev. John White Chadwick, pastor of the Second Unitarian Church of Brooklyn. Two stanzas were:

Nothing to him was common or unclean,
Nothing, so God had made it, poor or mean;
The sheet let down from heaven held for him
No stock nor stone without some presence dim
Of the one God, unseen.

With smiling eyes he looked and saw unrolled,
As 'twere an endless scroll, the manifold
Of space and time; and what he saw and heard
He sang like some full-throated, joyous bird.
And all the wonder told.

Prof. Griggs said that Emerson stood purely and patiently as a prophet of the soul, and added:

"The transformation of the country from a series of loosely connected Colonies to a powerful world Nation, with the necessary devotion of the main resources of the people to the mastery of the material bases of civilization, made more necessary just such spiritual leaven as the life and teaching of Emerson has given."

EMERSON DAY IN CONCORD

100th Anniversary of the Philosopher's Birth Celebrated.

Senator Hoar Delivers an Address on His Contribution to Man's Knowledge of Spiritual Laws.

CONCORD, Mass., May 25.—Concord to-day gave itself up to a general celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Seldom has the town stopped all business for a day out of respect for one man, but to-day this was done, so that her people might be unhindered in paying tribute to a distinguished son. There were two parts to the day's programme. The forenoon exercises were planned exclusively for the school children and were held in the Town Hall. Those of the afternoon were of a more public nature.

Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard was the first of the invited speakers to address the afternoon assembly. His subject was "The Ground and Nature of Emerson's Influence on His Own Generation, and My Personal Reminiscences of the Man." Thomas Wentworth Higginson delivered an address which was full of personal reminiscences of the Concord sage. Prof. William James of Harvard followed. Senator George Frisbie Hoar was the last speaker. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hoar said:

"I do not undertake to speak of Mr. Emerson's services to the youth of his country, as a guide to the best literature, or as a counsellor and inspirer to that noble and brave behavior of which he was himself so admirable an example. I will not speak of him as a critic, to whose almost infallible touchstone every man brought his metal to see if it were gold. I will not undertake to speak of him as a poet, or as an orator, rising, on fit occasion, to the loftiest eloquence.

"I have time to speak of him in but one aspect. That is, the contribution he made to the knowledge by mankind of spiritual laws. I think he had the farthest and clearest spiritual discernment of any man who has lived in modern times. His vision was not only keen and far-sighted, but he was singularly free from the things that distort or disturb. There was no local attraction, or temptation, or heat, or blur. So we may take him as the best witness we know of to the spiritual facts which are all around us and close to us, but yet, so many of which we cannot know, or know but imperfectly, by any seeing or hearing of our own. What we see he saw more clearly. What we hear he heard more distinctly. And always he sees a face we cannot see, and hears a voice we cannot hear.

"Every man who is seeking a spiritual life finds in Emerson his own faith, if he have faith, as the Christian sects find theirs in the Saviour. Now, what are the things in which our confidence is strengthened and deepened by the fact that he tells us they are true? He has taught us the virtue of completeness, and courage, and sincerity of utterance. In dealing with the things that pertain to the soul he utters no half truths, no pious frauds. He gives us no milk for babes. The purpose of Emerson, like that of Milton, is to 'justify the ways of God to man,' and they do not need to be clothed in a veil. God is not to be seen, as Moses saw him, from behind.

"He affirms that inspiration and the process of revelation did not end with the apostles and the Scriptures. It is going on to-day, and all the time, to him that hath ears to hear. The bush is burning still.

"Has any man spoken to us like him of the virtue of a good hope, since the apostle placed it forever in the centre of the mighty group? He saw that crime and sin led all souls to the good. The cosmic results will be the same whatever the daily events may be. He was eminently a reconciler. His larger orbit inclosed all lesser orbits, and even all divergent lines. One thing he saw which mankind have not seen. That is, that forever the slave is owner, and forever the victim is victor. So when freedom, virtue, religion, justice, love, patriotism, call their witnesses, his name will be the first of our time to be called. So far as mortal testimony can prove it, they can rest the case with him.

"He has made the best statement in all secular literature of the doctrine of immortality. He shows us that the world and the human soul are not only unreasonable, but inexplicable, without it. Yet he makes no absolute affirmation, except that we shall be immortal if that be best. Whether we shall know each other again is a Sunday school question. He will not spend his time about it. Perhaps, as he says of Carlyle, this nimble and active spirit does not care to beat itself against walls. But he is not, like Carlyle, a destroyer, or a scorner. He worships no demon of mere force. If he do not know what we long to know of another world, he pays due homage to the loving and wise Spirit that sitteth as Sovereign on the throne of this. Rather, he believes that the world is but one world, and that the Sovereign who reigns ever it—never to be dethroned—knows very well that every road leads to the gates of his kingdom.

"Mr. Emerson's philosophy had no stoicism in it. If it brought him ampler compensations than were vouchsafed to common men, grief also filled to its depths a larger heart, and touched with its agony nerves more finely sensitive than those of common men. Who has uttered, like him, in that immortal threnody, the voice of parental sorrow? What more loving heart ever mourned the loss of a brother's love than that which could not be unlocked because the key had gone with Charles and Edward?

"To cite the tributes of eminent authorities to the great place of Mr. Emerson in literature, and his trustworthiness as an intellectual and spiritual guide, would occupy not only the day but the year. We cannot undertake to do that. But we ought to be certain that we are not induced by our love for our delightful friend and townsman to confound our own narrow field of vision with that of all mankind—especially with that of posterity. Yet that must be a fixed star of the first magnitude, of whom observers, whose stations are apart by the distance of the whole heavens, concur in so reporting. When the Jew, and the Catholic, and the Unitarian, and the Anglican, and the Calvinist, and the Skeptic; when the Russian, and the German, and the Scotsman concur with his own countrymen in their estimate of a religious teacher, we may fairly believe that we have got the verdict not of the year or of the generation only, but of the centuries.

"When Dean Stanley was in this country he took special pains to inform himself of the history and present condition of our religious denominations. The result of his observation was that whatever might be the sect or creed of the clergymen they all preached Emerson.

"It were a sorry story for humanity if these eternal verities had been uttered by but one voice, or had waited from the beginning for any one voice to utter them. They were revealed to humanity in the morning of creation. The revelation will continue until time shall be no more. What is best in humanity answered in the beginning, and will answer to the end. The lesson is that the common virtues, the common hopes, the common loves, the common faiths of mankind are the foundations on which the universe is builded, and are the things that shall endure. There is a diversity of gifts, but the same spirit. There is a difference of language, but the same message. Emerson says 'he is base—that is the one base thing of the universe—to receive benefits, and render none.' 'Noblesse oblige,' says the chivalrous proverb of France. 'To whom much is given, of him much shall be required,' says the Hebrew Scriptures.

"Emerson tells us that Beauty, Love, and Truth are one. He is only another witness that Faith and Hope, and Love are the pillars on which all things rest, and that they abide. Their identity the Church has striven for ages to express in the great doctrine of the Trinity. Emerson also tells us that they are one with Duty and with Joy.

"But above all these, comprehending them all, is his perception of a presence that I hardly know how to name, and that it sometimes seems he did not like to name. I asked a famous preacher what it was that he thought Emerson saw more clearly than other men. He said: 'It is the Immanent God.' What Emerson would have called it if he had given it a name, I do not know—God, the Over-Soul, the Unknown, the Unity manifesting itself in Beauty, in Power, in Love, in Joy, in Duty, existing everywhere, speaking in every age through some prophet of its own—it spoke to our age its high commands through the lips of Emerson."

DIVORCE OF MRS. EDYTH WARD.

End of Suit Against Reginald H. Ward, Known in London as "Count" Ward.

Justice Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court signed yesterday an interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Edyth Newcomb Ward against Reginald H. Ward. Edward G. Whittaker, as referee, took all the testimony in the action. The Wards were married in this city on Nov. 26, 1889, and the acts complained of by the wife were committed here in October, 1902, and in Paris during November of the same year.

Mr. Ward is a Bostonian and a great-grandson of the Revolutionary soldier Gen. Artemas Ward. Five years ago he moved to London and acquired there a paper title of "Count." By successful speculation he not only materially increased his own fortune, but became popular in social circles through putting influential persons in a way to invest their money to advantage. It has been reported that Mr. Ward contemplates marriage with an English woman somewhat his senior.

Mrs. Ward was Miss Edyth Newcomb of Kentucky, daughter of H. Victor Newcomb, an important factor in Wall Street until his illness forced him into a sanitarium.

Impure Blood?

You Can't Have Pure Blood Unless Your Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys Are Right—A Safe, Simple Remedy at Any Drug Store.

If your blood is bad; if you are disfigured by pimples, sores, torturing boils or eczema; if you are worn out and tired, with nerves and temper on edge; it is because your stomach, bowels, liver, and kidneys are not acting in accord.

Bad blood means bad bowels; bad bowels mean bad health.

Iron-Ox Tablets purge the blood of its impurities by toning up the digestive organs so that they perform their functions naturally and regularly.

They cleanse and invigorate the torpid liver; stimulate the sluggish kidneys, and regulate the bowels by their gentle but effective tonic-laxative action.

Anything which shocks the system into activity is dangerous. Do not expect immediate perceptible effects from Iron-Ox Tablets. They produce a natural, regular building up of all the functions. This takes a little time, but a successful result is absolutely certain.

Remember, Iron-Ox Tablets are not purgative or cathartic in their effect; they are tonic-laxative; they cure by building up the entire system. Purgatives and cathartics give only temporary relief by violent and injurious action—they do far more harm than good.

Do not confound Iron-Ox Tablets with liquid preparations which depend upon drug-disguised alcohol for immediate effect, and which create a habit which is nothing more nor less than alcoholism. Iron-Ox Tablets build up the system naturally—they cannot create a "habit."

Fifty Iron-Ox Tablets in an attractive aluminum pocket-case, 25 cents at druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. The Iron-Ox Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

DENTISTRY.

SPECIALIZATION.

The modern way of doing difficult things is to divide them into parts and employ specialists on each part. This method has not been employed in dentistry because, (1) no ordinary dental practice has work enough to steadily employ specialists in each branch, and, (2) there is only one branch—filling teeth—that is profitable when practiced separately. The demand for crowns, artificial teeth, &c., is so small, comparatively, that it is difficult to build up a practice in either of these specialties alone.

FIVE BRANCHES.

Within recent years dentistry has grown to be a complex profession. New methods and inventions have come into use, until there are now five distinct branches, demanding skill of five distinct kinds. Many dentists undertake all five, though unable to do more than one branch properly. Naturally, four-fifths of such work is not well done; in many cases it is very badly done.

OUR METHOD.

Our practice is large enough to enable us to employ specialists in each branch. Every man on our staff knows one department of dentistry in all its details and profits by co-operation with men who equally understand the other four. We select only operators with natural skill in a particular branch. This natural skill is enhanced to the uttermost in our office by constant practice.

Briefly stated, our method attains three important results:—

(1) Excellence and durability of work.
(2) Ease and brevity of operations.
(3) Reduction of cost.

PAINLESSNESS.

Most dentists are careless about the pain their patients suffer, and have but a single means of avoiding it; some of one sort and some of another. When this one preventive succeeds, well and good; when it fails, the patient's protests are met with the calm assurance that nothing more can be done, and the work proceeds under the most adverse conditions for both patient and operator.

THE CADY SYSTEM.

The dentist who tries to overcome all sorts of sensitiveness with a single remedy will fail oftener than he succeeds, just as a physician would who prescribed a single medicine for all sorts of disease. The "Cady System" is based upon the knowledge that the conditions of dental sensibility are numerous, requiring a wide range of remedies. It embraces every method known to the profession at large, and some that are not generally known. It succeeds because it takes each of the various sensitive conditions into account.

PRICES.

A comparison of prices will show that we charge much less than most private practitioners. "But," you ask, "is the work as good?" We reply, "It is better, because no dentist who does his own work CAN achieve such excellent results as we do with our corps of specialists."

Dentistry as we practice it is a serious profession, involving education, carefulness and skill. Therefore we cannot compete in price with the ignorant, the careless, or the unskillful. But our prices are about one-half those charged by most GOOD dentists.

Come and talk with us personally. We make no charge for consultation. If you cannot call, send for our 44-page booklet, containing explanations, prices, and letters of recommendation from many well-known people.

AUTOMOBILE RACE ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Europe Horrified Over Fatalities in French Speed Contest.

Spain Prohibits a Continuance of the Awful Run—Casualties Show Six Dead and Thirteen Injured.

PARIS, May 25.—It is now possible to assemble from the many reports along the route of the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race a complete list of the casualties. This shows six persons killed, three so dangerously injured that they may die, and ten seriously injured. A carefully revised list of the casualties follows:

DEAD.

PIERRE RODERIZ, Mr. Barrow's machinist; collision with a tree near Libourne.

NIXON, Mr. Porter's machinist; burned under automobile.

NORMAND, M. Tourand's machinist, at Angoulême.

DUPUY, soldier, at Angoulême.

GAILLON, cyclist, at Angoulême.

UNKNOWN PEASANT WOMAN, at Ablis.

INJURED.

Mr. BARROW, pelvis and thigh broken; amputation of leg expected.

M. MARCEL RENAULT, injured about body and head.

Mr. L. PORTER, cut and bruised.

Mr. STEAD, overturned; badly injured.

Mr. STEAD'S machinist, head cut open.

LESNA, champion cyclist; broken kneecap.

GEORGES RICHARD, chest crushed, ribs broken.

HENRY JEANNOT, Richard's machinist, shoulder fractured.

E. CHARD, head cut open.

TOURAND, severely bruised.

GASTON RAFFET, boy; fractured skull, leg and arm broken.

MARCEL RENAULT'S machinist, severely bruised.

Mme. CHAYSEAS, both legs amputated by automobile.

A late dispatch from Bordeaux adds another terrible accident to the long list of casualties. Mme. Chayseas, accompanied by her husband, both riding bicycles, were watching the passing automobiles at St. André de Cubzac, twelve miles from Bordeaux, when a horse, frightened by the noise, bolted and overturned the lady, who fell under a racing automobile. Both her legs were cut off and the hopes of saving her life are slight.

According to the latest reports Mr. Stead is so much improved that he will be able to leave the hospital this week. Mr. Barrow is also slightly better. Marcel Renault's condition is less satisfactory.

There is much excitement in automobile circles in Bordeaux over the interdiction of the continuance of the race by the French and Spanish Governments. A committee of the local Automobile Club and delegates from the Paris Automobile Club met in Bordeaux this afternoon, but the decision arrived at has not been published.

Many of the competitors, including MM. Charron, Theiller, and Passy, desired to abandon the race, but others insisted that their honor required them to resume it at the Spanish frontier, if possible; but the Spanish Government later forbade the race and thus compelled its complete abandonment. The automobilists may cross the frontier, but they are to be considered simply as excursionists, and must travel at reduced speed.

The action of the French Government in stopping the speed contest is generally approved, with the exception of some of the automobilists.

A number of the leading American and French automobilists have expressed horror at the series of accidents, and stated that in their opinion it will end speed races in France and at other places on the Continent.

Foxhall Keene said: "The effect will be a serious if not an irreparable blow to fast automobiling. I had hoped to drive my sixty horse-power car. It was a wonderful machine, showing 112 kilometers without effort, but at the last moment we were unable to complete the necessary repairs."

There is not the slightest ground for the suggestion that Henri Fournier, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Baron de Forest withdrew from the race on account of the dangers. Each had a damaged cylinder and could not proceed.

Clarence Moore of Washington timed Louis Renault's car as it passed him and found it was making 74½ miles an hour. The automobile of M. Gabriel, yesterday's winner, he says, gave forth a deep base roar as it leaped the steep incline near Chartres like a huge rabbit bounding up a hill. He saw Jarrott approaching at lightning speed. A huge mastiff got right in the path. Jarrott realized that to try to avoid the dog would throw his car against a tree, and he steered directly for the dog. He struck the dog squarely, and it was pinned in front of the automobile for half a minute, and then dropped to the ground between the wheels. Mr. Moore and others examined the carcass of the dog and found that there was not a bone left in its body over two inches long.

Concerning the effect of the accidents, Mr. Moore expressed the opinion that it will stop the excessive speed of races and that this would really be beneficial to true sport. He says the Paris-Madrid race is less a contest of sportsmanship than a competition between rival makers, seeking to gain a reputation. Many makers offer large premiums to unknown men to induce them to break records.

Senator Prevost has announced his intention to interpellate the Government on the necessity for a stringent regulation of automobile racing. He intends also to introduce a stringent law fixing a maximum speed and forbidding racers to circulate in the streets or on public roads.

THE MOTOR CRAZE IN PARIS.

Streets Scarcely Less Dangerous Than a Railroad Track—Police Seem Powerless to Regulate Speed.

LONDON TIMES—NEW YORK TIMES Special Cablegram.

LONDON, May 26.—The Paris correspondent of The Times says the impression produced on the general public by the motor race, with its accompanying casualties, reminds him forcibly of the feeling excited in Vienna by the Ring Theatre catastrophe, and is likely to prove quite as ephemeral.

The use of automobiles, says the correspondent, renders the streets of Paris scarcely less dangerous than a railroad track, and has quite spoiled the Bois de Boulogne for other conveyances. The number of cars is rapidly increasing, and the police seem powerless to make them go at a reasonable pace. It is not uncommon to see automobiles rushing in the Bois at the speed of a runaway horse.

IRISH AUTOMOBILE RACE MAY NOT BE HELD.

LONDON, May 26.—Whether the international automobile race for the James Gordon Bennett Cup, which is scheduled to be run in Ireland on July 2, will be held now, in view of the disastrous end to the Paris-Madrid contest, is anxiously discussed on all sides. The correspondents in Paris of the English papers adversely criticise the absence of proper precautions by the authorities in the Paris-Madrid race, and it is generally conceded that the Irish race will offer no such dangerous possibilities.

The committee of the British Automobile Club has issued a statement explaining the different conditions, and pointing out that there will be only twelve competitors in the Irish contest, while 9,000 constabulary, assisted by troops and the race officials, will keep the course clear, a man being stationed every hundred yards. Then, all the twelve cars will be of approximately the same speed, thus to a great extent avoiding the constant passing and repassing which was a characteristic of the Paris-Madrid race.

It is not considered likely that the Parliamentary sanction given to the Irish contest will be revoked now, but there is no doubt that in the future such sanctions for motor car races will be more difficult to obtain.

AUTOMOBILE BLOWN TO PIECES.

A steam and gasoline automobile belonging to Dr. Silas C. Blaisdell of 500 Bedford Avenue, Williamsburg, blew up yesterday in front of his home. The vehicle was broken in half a dozen pieces, which were hurled from fifty to one hundred feet in the air. Dr. Blaisdell, who is the surgeon in chief of the Eastern District Hospital, had stepped out of the automobile with his chauffeur only a few minutes before.

The doctor and the late Dr. Ashley A. Webber figured in an exciting automobile accident last Fall at Lynbrook, L. I. They were returning from Bayshore to Williamsburg. In order to escape running into a surrey containing a man, his wife, and four children, they turned the machine off into a woods, and both were severely hurt, Dr. Blaisdell the more severely.

NEW NAVAL COALING STATION.

Will Be Established Immediately at Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Admiral Dewey as President of the General Board has made a report to Secretary Moody recommending the immediate establishment of a coaling station at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, and the selection there of a coal depot with an initial capity of 5,000 tons.

The estimated cost of the work is about $51,000. The money is now available. Believing the establishment of a coal depot at this strategic point will strengthen the United States on the Pacific Ocean, the President has heartily approved the plan, and preliminary steps in the work have been taken already.

Dutch Harbor is located on one of the Aleutian Islands, and is on the direct commercial route between the ports of Behring Sea and Southern Alaska and the Pacific Coast of the United States. It is also in the line of steamers passing through the Unimak Pass, most of which make Dutch Harbor a port of call. Its use as a coal depot site was first recommended by Rear Admiral Bradford, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment. His recommendation was referred to the general board, and is now about to be executed according to his plans.

Dutch Harbor will form the fifth in the chain of coal depots along the Pacific Coast, which will begin at San Diego and include San Francisco, Puget Sound, and Sitka. Honolulu is the sixth in the chain, and Guam possibly may be added to the list.

In recommending Dutch Harbor as a site for a coal depot, the general board had in mind the fact that there is no coal suitable for naval purposes mined anywhere within some thousands of miles.

ROBBED WHILE ENTERTAINED.

One Man Told Stories to Jeweler While His Confederate Got Watches and a Tray of Rings.

Two confederates in thievery succeeded in purloining thirteen watches and a tray of rings from the jewelry and watch-repair shop of George Nanwelaerts, at 155 West Thirty-third Street, last night, by a carefully arranged plan. While one told humorous stories to the proprietor at the front door, the other entered the place from the rear and took what he could find. He even came to the front of the store, behind the owner's back, to get the tray of rings.

Mr. Nanwelaerts gave the police a description of the one who told the stories and also of a man who was in the place earlier in the day, and who looked at many things without buying.

GAVE BABY THE WRONG BOTTLE.

Little Brooklyn Girl Thought He Had a Pain and Played Doctor.

While filling the rôle of "little mother" yesterday at her home, 13 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn, three-year-old Rose Kenny gave her seventeen-months-old brother, Edward, camphorated oil by mistake for "meddy," and for a time it was feared that he would die. Mrs. Kenny had to go out to the grocery and left Rose in charge of the baby.

"Now, be a good little mother to Eddie," she said playfully to the girl.

In a few minutes Edward set up a howl after the manner of babies, and Rosie became greatly alarmed for him.

"Oo's dot a pain in oo's 'ittle tummy, I dess," she said wisely, "I det oo some meddy."

Then she climbed upon a chair and got the bottle of camphorated oil from a shelf. Eddie didn't have a pain in his "little tummy" just then, but there was one there after he had swallowed about half the contents of the bottle.

The howl he had set up originally was but a mere whisper to the one he lifted when he got through drinking. He was taken to the Cumberland Street Hospital, where it was said last night that, although he had been in a dangerous condition, he was improving slowly and probably would recover.

FELL 125 FEET, LIVED HOURS.

Williamsburg Gas Tank, Scene of Many Fatalities, Had Another Victim.

William E. Key of 240 East Ninety-fourth Street, an iron worker, fell 125 feet yesterday afternoon from the top of the gas tank now being built for the Brooklyn Union Gaslight Company, at Wythe Avenue and North Twelfth Street, Williamsburg. He was taken to the Eastern District Hospital, where he died several hours later. How he escaped instant death by the fall is considered a miracle, as nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Since the tank was begun, last Fall, it has been the scene of many fatal accidents. Before losing consciousness, Key told his fellow-workmen to send for a priest. Father Fitzsimmons of the Church of St. Vincent de Paul happened to be in the immediate vicinity and had his attention attracted by the crowd that was gathering. He forced his way to the dying man and administered the last rites, while all the crowd kneeled with uncovered heads.

Banker Davis Out of Bankruptcy.

Samuel D. Davis, who, as a partner with Charles B. Van Nostrand, formed the banking firm of S. D. Davis & Co., and who, on March 7 filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with assets of $55,178.12 and liabilities of $989,026.12, received his discharge in bankruptcy yesterday. Davis was not joined in his petition by his partner. The firm liquidated its affairs and went out of business in 1897. Now that the discharge has been granted, five actions brought against Davis, as a member of the firm, in the Supreme Court, will be resumed, they having been held up through an injunction granted by Judge Adams in the United States District Court restraining the plaintiffs from proceeding further pending the final adjudication of the bankruptcy proceedings. The enjoined plaintiffs and the amount sued for in each case were as follows: Glens Falls (N. Y.) National Bank, $43,940; Crocker Estate Company, $5,137; George C. and W. H. Crocker, $44,830; H. T. Leutt and C. E. Greene, as guardians of the estates of Charles Templeton Crocker, and Jennie A. Crocker and Mary Burton Harrison, $60,151.

Jersey City Preacher Hurt in Ball Game.

The Rev. Otto L. Mohn of the Greenville Reformed Church of Jersey City was severely hurt while catching behind the bat for the Greenville Field Baseball Club in a game with the West Bergen Field Club Saturday afternoon. The Greenville team had neglected to provide a chest protector, and in the third inning the ball struck Mr. Mohn just above the heart. He was knocked out for a few minutes, but continued in the game to the finish. He said yesterday that he would not catch again without a chest protector. The West Bergen Club won by a score of 20 to 9.

City and Suburban Homes Meeting.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the City and Suburban Homes Company yesterday, the annual report of President Elgin R. L. Gould was ratified, and the retiring Directors, R. Fulton Cutting, D. O. Mills, Adrian Iselin, Jr., and Elgin R. L. Gould, were re-elected for a three-year period. According to the President's report, this company has now almost $3,000,000 invested, chiefly in city tenements. During the current year dividends of 4 per cent. have been paid.

Suit Against John W. Keller Dismissed.

Justice Davis of the Supreme Court dismissed yesterday the damage suit brought to recover $25,000 from John W. Keller, ex-Commissioner of Charities, by Virginia Pleasant, a negress. Cornelius Pleasant, her husband, was admitted to Bellevue from the Harlem Hospital in 1900 and died two days later. Mr. Keller was made the defendant in her action simply because he was the Commissioner at the time of the death.

New Patrol System Almost Ready.

Police Commissioner Greene announced yesterday afternoon that some time in the latter part of June he will announce his plan for a new patrol system in the department. It will not be a three-platoon system, but will be something like the present one, with six platoons. A patrolman will have eight hours duty one day and sixteen hours off and sixteen hours on duty and eight off the next day.

HUNTED A CLERICAL SLEUTH.

Detectives Sought a Burglar and Found Dr. Wellman, Who Was Trailing Brooklyn Bad Boys.

The Rev. Dr. E. Homer Wellman, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Atonement, Seventeenth Street, near Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, recently had himself appointed a special Deputy Sheriff, in order that he might run down a band of bad boys who have been breaking the windows in his church and annoying his congregation.

He followed the trail of the wicked gamins yesterday afternoon, and as a result William Rae, one of the proprietors of Acme Hall, a hotel, restaurant, and lodge headquarters, was surprised to see a tall man, dressed in black, and wearing a silk hat, enter at the side door and go quietly upstairs. Rae hurriedly telephoned to the Fifth Avenue Police Station.

"Send up a couple of men right away," he said. "There is a burglar in Acme Hall."

Detective Hennessey and Roundsman Lundy went to the place on the run. With Rae, the two policemen, with pocket sticks and pistols ready, stole cautiously upstairs. Floor after floor was hunted over until on the top one the party found a quiet, smooth-shaven man peering out of a window into the back yards of the houses on the block. Hennessey stole up behind the stranger and tapped him on the shoulder.

"What are you doing here?" asked the detective sternly.

The supposed burglar turned and looked at the others calmly.

"I am the Rev. Dr. Wellman, and I am doing a little detective work," he replied.

"Oh, come now, you can't work that con game," returned the detective decisively. "I know Dr. Wellman. He's got a mustache and side whiskers."

The man smiled, and taking out a card, handed it to the detective. Hennessey still doubted.

"I assure you that I am Dr. Wellman," said the clergyman. "I did wear a mustache and side whiskers, but I shaved them off a short time ago."

The clergyman explained that the ringleader of the gamins lived in Ninth Street, and he had entered Acme Hall for a quiet view of the yards.

The policemen were impressed, but would take no chances, and Hennessey went to Dr. Wellman's house and insisted on identification. When all was cleared up the amateur and professional sleuths shook hands, and had a hearty laugh.

ENGINE STRIKES TROLLEY CAR.

Motorman Only Person Seriously Injured in Elizabethport Collision.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 25.—A drill engine of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and a trolley car of the North Jersey Street Railway Company, on the Third Street line, were in collision to-night shortly after midnight, at Third Street and Broadway, Elizabethport. The motorman of the trolley car was the only person that was seriously injured. It was the last trip for the car, and there were four or five men passengers in it when it was struck by the drill engine. There are said to be no flagman or signalman on duty at this crossing at night.

The motorman saved himself by jumping, but the conductor, who was on the rear end, was thrown under the wreckage. He was rescued and taken to the Alexian Hospital, where it was learned that his name was Frank Ivens. All the passengers escaped with slight bruises, caused by jumping through the windows in the front end of the car.

YESTERDAY'S BASEBALL GAMES

New York Beat St. Louis Handily—Local Americans Lost in St. Louis.

Local baseball patrons will have an opportunity of getting a good line on the relative playing merits of the Chicago and New York National League teams this afternoon, when the first of the series of three games between these rivals will be decided. Chicago leads in the pennant race.

In the American League race the positions of the leading clubs remain unchanged. The Boston and Chicago teams did not play yesterday owing to wet weather. Griffith's New York players were defeated in St. Louis, Washington won easily from Detroit, and the Philadelphia champions were outplayed in Cleveland.

Following are the scores of the games in the National and American Leagues, respectively:

New York, 13; St. Louis, 4.
Brooklyn, 5; Pittsburg, 0.
Cincinnati, 3; Boston, 2.
Chicago, 8; Philadelphia, 4.

St. Louis, 6; New York, 1.
Washington, 5; Detroit, 1.
Cleveland, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New Yorks Batted Timely and Often, and Beat St. Louis Easily.

At the Polo Grounds yesterday the New York baseball team won very easily from the St. Louis players, the score being 13 to 4 in favor of the local men. Hard and frequent hitting by McGraw's men and wretched fielding by the visitors, who made ten misplays, account for the rather one-sided score. Both sides changed pitchers in the final innings, but this did not have any bearing on the result. The score:

BROOKLYN, 5; PITTSBURG, 0.

Hanlon's Brooklyn team shut out the National League baseball champions at Washington Park yesterday, 5 to 0. Garvin pitched a splendid game, and was well supported in the field, he himself being the only one of the home players to make a misplay. He struck out five men, gave no bases on balls, and allowed only three scattered hits to be made by the visitors. Leever held the Brooklyn batters safely for five innings, but they scored their first run in the sixth, and with two men out in the seventh, they hit him consecutively for four runs. The score:

BOSTON, May 25.—Except for his five bases on balls, Piatt pitched well enough to win to-day's game with Cincinnati. He struck out nine men and allowed but seven hits. In the eighth, singles by Seymour, Steinfeldt, and Corcoran, with Donlin's sacrifice, gave the visitors two runs. Score by innings:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New Yorks Were Unable to Bat Opportunely and Lost to St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—The local American League team was again successful against the New Yorks, who finished their series here to-day by a signal defeat by the score of 6 to 1. Sudhoff, the home pitcher, was in good form, besides which he was well supported. On the other hand, Chesbro, while not outrageously batted, was easy for the St. Louis players when runs were needed. The score:

West Side Tennis Club's Tournament.

The metropolitan champion at lawn tennis, Harold H. Hackett, won his place yesterday in the semi-final round of the West Side Tennis Club's annual championship tournament on their courts, One Hundred and Seventeenth Street and Amsterdam Avenue. Hackett's opponent was one of the old college players, F. P. Fuller, and he forced the ex-Yale man to display his best game. In the opening set Hackett took five straight games before Fuller was able to score. Fuller took the sixth game by his forceful ground strokes, but lost the next and the set to Hackett, who stroked the ball for side line passes.

Fuller opened the second set in surprising form, as he passed Hackett frequently through the centre of his court. The lead went to Fuller at 3—1, but then Yale's ex-champion came up to the net and won three games by his speedy volleying. He took the set and match at 6—4.

All of the semi-final brackets are now filled, O. M. Bostwick and Ross Burchard being on the top half and H. H. Hackett and C. C. Kelley on the lower. These competitions will be played this afternoon. The summary:

Championship Singles, First Round—Harold H. Hackett defeated Frank P. Fuller, 6—2, 6—4; Ovedio M. Bostwick defeated H. F. Holbrook, 6—2, 6—1; Ross Burchard defeated C. A. L. Dionne, 6—2, 6—0.

Women's Golf Team Match.

The first women's golf match of the season in the series for the women's metropolitan team championship was played yesterday at the Richmond County Country Club, Staten Island, between the women of that club and Nassau County. The match was in the Class B series, and Richmond County won by 6 to 5. The teams and players are:

Strong Light Of Public Enthusiasm

Shines with Increasing Brilliance upon the Siegel Cooper Store's Plan of Giving Sperry and Hutchinson Green Trading Stamps.

TWO GREEN TRADING STAMPS INSTEAD OF ONE TO-DAY.

AT New York's Greatest Retail Store the Sperry & Hutchinson Green Trading Stamp system is no experiment. It is a solid success.

It has been that from the very hour that the plan became operative. In the matter of demand there have been no class distinctions. Rich and humble alike have eagerly asked for Green Trading Stamps when making purchases at the Siegel Cooper Store. Requests have been continuous, not spasmodic or sporadic.

"Please Let Me Have Green Trading Stamps" Is Continually Heard.

So greatly has the Green Stamp system been popularized by the Siegel Cooper Store that it is frequently made a subject of newspaper comment. Thousands of people have become Green Trading Stamp collectors.

A Visit to the Premium Annex on the 5th Floor Proves Why So Many People Want Green Trading Stamps.

The premiums are eminently desirable. They are worthy of effort. They cost you nothing. For the Green Trading Stamp system simplified is merely an additional trading inducement, an extra reason why you should make your purchases at The Big Store.

GIVING, AS WE SHALL DO, TO-DAY, TWICE THE USUAL NUMBER OF TRADING STAMPS, without additional expenditure on your part, it is natural that you should avail yourself of the opportunity all the more eagerly. Getting two stamps instead of one during these days will help you to FILL YOUR BOOK TWICE AS QUICK AS ORDINARILY.

This is a decided advantage. But we do not want to accentuate this point more strongly than we do the fact that we want you to fully appreciate the merchandise offers we extend to you.

Argue thus: Here is one of the largest and best known Stores in the world. It does an enormous business. Phenomenal quantities of merchandise are necessarily bought and sold rapidly. Nothing ever loses the lustre of freshness. Is it not natural that a Store doing such a prodigious business CAN BUY CHEAPER AND SELL AT LOWER PRICES than other Stores having less power, prestige and patronage?

Of course! It's clear as crystal. For this reason we say that in addition to selling you superior seasonable merchandise at unapproachably low prices, we offer you Green Trading Stamps without extra cost. These Stamps permit you to choose from thousands of Premiums.

They consist of things mainly for the home and its ornamentation. They are precisely what you would pick out if you came to purchase them.

As further evidence of the Siegel Cooper Store's progressiveness and efforts to please its multitudes of customers, we direct your attention to the following specials for To-day:

DR. PARKHURST ON REFORM.

It is impossible to imagine a worthier subject for a New York clergyman to take on the eve of his Summer vacation than that which Dr. PARKHURST took for the theme of his sermon on Sunday evening. If such an object lesson in comparative righteousness as the municipal administration has been giving us with increasing force and clearness is to be without political effect, then preaching, whether from the pulpit, the stump, or the editorial page, may well seem to be "vain," and the faith of the hearers or readers also vain.

Dr. PARKHURST's observation of the temper of the people of New York on this point by no means agrees with our own. He says: "Unless I totally misconstrue that which I hear every day spoken, there is a serene, languid expectation that all the magnificent gains that have been made since the beginning of 1902 are to be renounced, splendid beginnings abandoned, and the metropolis of America slump back once more into the hands of the irredeemable mob that tyrannized us, bled us, and polluted us from 1898 till 1902." Obviously the prevalence of such an expectation strongly tends to bring about its fulfillment. One does mischief by admitting that it prevails, if in fact it does not. And, as we say, our observation differs widely from that of Dr. PARKHURST. Without doubt such an expectation did prevail until within a few months, in fact, until the advent of Gen. GREENE to the head of the Police Department. All the good work that was done in other departments, and, compared with its working under "the irredeemable mob" of Tammany, the work of every department was good, went for nothing, or for little, in comparison with the pitiable spectacle which the Police Department presented under an administration in a condition of helpless and pitiable shillyshally upon the primary question whether the law was or was not to be enforced. This was the most conspicuous of all the departments, that of which the operation was visible to every citizen, and most "came home to men's business and bosoms." Everybody knew that we had a Police Commissioner who never could make up his mind whether he ought to enforce the law or not, that is, whether or not he should do the very thing that he was appointed and sworn to do. The blame for this may not have been altogether chargeable to poor Col. PARTRIDGE, but the effect was to discredit the whole reform administration, to depress its friends and encourage its enemies.

All that has been changed. Gen. GREENE has left none of his subordinates nor any of his fellow-citizens in doubt about the view he takes of his functions. He is there to enforce the law, and he has been doing it, manifestly and conspicuously, "without fear or favor." He has undertaken to moralize a scandalously demoralized department. He has begun at the origin of the demoralization, at the top. The enforced retirement of four Inspectors and thirty-eight Captains is, as Dr. PARKHURST says, "a record to be proud of," provided no mistakes were made in the selection of the victims, and no disinterested person has suggested that any were made. It is a pity, no doubt, that any unfaithful officials should have been permitted to retire with what may properly be called immodest competences. But they have been compelled to retire against their wills, and their successors have been very pointedly notified that the acquisition of riches in the department by Tammany methods is henceforth a very hazardous undertaking. A citizen who declares his intention of voting to put a stop to this most salutary reform and to allow the police to revert to the old Tammany degradation, thereby declares himself a bad citizen.

This reform of the police was necessary, not merely for its own sake, but also to the popular appreciation of the excellent work done by the other municipal departments. And, now that the police force has been converted from a public scandal and a public nuisance to a body of which New York may expect to be actually proud, the good work of the other departments is getting the credit which it deserves. Commissioner LEDERLE, Commissioner DE FOREST, Commissioner WOODBURY, in particular, have had the opportunity of doing their work in so public and conspicuous a manner that a great majority of their fellow-citizens can see it and judge it, by comparison with the work of their predecessors, or, in the case of Commissioner DE FOREST, who had no predecessor, by comparison with the old condition of things. The departments less immediately in view have done as well, according to the judgment of those whose business it has been to watch them. In fact, the Fire Department, we think, is the only executive department in respect to which there is a strong popular belief that the headship of it might be changed to the public advantage. The record of the municipal administration is throughout "a proud record." We believe that it is a record on which the administration might go to the people with confidence if the election were to be held to-morrow, and with increasing confidence as the season of the election draws nearer and the good work of the City Government becomes more and more clear.

MASSACRE BY AUTOMOBILE.

The frightful results of the attempted race of automobiles from Paris to Madrid are not most to be deplored on account of the loss of life among the contestants. When a man projects himself along a public highway at the rate of nearly ninety miles an hour, he deliberately risks his life. If he did not know of his risk intuitively, there have been already accidents enough in the automobiling business to bring the risk to his notice. It is the innocent persons who are passing along the same highway upon their lawful occasions who are entitled to be protected against the risks which the racing automobilist deliberately incurs for himself.

Mr. W. K. VANDERBILT, Jr., was quoted the other day as saying that automobiling had been "practically killed" in this country by what he regarded as absurd legal restrictions. It seems that he would have stood a very good chance of being "practically killed" in person if the disablement of his machine had not put him out of this latest competition in the country of his choice. Most Americans, upon reading the record of slaughter in France, will be inclined to congratulate themselves upon living in a country which in one essential point is so clearly more civilized. The provisions of the recent statute in this State against the speeding of automobiles are no doubt very drastic. But it does not become any racing automobilist to complain of them, since it is the folly and recklessness of this class that have justified and made necessary very stringent legislation. And it is likely that France, the country in which the automobile was first brought to perfection and in which automobile racing has had its greatest development, will emulate the American example. The prompt veto interposed by the French Government of a contest which had already had such frightful results should, and doubtless will, result in regulations that will effectually prevent the repetition of such horrors.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S NEW POLICY.

The full text of Mr. CHAMBERLAIN's address at Birmingham on the 15th sustains the impression given by the abstract sent by cable at the time. It is a very emphatic and ingenious appeal for a change in the fiscal system of the United Kingdom for the purpose of promoting the unity and the strength of the empire. Practically Mr. CHAMBERLAIN proposes to tax imports into England from other than colonial sources. That is his specific policy. He does not say what imports should be selected for the burden, or how heavy the burden should be. He is prudently vague as to that, though he intimates that he would have retained the tax on grain in order to please the colonies by exempting them from it. Beyond that he does not go, but he plainly avows his motive of winning the gratitude, increasing the trade, and adding to the revenues of the colonies in order that they may contribute to the expense of the empire. And he does not hesitate to say that he thinks the future of the empire depends on coming to some such arrangement with the colonies.

We have no desire to impugn the motives of Mr. CHAMBERLAIN, and we have long since cordially recognized the sincerity of his attachment to the empire and the breadth and penetration of his main views regarding its future. But it is impossible to ignore the political inducements he has at the present moment for bringing forward this curiously bold proposition. The tendency of public opinion has been against his party, as is shown by the bye elections. It may be reversed by the course of the Ministry in the Irish land agitation. If it be, he will personally take little advantage from that fact, for he has not been active in the land question. There is an obvious need for him to do something that will impress his party with his own efficiency and identify him with a new and more popular policy than has heretofore been followed, save in the Irish question. At this apparently critical moment he comes in with a vigorous appeal for the unity and strength of the empire and with a proposition for import duties that is popular with the farmers and with many of the laboring class. We do not venture to say that his motive is ambition; but if that were his motive his plan would admirably serve it.

As a fiscal policy we do not believe that it will be acceptable to the sober second thought of the English people, or even, in the long run, that, with the conditions avowed, it will be popular in the colonies. Seventy-eight per cent. of the imports of the United Kingdom, or thereabout, consists of foodstuffs and materials for manufacture. The trade of the colonies with the Kingdom is a small fraction of its total trade. Mr. CHAMBERLAIN asks the people of the United Kingdom to tax food and materials, increasing the cost of living, of labor, and of manufactures, handicapping nearly all foreign trade, in the hope of increasing the small trade of the colonies on the one hand and of inducing the colonies to aid in the imperial expenses on the other. We do not believe that the English people will care to do that. We do not believe that the colonists will care to have it done at the price they are asked to pay in the future. It is not a good bargain on either side. Nor do we think that the people of the Kingdom or of the colonies will accept the view of Mr. CHAMBERLAIN that his policy is the only one that will preserve and promote the strength of the empire.

Meanwhile the attitude of Mr. BALFOUR in this matter is characteristic, and is, we are bound to say, far finer than that of Mr. CHAMBERLAIN. Clearly he does not go with the Secretary for the Colonies, but he will not quarrel with him. Practically he says to him: "It is possible that you are right. It may be that this is what the country will ultimately wish to be done. But you must produce the evidence. No such change of public policy can take place save as the result of the deliberate, intelligent expression of the judgment and the conscience of the nation. The Government will repeal the grain tax—the apparent beginning of your policy—and leave the field clear for fair discussion." In such a declaration there is no trace of personal interest or ambition. The Premier must feel that Mr. CHAMBERLAIN's success in this new line will be the end of his own lease of power, but he will not stand in the way if the nation is ready for that policy. It is a manly and high-minded course to take. We wish we could say as much for Mr. CHAMBERLAIN's.

THE DENVER AGREEMENT.

The surrender of organized labor in Denver when it found itself confronted by organized capital is in the highest degree instructive. The rule of the unions had become intolerable alike to employers and to workingmen. The men who had forced their way to positions of control in the various trades organizations were not representative of anything except their own overweening ambition, unrestrained by discretion or by the least regard for the material interests of the city. It was a clear case of usurpation ripening into the most irresponsible tyranny. Relying upon the difficulty of bringing employers into anything like effective alliance for any purpose, these men had established in Denver something closely resembling a reign of terror. It was impossible to satisfy them or to find any basis of agreement giving the assurance of a lasting peace, since the labor in trades in which no grievance existed which was capable of being formulated or remedied was regarded simply in the light of mobilized reserves to be called out on strike whenever it was deemed necessary to bring pressure to bear in other directions. Obviously, neither productive nor distributive industry could be conducted on that basis. Negotiations having failed, the employers of labor and all whose interests were dependent upon ending an impossible situation came together. To organize them was easier than had been anticipated. Just as the opposed parties were preparing to enter upon a struggle in which victory would have been scarcely less disastrous than defeat, and from which the city would have suffered almost incalculable injury, the appointment of a committee of conference by the Chamber of Commerce gave the unions the chance they had begun to desire very earnestly. The troubles were settled on an agreement that ends all existing strikes, boycotts, and lock-outs forthwith, lifts the embargo against the employment of non-union men, and provides a plan of arbitration applicable to all labor disputes in future.

It goes without saying that such a settlement would have been impossible if organized labor had not found itself confronted by organized capital. The result of the Denver movement for mutual protection should and doubtless will give a powerful impetus to the formation of employers' associations. If they do not make the mistake of the labor unions in following bad counsel and abusing the power gained through association, such organizations will be of benefit to all in interest. One result will doubtless be to restore to the conservative majority of the membership of the trades unions the control of their own affairs and to displace the leaders who have antagonized all the influences which should be friendly to every effort of labor to better its condition.

PLATTITUDES.

Senator PLATT has a right to talk vacuously about current or prospective affairs in politics, and his former influence in his party still gives a certain interest to what he says, even when its chief significance lies in what he evades saying.

When he declares that he is not committed to any Fusion candidate at the present time, a good many people will credit him with a desire to chill the hopes of the advocates of the renomination of Mr. LOW; but it would be foolish for any politician who wishes to keep a reputation for wisdom and authority to take his stand openly for any candidate at this early date. Mr. PLATT's intimation as to the possible nomination and election of an independent Democrat is in the same line of solemn and unmeaning pronouncement. The probability is that the Senator will in due time accept the accomplished fact, whatever it is, and his admirers will claim that he brought it about. He has some unpleasant differences in his own party to adjust, he has been discredited at Albany, his prestige has unquestionably been diminished, and if he thinks that oracular utterances of no specific value will aid him in keeping what is left, there can be no objection. The issue of the next election in this city will depend on the intelligence and conscience of the people, not on the manipulations of the professional politicians, and it is likely that Mr. PLATT is pretty well assured of that fact.

THE AMERICAN APPLE.

The farmers of the United States are in a fair way to learn how the principle of "protection," for which so many of them have faithfully voted these many years, works against them in other lands.

Germany has already announced its intention largely to increase the taxes on American wheat, flour, and meats so soon as her commercial treaties can be adjusted to the tariff adopted at the last session of the Reichstag. It now appears that, under the authority of the same law, the importation of apples is to be entirely forbidden except in bulk. This would shut out American apples unless a radical and most inconvenient change is made in the mode of handling and shipment. The exaction is in direct accordance with the theory that the farmers of a country are entitled to the home markets. Neither in the case of the German farmers nor in that of the American farmers does the policy work to the general advantage, but the German farmers have this to say for themselves, that they actually do profit by the tax laid on the consumer. They cannot raise enough apples, or grain, either, for the home consumption, and if imports are hindered or forbidden, they stand a chance for higher prices. The American farmers produce far more than the home market can take, and the protective taxes increase the cost of their living and their production without advancing the prices of their products. If the Germans are greedy, the Americans who vote for protection may be greedy in desire, but they are in reality hurt, not helped.

TRUST COMPANIES' RESERVES.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your financial article yesterday was filled with erroneous statements in regard to the situation between the Clearing House Association and the trust companies, all of which tends to cause misapprehension in the public mind, and make apparently acute a situation which does not exist.

I shall not undertake to controvert these errors, but it might be interesting for your readers to consider a letter copied below, which has been presumably sent out broadcast by one of the trust companies of New York City:

New York, May —, 1903.

Dear Sir: As a number of banks in your State have found it profitable to keep accounts with us, we believe it will be mutually advantageous to tell you what we are doing for them.

On large inactive balances for reserve or investment requirements we allow them interest at 3 per cent.; on their active New York accounts we credit a 2½ per cent. interest on daily balances of $1,000 or over. We credit upon receipt and collect free of exchange their checks on all points throughout the East and South, and we can do the same for you, provided you keep an adequate balance.

We will execute your orders for the purchase or sale of securities, and take your securities for safekeeping. If desired we will loan money for your account on call or time, taking charge of all details of placing the same and watching the security. Our trust department is in a position to furnish information in regard to business undertakings and can be of considerable service to you and your depositors.

Your attention is directed to the clause on the third page of the inclosed circular regarding the absolute security assured depositors. The banking law of New York State, under which we are organized, provides every safeguard for the protection of depositors, and we are under the constant surveillance of the State Superintendent of Banks.

* * * * * * *

Will you not follow the example of your neighbors and let us handle your Eastern business? We offer a much wider range of services than a bank, and feel confident that you will be more than satisfied with our treatment of you.

You will note the above letter promises to do almost everything for its correspondents, and this should convince your readers of the necessity for a conservative reserve being kept by all institutions chartered to receive deposits from the public.

New York, May 25, 1903. VERITAS.

SEVERE TASK AT NIGHT SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The excellent opportunities afforded by the Board of Education through the Evening High Schools of this city to those who desire after business hours to complete limited educations or prepare themselves for entirely new work, is thoroughly appreciated by the students in those institutions, although statistics may give the contrary impression. This is particularly true of the students in the Harlem Evening High School for Women. The course at that school has been lengthened, however, and a higher standard of work expected from the students there, and, although they are well aware of the great advantages they will derive from this new system, many of them, nevertheless, feel that they cannot stand the strain of working all day and attending school for five nights every week. Would it not therefore be wise for the students in such schools to petition the Board of Education to extend the term of 120 nights so that it will end in the month of May, limiting the class nights in the future to three a week?

This would give them the necessary time to attend to church work, home and social duties, all of which have been sacrificed for the past three Winters, as Saturday had to be given to the care of their wardrobes, it being necessary for many of them to make their own clothes as well as go to business.

I take this method of suggesting what I know many of these students would welcome heartily, because I know how willing your paper is to publish anything which will tend to raise the mental, and also the moral, tone, in many cases, of the lives of our citizens. A STUDENT.

New York City, May 25, 1903.

FOR THE SAKE OF HER LITTLE ONES.

S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.

"Ah, yes, they need a father,"
The pretty widow said;
She looked down at her children,
And sadly shook her head.

She stood before the altar,
And when she turned away
Her children had a father;
Ah, happy, happy day!

Oh, he is tall and handsome,
And she still young and fair;
Her children are at grandma's,
They've gone to settle there.

CHAPTER II.

THE DUTCH WEST INDIA COMPANY.

NEW NETHERLAND was the name given by the Dutch—whose own country was called the Netherlands, or Low Countries—to the region about the river that Hudson had found. The first official record of that name is in a trading license granted by the States General of Holland—a governing body corresponding in a way with our Congress—to certain Dutch merchants in the year 1614; and the name also appears on a queer old map that was made in the same year.

After the fur trade fairly was opened, the affairs of the little colony—that consisted only of the trading post on our island and of a few other trading posts in the back country—were managed for a time by an association of merchants known as the New Netherland Company. Then, on the 3d of June, in the year 1622, the great Dutch West India Company was chartered by the States General; and among the many rights granted to that company were the rights to own, to govern, and exclusively to trade with, New Netherland. That was a very unfortunate arrangement for the little colony, as the government that the company gave it was bad from first to last. In order to understand why that government was bad it is necessary to know a part of the company's history.

The West India Company was a stock company organized by merchants, but it was created less to carry on peaceful trade than to make war against Spain. For many years the Spaniards had oppressed cruelly the inhabitants of the Netherlands, and the desire in Holland and in Belgium to fight Spain and to thrash her was very strong. Mr. Motley has told the story of that famous struggle between the little power and the big power in his history of "The Rise of the Dutch Republic," and a better story of brave fighting for noble principles never has been put into words.

In the very year that Hudson came into our harbor in the Half Moon, the year 1609, the Dutch had signed with Spain a twelve years' truce. They wanted time to pull themselves together, because most of them meant to go on with the fighting when the truce came to an end. But some of them were willing to submit to Spanish rule and did not want to fight; and between the war party and the peace party there was a conflict through all the time that those early Dutch ships were coming here for furs. The conflict ended in the year 1621, when the twelve years' truce expired; and it ended in the war party getting its way.

The most persistent worker on the war side was the founder of the West India Company, Willem Usselincx—who was one of the many Belgians driven by Spanish persecution to take refuge in Holland. Before the troubles began, he had been a merchant in Antwerp and had traded to the Spanish colonies. From what he had seen in the course of his voyages he believed that those colonies—from which Spain drew the greater part of her revenue—were so ill-defended that they could be captured easily; and he also believed that even a small force of ships, with good fighters on board of them, could capture some of the treasure fleets which in those days were sent homeward from the colonies to Spain. His plan, therefore, was to organize a stock company which should fit out a strong naval force; and with that naval force should take possession of so much Spanish wealth that the power of Spain would be broken and the Netherlands would be free. That was a patriotic project—but there was another side to it that was not patriotic. One of the strong inducements which Usselincx offered to make people buy stock in his company was that very big dividends would be paid when the Spanish cities in America had been captured and when the Spanish treasure ships had been brought home. The bad ending of the West India Company was due directly to that mixing of patriotism and money-making. Such an attempt to blend the highest and purest motive for human action with the lowest and impurest motive for human action was bound to come, as it did come, to a miserable end. We have a direct interest in that ancient matter. Because the West India Company was organized on sordid lines, our city was started badly and was badly ruled.

Usselincx carried through his project, and for a time the West India Company was splendidly successful. Rich conquests were made in America; and still more magnificent winnings came with the capture by Admiral Peter Heyn of the Spanish silver fleet—laden with so much treasure that, to quote the company's own report of the matter, "never did any fleet bring to this or to any other country so great a prize." That big assertion was justified by the facts. The lowest estimate of the treasure in the seventeen galleons brought safe home to Holland was twelve millions of guilders—and that is not far from being equivalent in value to twelve millions of our dollars of to-day. But the men who won that great treasure were not the better for it. They were the worse for it. Getting it so turned their heads that they took no further interest in small matters, and either neglected or mismanaged their ordinary affairs. For the most part they did both. Our little colony—which was of such small importance that the name of New Netherland does not appear in the West India Company's charter—only came in for its share in the general misrule: that extended to the other colonies, in Africa, in the West Indies, and in the Brazils.

In the end, getting precisely what it deserved to get, the West India Company came to miserable ruin. One after another its valuable possessions were lost to it through its own weakness and incapacity; and all that now remains in Dutch hands of the principality that it founded are the little islands of St. Eustatius and Curacoa in the West Indies, and the scrap of territory in South America known as Dutch Guiana or Surinam. This last has a peculiar interest for us. When the war between England and Holland was ended—an account of that war will come later—a treaty was signed in the year 1667 that is known as the Treaty of Breda; and by the terms of that agreement the Dutch were permitted to keep Surinam, in return for permitting the English to keep what then was called New Netherland—and what thereafter was called New York.

The victories won by the West India Company did have much to do with breaking the power of Spain and winning the independence of the Netherlands; but it mixed its patriotism with its desire for money-making, and so lost the glory that it otherwise would have earned. Its part in that splendid war was the part that a sailor on board a ship in a storm would take should he refuse to help in saving the ship unless he got extra pay.

In the government of its colonies the company showed precisely the same selfishness and the same greed that it showed in the war. All that it cared for was to make money out of them; not a particle did it ever manifest of the patriotism that would have developed and strengthened them—and so added to the strength of Holland—by giving them capable rulers and liberal laws. A good government must have much the same qualities that a good man must have. It must be honest, it must be just, it must care for the welfare of those dependent upon it, it must protect the weak from the oppression of the strong. The West India Company had not one of those good qualities—and that was why our city and our colony were governed so badly in their early years.

As human nature has not changed much since those days, it is only by fighting all the time for it that we can save our city and our State from having just as bad a government even now.

THOMAS A. JANVIER.

MR. JANVIER'S THIRD ARTICLE.

Mr. Janvier's third article, which will appear to-morrow, will be entitled "The Dutch Rule of New Netherland." It will tell how the officials of the West India Company, being employed by a corporation without moral principles, governed the colony of New Netherland harshly and unjustly, and so developed among the colonists discontent and disloyalty.

CITY HISTORY COMPETITION.

Information for Teachers and Pupils of the Public Schools.

The seven articles of Mr. Janvier, the second of which appears to-day, are to be made the basis of a City History Competition, to be conducted under the auspices of THE NEW YORK TIMES, for the pupils of the Public Schools. For the guidance of teachers, the following information is given as to the conditions of the contest:

There will be distributed $1,700 in cash prizes and 1,000 Tiffany medals. The prizes to pupils will be:

$500—Fifty prizes of ten dollars ($10) each for the best essays submitted by the pupils of the High Schools of the Public Schools of New York City. These prizes will be divided as follows: For students in the first year's course, twenty (20) prizes; for students in the second year's course, fifteen (15) prizes; for students in the third year's course, ten (10) prizes; for students in the fourth year's course, five (5) prizes.

$500—Fifty prizes of ten dollars ($10) each for the best essays submitted by the pupils of the four upper grades of the Elementary Schools. These prizes will be divided as follows: For the lowest grade of the four upper grades, twenty (20) prizes; for the next highest grade, fifteen (15) prizes; for the second highest grade, ten (10) prizes, and for the highest grade, five (5) prizes.

1,000—One thousand souvenir merit medals made by Tiffany & Co., to be distributed as follows: One to the writer of the essay chosen by the teacher of the class of the writer as the best of twenty submitted from the class. No medal award will be made for an essay unless it is designated by the teacher as the best of twenty submitted by the class, but the teacher is allowed to designate for a medal award two essays for each twenty submitted from the class. If forty essays are submitted by any one class the teacher can designate four of them for medal awards. If more than 1,000 essays are sent in for medal awards under the conditions described the award of the medals will be made upon the basis of comparative merit, the best 1,000 being selected.

The prizes to teachers will be:

$500—One hundred prizes of five dollars ($5) each will be awarded to the teachers of the pupils winning ten-dollar ($10) prizes.

$100—A prize of twenty dollars ($20) additional will be given to each of the five teachers of English in the High Schools whose pupil, in the judgment of the Committee of Award, submits one of the best five essays.

$100—A prize of twenty dollars ($20) additional will be given to each of the five teachers in the four upper grades of the Elementary Schools whose pupil, in the judgment of the Committee of Award, submits one of the best five essays.

1,000—To each teacher having a medal pupil THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS will be sent for one year. The subscription may be transferred if the teacher desires.

The school prizes will be:

To the school of each of the five boroughs of Greater New York whose pupils win the largest number of prizes a parchment testimonial will be sent as a souvenir of the contest; framed for exhibition in the schools.

For the money prizes there is no stipulation as to the number of essays which must be submitted to the teacher from each class, but in order that either of the best two essays sent in from any class may receive consideration for a medal award it is necessary that the teacher sending them in should specify that they are the best two of twenty essays submitted by the members of the class.

It is only the best two essays from each class which will be considered by the Committee on Award for money prizes, and only the best two essays from each twenty members of a teacher's class, which will be considered for medal awards. The teacher is therefore expected to send in the best two essays from his or her class in English and no more, unless forty essays should be submitted by the class, in which case four essays can be sent in. In case the essays of the class number not less than twenty, the teacher should designate the two essays sent to THE TIMES as No. 1 and No. 2, to indicate the teacher's judgment on their comparative degree of merit. This designation is intended to govern the medal award.

Any essays, to be considered, must come through a teacher of the public schools.

The teacher should not correct any of the essays submitted.

Pupils should be instructed to write only on one side of the paper.

The essays may be written either in the class room or at home, but the teacher is expected to reject from his or her consideration any essay which the teacher is not convinced was both composed and written by the pupil presenting it. The teacher's signature to the essay will be regarded by the Committee on Award as a certificate of the essay's genuineness in all particulars.

All manuscripts must be sent in by June 8. No manuscript received after that date or before June 1 can be considered. Address NEW YORK CITY HISTORY COMPETITION, NEW YORK TIMES, NEW YORK CITY.

In awarding the prizes the following points will be considered in their respective order: 1—Neatness; 2—Penmanship; 3—Grammar; 4—Best summary of Mr. Janvier's articles.

Penmanship does not mean typewriting. No typewritten essays can be considered.

The length of an essay is limited to 500 words.

What is meant by "best summary of Mr. Janvier's articles" is this: The essay should give the impression left on the mind of the pupil by all seven of Mr. Janvier's articles; that is to say, the pupil should take such facts from Mr. Janvier's articles which he or she considers the most important or striking and put them in connected form in the pupil's own language, with or without comment, as may seem fitting to the writer.

All essays which it is desired to have considered in the competition should be addressed by the teacher to "The New York City History Competition, THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York City."

Each essay sent in should be accompanied by the following certificate from the teacher:

ESSAY CERTIFICATE.

Name of writer,
Address of writer,
Name of school,
Grade,
Name of teacher,
Address of teacher,

The awards will be made before the close of the schools, and it is hoped that the successful essays may be read by their authors on a day to be agreed on. The full list of those awarded money prizes and medals will appear in THE NEW YORK TIMES, and the best ten essays will be published.

INDORSEMENTS OF THE CONTEST.

MAYOR LOW—I think THE NEW YORK TIMES's City History Competition plan is excellent, and you can say for me that it has my hearty indorsement. I sincerely hope that the teachers and pupils of our public schools will take an interest in the competition, for I feel that out of it will come a greater admiration and affection for our city, of which we have so much reason to feel proud.

W. H. MAXWELL, City Superintendent of Schools—I have heard with great interest and satisfaction of THE NEW YORK TIMES's intention to offer a large number of prizes for essays written by students of the public High Schools and the last two years of the Elementary Schools on subjects connected with the history of the city. * * * I sincerely hope that students from all our Grammar and High Schools will enter this competition, as it cannot fail to excite the liveliest interest in the history and the welfare of our city, and I should be pleased to see the Principals of all High Schools and Grammar Schools comply with the request of THE TIMES to bring this matter to the attention of both teachers and children. In conclusion, permit me to thank you for your munificent offer, which will result, I have no doubt, in promoting the desire, so well expressed by the Mayor, "That the children of the city may have a realizing sense of the long history of New York and be filled with the public-spirited desire to be worthy citizens of such a city."

HENRY A. ROGERS, President of the Board of Education—I note with great interest your [THE NEW YORK TIMES's] generous offer to the public school teachers and children of this city. You are certainly to be commended for awakening a civic interest just at this auspicious time, when we are about to celebrate the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of our municipal life. I heartily indorse all the good things that are said by Dr. Maxwell, and trust that your efforts in the line directed may be in every way successful.

CHARLES R. SKINNER, State Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction—The enterprise inaugurated by THE NEW YORK TIMES is certainly one to be commended, as there is no school work in which better results can be secured than in the critical study of local history, leading the pupil as it does to a broader comprehension of history as a whole, and to a better understanding of those relations of cause and effect which underlie an intelligent study of any history. The effect of the competition can only be beneficial, and I shall watch the results with the keenest interest.

START OF ARCTIC EXPEDITIONS.

The party which is to join the Ziegler arctic expedition will sail from Hoboken to-morrow on the Hellig Olav, under the command of William J. Peters of the National Geographical Society.

The party will include Dr. George Shorkley of Camden, Me., Chief Surgeon; Dr. Charles L. Seitz of Evansville, Ind., and Dr. J. Colin Vaughan of Newark, N. J., Assistant Surgeons; R. R. Tafel of Philadelphia, assistant in scientific department; Francis Long of Brooklyn, meteorologist; H. H. Newcomb of Bridgeport, Conn., veterinarian; Sergt. Nichols, Second United States Cavalry; Charles E. Rilliet of St. Louis, Quartermaster and in charge of sledge equipments; John Vadol of Everett, Mass., Assistant Quartermaster, and Spencer W. Stewart of Brooklyn, assistant steward.

The party will join the America at Tromsoe, and the expedition will leave that port for Archangel and Franz Josef Land about July 1. It will winter in Franz Josef Land, and make the dash for the pole, if all goes well, in the Spring of 1904.

A luncheon will be given to the members of the party at 1 o'clock to-morrow at the Lawyers' Club.

THE YIDDISH SHYLOCK

Jacob Adler and the Augustin Daly Production.

An Interesting Performance at the American Before a Large and Enthusiastic House.

Jacob Adler, who has for many years been known as the great Yiddish tragedian of the Bowery, appeared as Shylock last night at the American Theatre, speaking his part in Yiddish, with an English-speaking support, and the magnificent production used four years ago by the late Augustin Daly. The spacious auditorium was so crowded with his friends, and others who were attracted by his fame, that the reference on the programme to the ordinance against standees seemed a hollow mockery. He received an enthusiastic welcome, and was followed breathlessly to the end. If he failed to command a place among the greatest interpreters of the part, this was largely, no doubt, due to the fact that to make Shylock fully sympathetic to a Jewish audience is virtually impossible.

There are, roughly speaking, two views of the character. To those who have studied the esthetic environment of the Elizabethan theatre and the traditional treatment of the Jew on the Shakespearean stage, there is little doubt that Shylock was acted essentially as a comic grotesque—a man hated and baited after the manner of Marlowe's Jew of Malta (who, indeed, seems to have served as a prototype) and in the end brought to a cruel defeat—enlivened by such exultation, even laughter, as was natural to a Jew hating people whose national amusement was bear baiting.

This mediaeval conception of the Jew was Shakespeare's point of departure in creating Shylock; but it was only that. He overlaid the rough ground plan with a character so truly and sympathetically rendered that one sees Shylock, as it were, in the full round of life. To those inclined to sympathize with the downtrodden, it thus became possible to conceive of him in a radically different light—to make of him a sort of hero of his race, a demigod whose very sins were to be pitied, not hated, and whose fate was to be viewed as the tragedy of a great race. Such are the revenges brought about by the whirligig of time in this matter of Shakespearean interpretations!

To Adler, as to all other modern actors, the Elizabethan Shylock is of course out of the question; and to him more than to another it is needful to represent the Jew in his most sympathetic and most exalted light. But in order to do this it is necessary to ennoble in the acting such passages as tend to buffoon his character, and, if they cannot be ennobled, to cut them.

Adler failed, in so far as he did fail, because his artistic good sense impelled him to give, on the whole, a simple, unaffected, and naturalistic rendering of the part, to eschew the Hebrew prophet of modern sentimentality, and to stick to the Shylock of Shakespeare—and of the Ghetto. He thus fell, as it were, between two stools.

The audience laughed heartily at national traits and applauded Shylock's outbursts of indignation against the Christians; but it failed to be swayed with full dramatic force for the simple reason that it was both repelled and mystified.

In attitude and demeanor he was the Jewish money lender—dignified, but in a manner that was matter-of-fact and unimaginative. The grim austerity of Irving and the malignancy of Mansfield were alike absent. It was probably because of this lack of spiritual exaltation in the character, rather than because of any studied design, that so many of his lines raised a laugh. The laughs are in the lines right enough, and no doubt were welcomed by Shakespeare's company; but they are well night fatal to any interpretation of the part which can sway the deeper emotions of Mr. Adler's audience.

It was for a similar reason that the lines went for so little in which Shylock is reminded alternately of his own losses and Antonio's disasters. It bears every evidence of being a bravura passage, and it is usually played as such. Mansfield reveled in the quick transitions from the heights of exultation to the abyss of chagrin; and if Irving did not do so, it was seemingly because he lacked the physical and the temperamental force.

Mr. Adler has the requisite abilities, as those who have been familiar with his work at the Windsor and the People's Theatres are abundantly aware; but he failed of full effect in the passage, as it seemed, because he feared to overstep the bounds of what is realistically possible. Whatever dignity he achieved by his sober reading came at the cost of a strong theatric effect.

"JOHN HENRY," FARCE.

Dan Daly and His Supporters Have the House with Them at the Herald Square Theatre.

"John Henry," produced last night at the Herald Square Theatre, is a jolly good hearty farce in slang. The action is cyclonic and the lines telling. A farce is designed to make people laugh. Last night the people who watched the John Henry family and listened to them laughed most of the time. And when they were not laughing they were applauding. When Dan Daly, as John Henry, first appeared in the "Office of the Hotel Gotham" the applause began. Then Mr. Daly spoke the language of the turf.

Later, at Dove's Nest villa, where a party of what he called "show girls" were making ready the house for the bride that was to be his, he talked several other kinds of slang. On this occasion he wore a high hat. The final scene was a railway station, and there he wore a station man's cap and coat, and told his fortune with a bunch of baggage checks.

It is impossible to tell the plot of a farce and not spoil it, but in this farce the fun and the trouble grow out of the fact that two impetuous uncles, each of whom thinks his charmingest niece is engaged to John Henry, insist on furnishing (in baby blue and red respectively) a house (Dove's Nest Villa,) which each supposes to be the property of John Henry, but which actually belongs to a voluble Italian Contessa with a stiletto. Elouina Oldcastle plays the Contessa. Naturally each impetuous uncle is ignorant of the intentions of the other. Naturally the Contessa doesn't understand about either. Equally naturally John Henry and his friend Bunch Jefferson (George Backus) have their hands full—especially as one uncle brings down all the lovely girls, the members of his niece's Luncheon Club, to assist in the work.

Florence Rockwell, one niece, wears white and a red rose, and John calls her "Peaches." Julie Herne, the other niece, wears a very red frock and a very red hat, looks pretty, and acts well. Miss Rockwell, too, is exceedingly good where she slips up behind John "on rubber shoes" and gives him a kiss "for the house." J. C. Marlowe and R. C. Hern are the impetuous uncles, and very choleric old gentlemen they are.

At the end of the second act—a wonderfully effective composite burglary scene illuminated in sections, with charming glimpses of nightrobes at windows—the applause was so insistent that Mr. Daly, wearing the upper part of a suit of pink-striped pajamas, dragged on George V. Hobart, who with Edward E. Rose is the author of the piece.

Mr. Hobart escaped to the wings without making a speech, and Mr. Daly leaned against the doorpost and said: "Nobody would face what they had done except the actor."

"THE WOOD WITCH."

A New Comic Opera by Mildenburg and Holcomb at the Carnegie Lyceum.

A late comer in the field of comic opera made its appearance last evening at Carnegie Lyceum. It is entitled "The Wood Witch"; the music is by Albert Mildenburg, a New York musician, and the book by Willard Holcomb. The story is romantic in its character, dealing with the adventures of a band of gypsies and of Ferdinand, Duke of Malaga, and his Spanish adherents. He has inherited from an ancestor a famous diamond that was taken from the tribe, the possession of which brings riches and success till it is lost. The gypsies are, of course, endeavoring to regain possession of it, and, equally of course, the Duke falls in love with their beautiful queen, La Peregrine. The complications that ensue are of the sort that have for years made plain the way of the operatic librettist. Both Mr. Mildenburg and Mr. Holcomb have utilized them with results that are pleasing, but cannot be said to possess much originality, either in music or in action. It is a satisfaction, however, to recognize that they have endeavored to produce something that can really be called a comic opera with a real backbone and a real consistency of structure and a romantic plot.

Mr. Mildenburg's music is tuneful and rhythmical. It may be that he has sought the same fount of inspiration from which Mr. Kerker and Mr. Englander have drawn so copiously, and sometimes his melodies and their treatment bring up memories from the Broadway district further down town; but he has written them well and generally manages to make them melodious and "catchy." Some of the concerted pieces are uncommonly good, and the finale of the first act is not without brilliancy and sonority. A striking feature is the introduction of a Hungarian csardas, danced by Imre Loranth and Rosso Gisella with the true Hungarian dash. Helena Frederick, the heroine, La Peregrine, sings with good voice and intelligence, but she still lacks facility and address in her stage presence and action. Henry Leone as Altio, her brother gypsy, is imposing in appearance; Lewis McCord furnishes an element of comedy after the manner of the operatic comedian, in the part of Don Sylva, chief inquisitor. Mr. Vernon Stiles enacts the part of the Duke with a good stage presence and a romantic and picturesque style.

The opera was heard last night by a very friendly audience of considerable size. Its performance went well under the direction of Mr. Mildenburg, who exercised the usual first-night liberality in the matter of repeating numbers that took the fancy of the audience—sometimes, as it seemed, unnecessary liberality. The stage of the Carnegie Lyceum is very small, and the production was rather cramped in consequence. "The Wood Witch" will be repeated to-night and on Wednesday evening.

TO PRODUCE IRISH PLAYS.

Works of W. B. Yeats Will Be Played at Carnegie Lyceum.

The recently organized Irish Literary Society of New York will produce with a professional cast at Carnegie Lyceum June 3 and 4 three Irish plays by W. B. Yeats, the Irish poet. The three plays are "The Land of the Heart's Desire," "The Pot of Broth," and "Cathleen-ni-Hoolihan."

The first of these was given at Wallack's two years ago with Mabel Taliaferro as the fairy child. She will appear in this revival. Others will be Mrs. Mary E. Barker, who was seen with Dion Boucicault in his Irish dramas; Nora O'Brien, Dorothy Donnelly, Frank McCormack, W. P. Kitts, and Moira L. Roy. The second play is humorous and treats of a beggar persuading a stingy housewife to feed him. The third one is serious, telling of the bewitching of a young man on the eve of his wedding by Cathleen-ni-Hoolihan, the spirit of Ireland, and his leaving his bride-to-be to fight and die for his country on the morrow. Henry F. Gilbert, the Boston composer, will conduct the incidental music of the plays, and give for the first time his overture founded on Sir Samuel Ferguson's "Lament of Diedre."

RANCHMAN COURTS ACTRESS.

Wants Miss Sydmeth to Go to His Western Home.

The domestic affairs of Aunt Jane, played by Louise Sydmeth at the Manhattan in the "Earl of Pawtucket" company, have taken a crucial turn entirely unlooked for by Augustus Thomas, the author, for recently she received a second proposal for marriage.

The proposal came by letter last week. Its writer states in it that he is in need of a wife of great strength of character to help him run a Western ranch, and, hearing that Miss Sydmeth preserved in private life the great strength of character of her part in the play, he took the liberty to apply. While Miss Sydmeth admits having since met the man in question, she modestly refuses to say what reply she will make to him. As three other women have already been taken from this company because of similar proposals, it is thought she may follow suit.

"The All Star 'Romeo and Juliet.'"

Last night at the Knickerbocker the "all-star" cast of "Romeo and Juliet" opened for an engagement of one week only. The cast includes Kyrle Bellew as Romeo, Eleanor Robson as Juliet, Edwin Arden as Paris, George Clarke as Old Capulet, Eben Plympton as Mercutio, John E. Kellard as Tybalt, W. H. Thompson as Friar Laurence, and others of almost equal prominence. The performance will be noticed at greater length to-morrow.

Fireworks at Manhattan Beach.

The Pain Pyrotechnic Company is to open its twenty-fifth season at Manhattan Beach on June 24. "Last Days of Pompeii" will go on for the Summer. New York has not seen this show since 1889. It has been rebuilt on a more extensive scale.

Trained Animals for Luna Park.

Messrs. Thompson and Dundy, managers of Luna Park, at Coney Island, yesterday signed a contract with the management of the Carl Hagenback Animal Show, by which he becomes the lessee for the show as it is to be presented at the St. Louis Exposition next year.

NEW MAGISTRATES NAMED.

Mayor Low surprised and disappointed many politicians yesterday by the announcement of his appointments of City Magistrates. There were more than fifty applicants from various sections of the city. The Mayor decided finally to settle the problem by having City Magistrates Robert C. Cornell, who had two years to serve on his last appointment, and Magistrate Peter T. Barlow, who had four years to serve, resign and then appoint these two Magistrates to new terms of ten years each. Then Mayor Low filled the vacancies for the unexpired terms of the Magistrates by the appointment of two applicants.

Seward Baker of Westchester County, a lawyer who was formerly a member of the Republican County Committee, was appointed for four years, to fill the unexpired term of Magistrate Barlow.

Alfred E. Ommen, a lawyer who has been active in politics on the east side, and who was for some time employed in the Custom House, was appointed for the two-year term left vacant by the resignation of Magistrate Cornell. Police Commissioner Greene and F. Norton Goddard supported Mr. Ommen, and Magistrate Baker had the indorsement of the Republican organization of the Bronx.

TO SAFEGUARD BAIL BONDS.

The Board of Magistrates of the City of New York held their monthly meeting in the West Side Police Court building last evening. During the session a letter was read from District Attorney Jerome urging the Magistrates to be very careful in granting bail bonds, as he said several bonds had recently proved worthless when they were forfeited. After the letter was read a resolution was adopted to the effect that each bond hereafter shall be signed by the defendant's attorney, who shall certify that he knows the bondsman is the owner of the property offered as security.

In executive session Gen. Greene's recent criticism of the Magistrates was one of the topics discussed. A committee of three under the Chairmanship of Magistrate Deuel was appointed with power to act for the board in regard to the criticism. The committee is to meet in a few days.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

There is a fortnight more of coaching, and the Pioneer is chartered by a party for each day of the time. Reginald Rives and Alfred Vanderbilt, as usual, take turns in driving, but on Wednesday, when James H. Hyde will give a party, he will tool the coach himself. W. B. Coster took out a party yesterday, and among his guests were Mr. and Mrs. Egmont Schermerhorn, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Valentine, Mrs. Hall, Miss Georgiana Wilmerding, H. Gregory, Courtlandt Van Rensselaer, and George P. Merservy. To-day Harry Payne Whitney will have the Pioneer. C. J. Kilburne will have it on Thursday and Seymour Cromwell on Saturday.

***

The polo matches at Meadow Brook began yesterday. Many of the house parties there will continue during the week. The trial race to-day will bring out the yacht lovers, and, as usual, the New York Yacht Club will have a steamboat chartered for its guests.

***

William K. Vanderbilt has purchased a splendid hotel on the Rue Leonardo de Vinci, in Paris, overlooking the Bois de Boulogne. He and Mrs. Vanderbilt, who have been at Poissy, their country place, are busy furnishing it, and the decorators and workmen are putting it in order for the early Autumn. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt will make their home in Paris. The yacht Valiant is at Havre, ready for a cruise. The Duchess of Marlborough has been in Paris this week visiting her father and stepmother.

***

Mrs. Ogden Goelet and Miss May Goelet are to sail shortly for this country. They will spend the Summer at Newport. There are rumors that a very interesting announcement will be made on their arrival.

***

Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly have had a house party during the past week at their country seat, near Madison, N. J. Among their guests have been Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, Sr., who are to sail for Europe soon.

***

Arthur T. Kemp is to sell his horses and carriages to-morrow afternoon. He has chartered the yacht Sea Fox from Anson Phelps Stokes, and will cruise this Summer and go abroad afterward.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Jr., are booked to sail to-day on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. for Bremen. Others on the list are the Earl of Kintore and Lady Kintore, Charles D. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Untermyer, Mr. and Mrs. Rathbone Bacon, Walter Phelps Dodge, Mrs. Eugene Delano, Col. Henry May, Mrs. May, Gerald Decourcy May, Mrs. Trenor L. Park, Miss Park, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Elkins, Jr., Prince Poniatowski, and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Duryea.

***

James T. Woodward of this city, who has a beautiful country seat in Maryland, has been giving a coaching party through Anne Arundel and Prince George Counties, in that State, covering more than sixty miles in two days. The party included Gen. John Gill of Baltimore, Miss Julia Thompson of Texas, and William Woodward of this city.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Italian Ambassador and Mme. Mayor des Planches entertained at a reception this evening, preceded by a dinner in honor of Count and Countess Giuseppe Della Gherardesca, the latter formerly Miss Harriet Taylor of New York, whose marriage to Count Gherardesca took place in that city last Wednesday. The dinner company included the entire embassy staff, together with the Countess Alberto Gherardesca, the mother of the bridegroom; Prince Dentice di Frasso, and the Marquis Massirouti, all of whom came from Italy to attend the wedding; the Russian Ambassador and Countess Marguerite Cassini, the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, the Belgian Minister, Baron Moncheur; the Swiss Minister, M. Du Martheray; the First Secretary of the French Embassy, M. de Margerie.

At the reception, which lasted from 10 o'clock until midnight, the Count and Countess received with the Ambassador and Mme. des Planches in the ballroom, where some 200 guests came to offer their congratulations to the popular young attaché and extend a cordial welcome to his bride, who will return to America in the Autumn.

To meet Count Gherardesca and his bride in addition to the guests at dinner were Lady Herbert, the Mexican Ambassador and Mme. Azpiroz, the German Minister and Baroness von Sternburg, the Minister from Norway and Sweden, the Minister from Japan and Mme. Takahira, Count Hoyos of the Austria-Hungarian Embassy, Postmaster General and Mrs. Payne, the Attorney General and Mrs. Knox, the Secretary of Agriculture and Miss Wilson, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Justice and Mrs. McKenna, Justice Brown, Gen. and Mrs. Miles, Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, and Col. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards.

The Minister from Argentine and Mme. Garcia Merou entertained at dinner this evening at their legation in celebration of the anniversary of their nation's declaration of independence, May 25 being to the Argentine what July 14 is to France and almost as important as our own Fourth of July.

Invited to join this holiday dinner company were the Mexican Ambassador and Mme. Azpiroz, the Peruvian Minister and Mme. Calderon, the Spanish Minister, the Chilean Minister, the Secretary of the Peruvian Legation and Mme. Pezet, the Secretary of the Chilean Legation and Mme. Gana, Mr. de Lima of the Brazilian Legation, and the Misses Calderon, daughters of the Peruvian Minister, all of whom went later to the Italian Embassy.

THE NEWS OF NEWPORT.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25.—James J. Van Alen returned to Newport to-day from a trip around the world.

Major Charles Hall of the British Army has rented the Joseph F. Stone cottage, on Bellevue Avenue, for the Summer. Major Hall recently married Mrs. C. Albert Stevens, formerly Miss May Brady.

The Hon. E. O. Wolcott, ex-United States Senator from Colorado has rented Pinard Cottage No. 1 for the season.

Mrs. H. A. Johnson and Miss Fanny Johnson arrived to-day at their cottage, on Gibbs Avenue, for the season.

Mrs. Edward King is expected at her cottage to-morrow.

Mrs. C. W. Jungen is the guest of Gordon McKay.

Marion R. Wright of Philadelphia has taken apartments at the Berkeley.

H. A. C. Taylor sailed to-day on the steam yacht Wanderer for New York.

The Hon. George L. Rives arrived from New York this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Collord (formerly Mrs. J. M. Fiske) will arrive Wednesday at their cottage, at Ochre Point.

Mrs. O. H. Jennings is also expected at her cottage, on Bellevue Avenue, Wednesday.

The John W. Ellis villa is being prepared for Mrs. R. H. Townsend, who is expected here from Washington June 1.

Robert Sedgwick arrived to-day at his cottage, on Leroy Avenue, for the season.

Church Gives Retiring Priest $1,500.

As a testimonial to his many years of labor as assistant pastor of the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle, in West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, and in honor of his birthday the societies and members of the church presented to the Rev. Father Thomas R. Halpin last night a morocco pocketbook containing a certified check for $1,500. Father Halpin was recently appointed to the charge of the parishes of St. John the Evangelist at Clove and St. Patrick at Quarryville, Ulster County, N. Y.

Chancellor MacCracken's Son Ill.

Chancellor MacCracken was advised yesterday by cable dispatch from Beyroot, Syria, that his youngest son, Henry Noble MacCracken, an instructor for three years past in the Protestant College in that city, had been prostrated with typhoid fever, and Chancellor and Mrs. MacCracken will sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm, hoping to reach Beyroot by the middle of June. Dr. George Alexander, Vice President of the University Council, has been asked to preside at the commencement.

Minister's Crusade in Manhattan.

It was learned yesterday that the Rev. Cortlandt Myers, whose activity in ferreting out gambling houses and poolrooms in Brooklyn, caused trouble for Capt. Samuel Hardy and other police officials of that borough, has extended his work to Manhattan. Police Commissioner Greene yesterday admitted that the clergyman had informed the Headquarters officials of the whereabouts of three poolrooms in lower Sixth Avenue. Gen. Greene said that he was glad of this information. The information concerning these resorts reached Headquarters in a letter from John B. Walker, counsel for Mr. Myers.

IN THE SHOPS.

They have sold out most of them or they would not have put the special price of 25 cents on them. They are sunbonnets. For just the right girls they are delightful, but there is a limited assortment of colors just now. There are several deep plain red ones, and a few all black—think how pretty a pretty young girl would look in a black one! There is or was at least one dark navy blue one, and more of checked gingham than any other kind. These last make a pretty girl look truly rural. A pretty girl looks pretty in anything, of course, and she can't make a mistake in buying any of these bonnets. Lots of them have been sold already for golf, and there will be more when these are gone, but possibly not at the price. One does not have to be young or play golf to wear a sunbonnet, though, for they are becoming to the gray-haired matron.

There are the prettiest little pajamas exhibited on a small wax figure with long blonde curls in one of the up-town shops. They are white, made of a thin but strong material, with fine cords running two ways through so as to form small checks. There are the usual trousers and coat, the latter with white frogs. The suit is only 75 cents, which is reasonable enough. It is for a small child of six or eight years.

Every woman who is going out of town for the Summer to keep house in any kind of country style should have a Rebecca teapot. Perhaps most women are familiar with them, but certainly all are not. They are the old-time brown teapots with a scene, Rebecca at the well, in the same brown glaze, the figures in bas relief. They come in different sizes—17 cents for the smallest seen and probably the smallest made holding perhaps four cups of tea. From this they range up in size in big jumps, the price rising with them, but not proportionally. Next to the smallest is the one for 23 cents, then 30, then 39—the last a bouncer, on which Rebecca and the well and a tall palm tree stand out in fine relief.

After the teapot the country housekeeper certainly should buy a gray and blue butter crock. These vary in general appearance, and there is a decided choice in them. Perhaps if they are to be used for their legitimate purpose the detail of their make does not make much difference, but still they are most attractive. They are low and round like nice little half-crocks, the gray stoneware being the foundation, and upon this, around the sides, a hunting scene in blue and a number of deer scattered over the top of the cover. They cost 42, 47, and 63 cents, according to size.

***

There are other crocks of a different style and shape, higher in proportion to their diameter, of yellow, with lines of brown and white running around them. They are delightfully old-fashioned and glazed, just the kind one sees in farmhouse pantries, and cost about the same as the others.

***

In the gray stoneware, with scenes in blue, are pitchers which cost 50 and 60 cents. Some of these have on them what look like Court figures, and consequently are not as satisfactory, but the best ones have rural scenes around the lower part and are everything that could be desired.

***

Not picturesque, but useful and convenient, are soap dishes to hang on the wall. These are of china, some in white and gilt, others in blue and white, the latter a little more expensive. There is the china back, with a small hole in the top to put the nail through, and below, projecting, is the soap dish of the regular kind. Above this, projecting a little from the back, is a notched ridge of the china for holding tooth and nail brushes.

***

***

In speaking of blue and white pottery, the bean pot should not be omitted. These are in the same material, perhaps not quite as fine, gray with raised designs in blue, children, and all sorts of scenes, attractive though not very artistic. The beans are served in them on the table.

***

A cheap towel roller for the kitchen can be had in stained oak for 18 cents.

***

There are nice pieces of zinc for the gas stove, long and rather narrow in shape, selling for 35 and 50 cents, according to size.

DR. OCTAVIUS A. WHITE DEAD.

Famous Yellow Fever Expert and Physician Passes Away in His Seventy-eighth Year.

Dr. Octavius A. White, a famous yellow fever expert, died yesterday at his home, 1,011 Madison Avenue, in the seventy-eighth year of his age. Liver and kidney trouble was the cause of his death.

While a surgeon in the Confederate Army Dr. White was sent into the Union lines at Goldsborough, N. C., to treat Northern soldiers afflicted with yellow fever, and in the Confederate prison at Florence, S. C., he won the love of many Union men by his kindness during a similar pestilence.

He was born in Charleston, S. C., on Feb. 8, 1826. He was graduated by the College of Charleston in 1846, and by the South Carolina Medical College two years later. He began and continued his practice with success until the opening of the civil war, when he received the commission of surgeon in the Confederate Army. At the close of the war he moved to New York, where he lived until his death.

Dr. White first introduced the practice of superficial incisions within the os uteri for the relief of stebotic dysmenorrhea. He made several important medical inventions. He never believed in doctors' writing long books on medical science. He held that discoveries were being made with such rapidity that by the time a book was finished principles and opinions expressed in the first part of the volume would be out of date. He was a strong believer in the good of periodical literature on medical subjects, and he put his beliefs into practice.

Dr. White was a member of the New York Academy of Medicine and of many other medical societies. He was a Master Mason. He was twice married, first to Claudia R. Bellinger of Charleston, S. C., in 1849, and the second time to Elizabeth Winthrop Chanler of New York in 1858. He leaves three children. They are Dr. John Blake White, Mrs. Ledyard Stevens, and Mrs. Berkeley Mostyn of this city.

Dr. White was a contemporary and associate of J. Marion Sims and T. G. Thomas, both famous physicians.

VETERAN CUBAN WARRIOR DEAD

HAVANA, May 25.—Gen. Mayia Rodriguez, a distinguished officer of both the Cuban revolutions, died to-day. All the flags over the public buildings were hoisted at half-mast, and Congress adjourned as a sign of mourning.

The General will be buried with military honors.

SMALL BOY SAVED HIMSELF.

Put Out Fire in His Clothing When His Companions Fled.

Henry Shaw, five years old, of 84 Horatio Street, saved his own life yesterday by beating out flames which had caught his clothing.

Several boys were about a bonfire when he ran up and stood looking at the blaze. His clothing caught fire when he went too close. His companions were frightened, and instead of helping him ran away shouting. The boy at once began to pat his burning clothing, and put out the fire in front.

His clothing had caught fire behind, however, and was burning his back and neck. He tore off his outer garment and then easily rubbed out the little smoldering fire which had attacked his under clothing. By the time several men reached him the flames were all out.

Dr. Canfield of St. Vincent's Hospital took him away in an ambulance. The surgeon said the burns were not dangerous.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Henry A. Lozier.

Henry A. Lozier, ex-President of the Cleveland Bicycle Company, died suddenly from heart failure yesterday noon, in his rooms at the Waldorf-Astoria, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. Though feeling unwell yesterday morning, Mr. Lozier refused the services of a physician, as he did not believe his condition serious. Mr. Lozier was born in Dearborn County, Ind. When the bicycle industry was in its infancy he entered the field by purchasing a sewing machine plant in Toledo, Ohio, and making bicycles there. He later established factories in other cities, and at one time employed over four thousand men. As the industry declined he directed his energies to other lines. He was President of the Boulay Spectacular Art Company, President and Director of the Standard Power Company, and Treasurer and Director of the Louis Manufacturing Company. He leaves a wife, one daughter, and three sons.

Frederic O. MacCartney.

ROCKLAND, Mass., May 25.—Representative Frederic O. MacCartney, one of the most prominent Socialists in the country, died at his home here to-night, succumbing to bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. MacCartney was born in Prairie du Chien, Wis., Nov. 2, 1864. He was graduated from Iowa College, of which the Rev. George D. Perron was President. In 1880 he entered the Theological Seminary at Andover, Mass., from which he was graduated in 1893. In 1890 he retired from the ministry to become Secretary of the Industrial Society, which had been organized by the Socialists in New England. He began a political career and four times was sent to the Legislature as a Socialist.

His unique position made him known all over the country, and he was at one time offered the nomination for President on the Socialist ticket.

George Whitfield Brown, Jr.

George Whitfield Brown, Jr., until recently Mayor's Marshal, a graduate of Princeton and a lawyer, died yesterday in St. Luke's Hospital of pneumonia, in his forty-seventh year. His home was at 210 West Eighty-fifth Street. Mr. Brown had served the city in various capacities for many years. He entered the Bureau of Licenses during the administration of Mayor Edson. He was soon appointed Deputy Mayor's Marshal, and held that position until 1901, when Mayor Low made him Mayor's Marshal and chief of the Bureau of Licenses. He resigned his office on Feb. 17 to make way for James B. Reynolds. He was a member of the University Club, the Princeton Alumni Association, and the Bar Association of the city.

Joseph Van Vleck.

Joseph Van Vleck, a well-known philanthropist and merchant, died yesterday afternoon at his home, in Montclair, in his seventy-third year, from heart disease. Mr. Van Vleck until a year ago was a member of the firm of Phelps, Dodge & Co. of 99 John Street, and an officer and Director of many mining and railroad companies in the Southwest. He was born in Dutchess County in 1830. He came to this city in 1848. He entered the firm of Phelps, Dodge & Co. in 1879. His philanthropies included the gift of an observatory to Wesleyan College and of a building for the Young Men's Christian Association of Montclair. He was a member of the Congregational Club, the Fulton and Montclair Clubs, and the Forest Lake Association. He leaves a widow, one daughter, and three sons.

Woman Astronomers in England.

For many years the Royal Astronomical Society has been composed exclusively of persons of the male sex. It was not always so. In the lists of fifty or sixty years ago the names of three ladies were to be found as honorary "fellows," those namely of Mrs. Somerville, Miss Caroline Herschel, and Miss Anne Sheepshanks. The society has now readopted this excellent precedent. At the last meeting the council elected Lady Huggins, who collaborates with her husband, the President of the Royal Society, in his spectroscopic researches, and Miss Agnes Clerke, authoress of the excellent treatise on "Problems in Astrophysics," and many other scientific works, to be complimentary members of the society with the title above stated.—London Telegraph.

Pennsylvania Stock Oversubscribed.

The syndicate which underwrote the Pennsylvania stock issue has, so it was learned yesterday, been very heavily oversubscribed. Subscriptions for a share in the syndicate have been so numerous that applicants generally will receive no more than 60 per cent. of the amounts for which they asked.

Error in Insurance Tables.

THE NEW YORK TIMES in its issue of May 4 published a series of tables taken from a report of the State Superintendent of Insurance touching life, fidelity, and casualty companies. A typographical error in the publication referred to caused the statistics of the year 1902 to appear as those of 1901, and vice versa.

Obituary Notes.

GEORGE SHERWOOD of Binghamton, N. Y., died at his home in that city on Sunday. He was a prominent resident, and for two years served his district in the lower branch of the Legislature.

CHARLES A. DUNN, for many years City Tax Assessor of New Brunswick, N. J., died at his home on Hamilton Street, that place, Sunday night, aged seventy-one years. He was a veteran of the civil war, and a prominent Democrat.

EX-CONGRESSMAN JOHN E. ROBINSON of the Third Nebraska District died yesterday at Madison, Neb., of appendicitis. Mr. Robinson was elected to Congress in 1896 on a fusion ticket and served two terms. He formerly was a law partner of Senator W. V. Allen.

MICHAEL CALLAHAN of 117 Valley Street, Orange, N. J., died Sunday night at his home of pneumonia after a brief illness. Mr. Callahan was born in Ireland, and was sixty-three years old. He was the father of the Rev. Dr. Daniel J. Callahan, a member of the Faculty of Seton Hall College, in South Orange.

JOHN R. HOWARD, a retired broker, died suddenly at his home, 38 West One Hundredth Street, yesterday from heart disease in his forty-fourth year. Mr. Howard became ill during the morning, and died a few moments after the arrival of a physician. He leaves a wife.

Miss ESTHER WALDEN BARNES, who in childhood shook hands with the Marquis de Lafayette, and who in later years became the intimate friend of Henry W. and Samuel Longfellow, Whittier, Dr. Holmes, William Lloyd Garrison, and other noted New Englanders, died Sunday night at the home of her niece, Mrs. A. D. Averill, 7 South Arlington Avenue, East Orange, N. J., aged ninety years. In her youth she was a prolific writer, having been the author of numerous Sunday school and children's books.

ENGLISH POLO ACCIDENT.

LONDON, May 25.—Walter Buckmaster, the noted polo player, was seriously hurt at Hurlingham this afternoon. In the course of a brilliant run he collided with Patteson Nickalls, and Buckmaster's pony fell and rolled over his rider, who was carried off the grounds on a stretcher. A specialist was summoned to attend him.

Buckmaster's injuries, it became known later, are internal. He improved, and was removed to his home to-night. Buckmaster has generally been acknowledged as the best polo player in Great Britain, and he had been named as the first player on the English team which has arranged a visit to America in August.

YACHTS RACE AGAIN TO-DAY.

Reliance, Fearing Northeast Storm, Went to City Island.

The Reliance went out for a spin yesterday afternoon in a brisk northeast wind, carrying a small clubtopsail over her lower sails, but after trying her on the wind for an hour the breeze shifted around to the south and rapidly died away.

On Sunday, on account of a threatened northeast storm, the new yacht left her New Rochelle moorings and went to City Island, anchoring there off Jacob's yard, where she remained until the arrival of Mr. Iselin from New Rochelle yesterday afternoon. After the spin the yacht returned to her regular anchorage, off Premium Point.

The weather prophets have promised fresh northeast winds to-day for the third race of the Glen Cove series, and with the sea which that sort of a breeze is liable to kick up in the Sound there will be an opportunity to compare the work of Reliance, Constitution, and Columbia under new conditions. The start is scheduled for 12 o'clock.

$1,000 to $1,500 on Shamrock III.

David Barrie, formerly Sir Thomas Lipton's representative in this country, has wagered with a member of the New York Yacht Club $1,000 to $1,500 that Shamrock III. would not be beaten three straight races by the defender.

The first bet on the contest was made last Winter, when George L. Watson, designer of Shamrock II., took a small 2 to 1 wager made by a New York Yacht Club member on the American boat.

SERGEANT'S FAST RACE

F. R. Hitchcock's Three-Year-Old Equaled Morris Park Record.

Mexican Was Badly Beaten in a Race That Was His Public Trial for the Belmont Stakes.

An astonishingly good and fast race by F. R. Hitchcock's three-year-old gelding Sergeant, in the single stake event, and a surprisingly bad performance by R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, colt Mexican set the tongues of racegoers to wagging at the Morris Park track yesterday, and because of the comment that the two surprises caused and the bearing they may have on future events stood out as the features of a very interesting afternoon's sport.

Sergeant ran in the Van Cortlandt Handicap, seven furlongs over the Withers course, and though he had been tried in public and had shown no form to justify it, was heavily backed, and went to the post nearly equal favorite with the fast filly Rosetint. The Hitchcock gelding showed an improvement that justified the betting, for after Rosetint and New York alternated in front into the stretch Sergeant went on from the rear and won off by himself in time that equaled the track record, 1:26, for seven furlongs, made by that great sprinter Chuctanunda. Rosetint's chance was lost through her saddle slipping, thus compelling her rider to pull up.

In the last race, a handicap at one mile and a sixteenth, Mexican was top weight, his race being a public trial for the Belmont stakes, to be decided to-morrow. The form followers backed him, but if the trial showed Mexican's present worth he may as well stay in the stable on Belmont Day, for he was beaten away off. In this event Young Henry, stable companion of the winner, was crowded into the fence on the far turn. In the scramble that followed he threw his jockey, J. Martin, who, in addition to being badly shaken up, had his foot so crushed that he will hardly be seen in the saddle again for some days. Summaries:

FIRST RACE.—For maidens, two years old, to be ridden by apprentices and jockeys who have never ridden a winner; special weights; selling; all to be entered to sell for $1,000; last four and one-half furlongs of the Eclipse course.

NEW ROWING ASSOCIATION.

New York Bay Boat Clubs Organize—Regatta to be Held on Harvey Lake.

Representatives of five rowing clubs located on the shores of New York Bay met at the Stevens House, 27 Broadway, last night and organized the New York Bay Regatta Association.

The clubs comprising the association were represented at the meeting as follows: Brooklyn Rowing Club, Brooklyn, William S. Dunn and Henry J. Brierley; Nautilus Boat Club, Brooklyn, A. H. Gilmour, O. Ruprecht, and J. Keegan; Varuna Boat Club, Brooklyn, W. G. Class and J. H. Becker; Clifton Boat Club, Clifton, S. I., Gregory McKean and F. C. Townsend; Staten Island Boat Club, A. G. Whitelaw.

Officers were elected and committees appointed as follows: President—Gregory McKean, Clifton Boat Club, Clifton, Staten Island; Vice President—A. H. Gilmour, Nautilus Boat Club, Brooklyn; Secretary—J. H. Becker, Varuna Boat Club, Brooklyn; Treasurer—Henry J. Brierley, Brooklyn Rowing Club; Committee on By-Laws—A. H. Gilmour, Nautilus Boat Club, Chairman; Henry J. Brierley, Brooklyn Rowing Club, and Gregory McKean, Clifton Boat Club; Regatta Committee—O. Ruprecht, Nautilus Boat Club, Chairman; William S. Dunn, Brooklyn Rowing Club; W. G. Class, Varuna Boat Club, Brooklyn; F. C. Townsend, Clifton Boat Club, and A. G. Whitelaw, Staten Island Boat Club.

It was decided to hold the first annual regatta of the association early in the Fall, and a committee consisting of F. C. Townsend, Clifton Boat Club, Chairman; W. G. Class, Varuna Boat Club, and O. Ruprecht, Nautilus Boat Club, was appointed to consider the advisability of holding the event at Harvey's Lake, near Wilkesbarre, Penn., and to report at a subsequent meeting.

There was some discussion as to the advisability of limiting the scope of the organization, and it was decided to invite the rowing clubs located at Bath Beach, Bayonne, and Hoboken to become members.

Harlem Regatta Entries.

Entries for the annual regatta of the Harlem Regatta Association, to be held on the Harlem River on Saturday, were opened at a meeting of the association, held at the Pabst, on West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, last night, and were found to number sixty, as follows:

Junior single sculls, 4; intermediate single sculls, 5; association single sculls, 7; senior single sculls, 5; junior double sculls, 4; senior double sculls, 3; junior four-oared gigs, 4; intermediate four-oared gigs, 5; senior four-oared shells, 3; junior quadruple sculls, 3; junior eight-oared shells, 6; senior eight-oared shells, 3; junior pair-oared shells, 4, and Naval Reserve cutters, 5.

This is in excess of last year's total, which was 58. Of the 60 entries, only 30 are from the Harlem River clubs, including the five entries of Columbia University, and the remaining 30 are from outside clubs as follows: Philadelphia, 11; New Jersey, 3; Long Island, 2; Staten Island, 2; Hudson River, 1; New Orleans, 1; Naval Reserve crews, 5.

Coach Edward Hanlan of Columbia University presented the association with a large silver loving cup as a gift from R. A. Watson of Sydney, N. S. W. It was decided to offer it for the junior four-oared gig event, beginning next year.

New York Horses Win Prizes.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The annual open air exhibition of the Philadelphia Horse Show Association began to-day on St. Martin's Green, Wissahickon Heights, a suburb of this city. New York exhibitors captured four of the eight first prizes, W. H. Moore of New York having the honor of being awarded the first three prizes in the class for horses in harness.

Many Entries for Metropolitan Golf.

Secretary W. Fellowes Morgan of the Metropolitan Golf Association announced yesterday that sixty-two entries had been received for the metropolitan championship, which will begin to-morrow on the Deal Golf Club links. Walter J. Travis, the present title holder, and Findlay S. Douglas, a former holder, are among the most prominent in the list.

Smathers May Buy Trotting Track.

E. E. Smathers of this city, the well-known horseman, is negotiating for the purchase of Charter Oak Park, at Hartford, from Andy Welch, the present owner. It is expected that the papers to complete the deal will be signed soon. Mr. Smathers has had a string of horses at the park of late, and it is understood to be his intention to take all his horses there for training.

Cornell and Indians Tie in Lacrosse.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 25.—The game of lacrosse played to-day between Cornell and the Seneca Indians of the Seneca Reservation resulted in a tie, each team throwing 2 goals.

NOTES OF INSURANCE INTERESTS.

K. L. Willing of Columbus has been appointed manager of the Toledo Rating and Inspection Bureau, to succeed George W. Cleveland.

The bill passed by the Wisconsin State Legislature to reduce the minimum capital required for credit, casualty, surety, and title insurance companies from $100,000 to $10,000 has been vetoed by the Governor.

E. L. Thompson of Lewisburg has been appointed Deputy Commissioner of the Tennessee State Insurance Department, to succeed Mr. Wofford.

The New England Fire Insurance Exchange has adopted the cement clause, which voids a policy if cement or compounds containing benzine, naphtha, or any of the lighter petroleum products or materials used in making the same are manufactured, used, or stored in a building. Permission was granted to have in a factory not more than one day's supply of benzine or naphtha for cleaning stock or thinning compounds only, and any cement or compounds containing the same, provided they are used cold and that all such unused materials or compounds shall be removed at night unless kept in approved metal receptacles.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The area of high pressure that was central this morning in the St. Lawrence Valley has moved rapidly southeastward to the New England Coast. Pressure continues low in the Southwest and over the Rocky Mountain and plateau regions. Showers have continued in West Virginia, the Middle Mississippi Valley, the upper lake region, and locally in the Missouri Valley. The weather has cleared in the East and fair weather prevails in the remaining districts. It is warmer in the lower lake region and the Northwest.

Showers and thunder storms will continue to-morrow in the upper lake region and the Middle Mississippi Valley, extending into the Upper Ohio Valley and also into the Upper Missouri Valley. Showers are probable Wednesday in the lake region, the Upper Ohio Valley, and the western portion of the Middle Atlantic States. The temperature will rise in northern districts.

The winds along the Atlantic Coast will be mostly south and light; on the Gulf Coast light and variable, except on the Texas Coast, where they will be fresh southeast, on the upper lakes light to fresh south, and on the lower lakes fresh east to southeast.

Steamers departing to-morrow for European ports will have light south winds and fair weather to the Grand Banks.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

New England, fair and warmer Tuesday; Wednesday fair; light to fresh south winds.

Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware, fair and warmer Tuesday; Wednesday fair; light to fresh south winds.

Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, showers Tuesday and Wednesday; warmer Tuesday; fresh southeast to south winds.

Western New York, fair, warmer Tuesday; Wednesday fair; fresh southeast winds, becoming southwest.

Maryland, District of Columbia, and Virginia, fair, warmer Tuesday; Wednesday, increasing cloudiness; light, variable winds.

North Carolina and South Carolina, fair Tuesday and Wednesday; light, variable winds.

North Dakota and South Dakota, fair, warmer Tuesday; Wednesday showers.

Minnesota, fair Tuesday, except showers in northeast portion; Wednesday showers; light variable winds.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Fair and warmer, light to fresh south winds.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES's thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau, is as follows:

COTTON.—The volume of transactions was more ordinary, but the general run of trade sentiment is still extremely nervous and unsettled. The market opened firm, 3 points lower to 5 points higher and ruled comparatively quiet. The initial losses were confined to the old crop positions, and were in sympathy with the early Liverpool cables, which were rather below expectations on those positions, while the new crop was firmer than was considered due to the local closing on Saturday. Right after the call, however, the whole market was rallied, partially by the strength in New Orleans and partly by Southern buying orders. July sold from 11.06, the lowest on the call, to 11.24, August opening at 10.67, advanced to 10.85, and September opening at 9.84, was advanced to 9.95. The firmness at New Orleans was attributed to the presence of the bull leader in that market. In the afternoon the market advanced to a new high level for the day, July reaching 11.30. The market was finally steady, net 2@12 points higher. Total sales futures estimated at 300,000 bales.

Contract prices ranged as follows: [table illegible]

LIVERPOOL, May 25.—Spot cotton in moderate demand; sales, 8,000 bales; speculation and export, 500; American, 7,000. Receipts, 9,000 bales; American, 7,000; middling upland, 6.28d. Futures opened steady, 4 points advance; closed steady, [illegible] points higher on near months and [illegible] points higher on late months. [illegible] Manchester yarns in small inquiry. Cloths—Offers too low.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT.—In many respects the market was similar to a number of those last week when crop damage news dominated the situation and sent bears to cover notwithstanding the fact that many of them refused to take stock in its accuracy of damage reports. St. Louis started things going when, after a period of moderate depression early in the day, the Southwest suddenly became strong, and before the close had advanced over a cent a bushel. All other markets fell into line with the advance at St. Louis, New York closing [illegible] higher than Saturday's 1 o'clock price on July. COFFEE.—The market opened steady at unchanged prices, but turned easier, and while at the close the tone was officially stated as steady, prices showed a partial decline of 5 points. Sales were reported of about 18,750 bags—slightly above the recent average. The spot market was quiet, with quotations on the basis of [illegible] for Rio No. 7.

Contract prices ranged as follows: [table illegible]

METALS.—The feature in the markets was the sharp break in tin. London cabled an advance of [illegible] on spots and of [illegible] on futures, the former closing at £128 15s and the latter at £128 15s. In New York there was also a sharp break and market closed weak at [illegible]. COPPER.—Copper declined 5s in London, spot closing at [illegible] and futures at £61 10s. Locally copper remained dull and more or less nominal. [illegible] LEAD.—Lead was steady at 4.87½ in New York, and London reported an advance of [illegible]. THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks break sharply.

Money easy, 2¼@2½ per cent.

Monday's stock market began where Saturday's left off. Not every moment of the day was equally weak, nor were all properties equally depressed, but there is small need of qualification of the general statement that all were under pressure and liquidation almost continually, the differences in yielding being rather idiosyncrasies than characteristics of the market. It was the year's third busiest day, 120,000 shares above a million being done. The surplus above the million about represented the business in St. Paul, which fell 2⅝, after deducting its share of the partial irregular improvement in the later dealings. Union Pacific was less active and less weak, losing but 1⅝ upon sales exceeding 85,000 shares. Rock Island was very active and lost 2⅝, or about the same as St. Louis and San Francisco, in which there was little business. Brooklyn Union Gas lost 11⅝, but that was exceptional, and on small dealings. The other industrials were far from escaping their losses. Consolidated Gas suffered with its rural cousin, and General Electric and the coppers had unusually good company in their depression. Perhaps the fall among stocks representative of the market averaged about two, which throws into relief such small falls among leading stocks as less than a point for Atchison, and the smallest fraction for Pennsylvania, which plainly showed the value of friends in need. Not until after the close was it stated that the underwriting syndicate was oversubscribed by a third or so. The chief exception to the fall was all the Eries. The bond market was not extraordinarily active, and showed falls comparing with Saturday, but some advances during the day. Union Pacific convertibles gained a fraction and lost it, but Steel 5s retained ⅛ improvement. Wabash Bs lost the fraction above the even 74, and Consolidated Tobacco 4s the fraction above 60. London began by buying moderately, but after a while turned seller, apparently and naturally enough, upon our market.

There was little trace of the sentiment which dominated the market in quarters which estimate values independently of quotations. This is not to say that they think the market a purchase at going prices, either for themselves or for those who value their advice. Whatever a thing is worth it is business to buy it as cheap as it can be had, either to keep or to sell again. But in many quarters might be heard expressions that if various securities were not worth about what they were selling at under any conditions imaginable—and still more under present conditions and outlook—then all standards of experience must be revised. A stock paying 7 per cent., and likelier to continue paying 7 than once it was to continue paying 6, and purchasable far below what it brought when it was paying the lower rate, is a financial portent inexplicable upon any theory of values, but readily explained upon considerations affecting personalities. In this direction Wall Street advanced quite a way toward a working hypothesis of recent events. Given the sudden creation of wealth which it was necessary to invest or to have it lie idle, and supposing that some of it was put into the best investments and more of it into commercial ventures, and supposing that it became necessary to protect the latter by the sacrifice of the former, it will appear how prices might fall away without any depreciation in general conditions, or even in special conditions affecting securities appearing to suffer most. There were those who assumed to fill in the blanks in the above hypothesis with names of persons and properties. It will scarcely be expected that such gossip should be repeated in a column having only to do with public matters, and it would be quite irrational to base action upon it, although the truth might solve some perplexities in estimating values which good judges freely admit to exist, and to have led them astray.

The news of the day was scanty. The small engagement of gold for Germany was rather encouraging regarding the limitation of the movement than otherwise. Chicago sent some good telegrams regarding the labor outlook, which has been rather worse there than elsewhere in the accounts reaching here. The freight handlers are willing to compromise, the Presidents think the matter should be arbitrated, and complications in other directions are not expected if the matter must be fought about. Settlements are announced affecting 20,000 men. The dispute between Pennsylvania and Western Union is viewed with calmness by the principals in their public expressions, which may be commended to commentators in print. Admitting that Pennsylvania's action is not agreeable to all its friends, it has served the purpose of eliciting expressions of disapproval which may work to Western Union's advantage by discouraging repetitions in other contract disputes still pending. The cotton market, if not wholly rational, at least showed no new madness. In brief, the fall in prices was the day's chief news.

FEATURES OF THE MARKET.

While undoubtedly the bears assisted in bringing about yesterday's decline, it is beyond all question that much the greater part of the selling came from holders of long stock, either forced or frightened into selling. It was liquidation of an altogether urgent character, such as the Street has not seen in some time. What is more, if one-half of the reports heard in the Street be true, it was liquidation on the account of rich men—interests who not so many years ago possessed little, but who in the last few years have amassed considerable fortunes each—and have had their heads turned accordingly. Local bankers who know the facts in the case could tell an interesting story if they would. That, as a result of the drop in prices, certain Chicago and Pittsburg men will have much less money than once they had is, however, certain.

It is interesting in this connection to note that the so-called "small" men have not been badly hit in the present decline. For the most part, they have been out of the market for some time—that is, out of it comparatively speaking. In the days of the McKinley boom the public was head over heels in the market, buying and buying and ever buying. Then came the memorable Northern Pacific corner, and with it the crash. From the effects of that the public never fully recovered. From time to time thereafter, it is true, some outsiders were induced to nibble at the speculative bait held before them, but they were few in numbers as compared with the old days. Latterly even these few have been shaken out or have voluntarily withdrawn, leaving the rich men in undisputed possession of the field. Now when these rich men decide or are forced to sell there is no "public" to sell to, except the out-and-out investors. Hence it is that few people in the Street care to venture an opinion as to how far the decline may run, it being recognized that it is now not so much a question of values as of lack of buying power.

The latest story in connection with St. Paul is that several of the leading Western men, prominent in steel affairs, "loaded up" with the stock between 180 and 190, on the understanding that a big deal was on in the property and that shareholders were to receive valuable rights. These interests, it is said, have now been obliged to part with the stock so bought, because of the necessity of raising money to protect themselves elsewhere. Inasmuch as Standard Oil interests have not been supporting the issue, this enforced selling resulted yesterday in an extreme drop of nearly 4 points.

After holding steady for the greater part of the day, Rock Island slumped off in the afternoon on what looked like a bear attack. On the decline it received good support from inside interests, and hence the prompt recovery of a full point from the low of the day. People close to the management say the stock will be placed on the dividend list this Summer.

The assuring statement of President Schwab in respect to iron and steel conditions resulted in a rally in the preferred stock from 80 to 81, practically all of it later lost.

London was a seller in this market on balance to the extent of 30,000 shares. This was taken to indicate that much of the recent London buying reported was of a purely speculative nature. Whatever it was, yesterday's sales were clearly made at a loss. No new foreign investment demand appeared on the decline.

Life insurance companies were again reported as heavy investment buyers during the day.

Syndicate support was in evidence in Pennsylvania.

SECOND STEEL SYNDICATE.

The statement was made semi-officially in Wall Street yesterday that members of the steel syndicate, formed to underwrite the $250,000,000 bond conversion plan had been given until June 1 to exchange for bonds the balance of the preferred stock, to the return of which they would otherwise have been entitled because the public subscriptions were heavy enough to provide between forty and fifty millions of the amount guaranteed by the syndicate. The notice sent out by the syndicate managers reads as follows:

We beg to notify you that the time for subscription by preferred stockholders having expired, we are now prepared to exchange for the new bonds the balance of the 800,000 shares of United States Steel Corporation preferred stock deposits deposited with us and which was not required for exchange under the syndicate's guarantee.

Will you, at your earliest convenience, and not later than June 1, 1903, kindly advise us, in the form inclosed, whether you desire us to exchange your share of such balance of stock, to the return of which you are now entitled? Such exchange will be made only upon the understanding that the bonds received therefor may be held and disposed of by us upon the same terms as the bonds already received under the syndicate agreement of March 12, 1902.

Unless instructed by you to make such exchange on or before June 1, 1903, we will return to you the proportionate part of the preferred stock deposited under the syndicate agreement, and to which you are now entitled, as stated above.

This offer will probably be accepted, it is said, and will make the total bond issue about $150,000,000.

Sharp Break in Tin.

The price of tin declined on the New York Metal Exchange 1 cent per pound to 28.30 bid and 28.50 asked for spot. The break was due to the receipt of a cable from London that tin there had declined sharply.

GENERAL BUSINESS ITEMS.

According to Columbus (Ohio) dispatches, a merger of the public utility companies of Ohio is in process of formation, and the general impression is that within the next fortnight practically all the gas, electric light, and street railway concerns of the State will be included in one corporation, with a capitalization of from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000.

A number of cotton mills throughout New England, it is stated, have decided to close down on account of the high price of raw material.

Houghton (Mich.) advices that the Directors of the Michigan Copper Company have called an assessment of $2 a share on the capital stock of the company, which will make the stock $15 paid.

Incorporation of the San José and Los Gates Interurban Railway Company, with a capital of $2,000,000.

Washington dispatches stating that it is estimated that the crop of Florida oranges will be worth $2,700,000, and will exceed the crop of last year by 1,000,000 boxes.

Reports from Denver that the construction company that is building the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railroad has appropriated $6,300,000 for additional construction.

Statement that the arrivals of live stock at Chicago for the past week were 262,856 head, an increase of 6,609 head over the previous week, but the smallest for the week in four years, showing a decrease of 22,395 head from the same time last year.

Reserve of outside banks, $1,977,875 below legal requirements as shown by last week's statement, as against $1,887,000 below for the previous week.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON TIMES—NEW YORK TIMES
Special Cablegram.

LONDON, May 26.—The Times, in its City article to-day, says about half the large sum due was repaid to the Bank of England yesterday. Renewals were made at 4 per cent. In the market money was by no means abundant. Discount rates were steady.

The Bank of England bought £62,000 bar gold and received 50,000 sovereigns from Egypt and 19,000 from Australia. Ten thousand sovereigns were withdrawn for Lima.

On the Stock Exchange the feeling was less cheerful, owing chiefly to the uneasiness created by the continued depression in American rails, the prices of which finished with a general heavy fall, though at not quite the lowest points touched in the course of the day.

Consols fell 3-16, to 91⅝ for cash and 91 13-16 for the account. Transvaal 3s fell ¼, to 1¼ premium. Home rails were decidedly more active and very firm.

Among the foreigns the chief feature was the good support of Turks. The general mining market was chiefly occupied by contango business; the tone was firm. South Africans were dull in tendency.

There was a moderate demand for silver bars on Indian account, and they rose 1-16d. per ounce, to 25d. spot and 24⅞d. forward.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, May 25.—Rates for money had a hardening tendency in the market to-day, owing to indications that there will be considerable pressure in connection with the settlement and month-end requirements. Discounts were firm.

Business on the Stock Exchange was cheerfully quiet, and attention was mostly centred in the mining carry-over. Consols were fairly firm, but neglected. Americans were depressed on New York advices, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul was prominently weak. Prices closed firmer. Other sections were featureless. Closing prices:

Consols for money, 91⅝; consols for account 91 13-16; Anaconda, 5; Atchison, 76½; Atchison preferred, 96¼; Baltimore and Ohio, 90; Canadian Pacific, 131½; Chesapeake and Ohio, 41⅛; Chicago Great Western, 21¼; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, 154; De Beers, 21⅛; Denver and Rio Grande, 34⅜; Denver and Rio Grande preferred, 87⅝; Erie, 34⅝; Erie first preferred, 69; Erie second preferred, 57; Illinois Central, 139; Louisville and Nashville, 116¾; Missouri, Kansas and Texas, 24⅝; New York Central, 128½; Norfolk and Western, 70⅛; Norfolk and Western preferred, 91; Ontario and Western, 27⅝; Pennsylvania, 64⅝; Rand Mines, 10⅛; Reading, 25; Reading first preferred, 42½; Reading second preferred, 34½; Southern Railway, 28; Southern Railway preferred, 93½; Southern Pacific, 51⅛; Union Pacific, 88⅛; Union Pacific preferred, 91½; United States Steel, 31⅛; United States Steel preferred, 82½; Wabash, 26; Wabash preferred, 46½.

Bar silver quiet, 25d per ounce.

Money 3@3½ per cent.

The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3⅝ per cent.; for three months' bills is 3⅝ per cent.

Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 127.27½; Madrid, 36.25; Lisbon, 23.

The Stock Exchange will be closed next Saturday and Monday, owing to the Whitsuntide holiday.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, May 25.—Business on the Bourse to-day opened unsettled, but closed firm. Business was slack.

Three per cent. rentes, 98f 5c for the account. Exchange on London, 25f 17½c for checks.

BERLIN, May 25.—Unfavorable reports regarding the American iron market weakened industrials at the opening of the Boerse here to-day, but later a better tone prevailed.

Money on call was quoted at 3¼ per cent. Exchange on London, 20 marks 46 pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short and three months' bills, 3¼ per cent.

TRADING IN BALTIMORE.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, May 25.—The market to-day was quiet and featureless.

Money on call was 5 and 6 per cent.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, May 25.—The week opens with the money market still easy, but with business extremely quiet. Call loans, 2½@3½ per cent.; time loans on collateral, 4½@5 per cent.; time loans on mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent.; Clearing House loans, 2 per cent.; New York funds, 5 cents premium. Clearings, $15,619,118; balances, $1,298,886. The foreign exchange market is quiet and steady. Rates are unchanged.

On the Stock Exchange the Dominion issues were strong. The closing of the Montreal market removed the selling pressure from that source, and Dominion Coal went as high as 106 and Steel to 18¼. They sold lower before the close, and the whole list grew weaker during the last hour.

Complete transactions were as follows:

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—Philadelphia did not join in New York's stock market demoralization to-day. Prices were heavy rather than weak, and the only stock in which the decline extended to a point or more was Lehigh Navigation, which was off 2 points on the sale of a small odd lot. Other net losses were: Cambria Steel, ½; Consolidated Lake Superior, 7-16; Lehigh Valley, ½; Philadelphia Traction, ½; United Gas, ¼, and the allotments, ⅛. Trading was not active outside of the arbitrage issues, Reading and United States Steel absorbing nearly one-half of the total business. The feeling after the close, strange as it may seem, was that another break in New York like to-day would place stocks on bottom, and this feeling no doubt induced many holders to stick by the local issues.

Total sales, 36,156 shares and $36,000 bonds. Range of prices:

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, May 25.—New York exchange to-day was at 50 cents' premium before clearings and 30 cents bid and 40 cents asked after clearings. Time and call loans, 5@6 per cent.

The weakness in Wall Street broke local issues. There was another puncture in Pneumatic Tool stock to-day that took 23 points off the price, with a drop from 70 to 47. Sales were limited to about 500 shares, which were sold early by S. B. Chapin & Co. The market for the stock is narrow, the demand almost nil. The fact that the deferred dividend has been resumed, although on an annual basis of 7 per cent. instead of 8 per cent., led many to wonder if trouble had broken out in camp again. South Side Elevated sold off to 103, Metropolitan Elevated around 22. Biscuit common broke to 39, the preferred close to par. Northwestern Elevated sold at 20. Title and Trust fell under par again. Can fell a point.

BULLION AND MINING.

Bar silver was quoted in the London market at 25d per ounce and in New York at 54⅛c. Mexican dollars at 42½@43½c.

On the Consolidated Exchange, 300 shares of Comstock sold at .08, 1,000 Consolidated Imperial at .06@.06½, 1,000 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .05, 400 Elkton at .42, 2,500 Isabella at .17, 200 Mexican at .70, 300 Mollie Gibson at .07, 100 Ophir at 1.40, 200 Portland at 1.30, 1,000 Potosi at .25, and 200 Vindicator at .85.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Pressure was exerted on prices in the outside market yesterday from the very opening, and, although several times in the day rallies occurred, they were not sufficient to offset the declines. While the net losses were not in most cases very large, the general position of the market was one of weakness. In some instances stocks were offered down considerably without being taken, and the declines of this character must be taken into consideration in connection with the losses indicated in the stocks that were dealt in. The decline that had most influence on the rest of the market was the 2-point drop in Northern Securities, which yesterday was selling at the lowest price on record. Here and there in the market there were signs of strength, but in comparison with those that were weak the stocks that were strong were too few to change to any considerable extent the general aspect of the market.

NORTHERN SECURITIES.—Numerous selling orders in Northern Securities appeared when the market opened, and within a few minutes the stock dropped to 91½. Later on some short covering resulted in a rally of nearly a point, but this was followed by further selling, and on the second decline the price went as low as 91⅝. Traders were active in the stock and profited freely by the opportunity that was offered to force down quotations. In all, about 10,000 shares were traded in, a much larger amount than the average transactions of the past few weeks in this stock. Yesterday's low price is the lowest at which Northern Securities has sold.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC new 5s sold down another point to 87, this representing a decline of 5½ points during the ten days during which the bonds have been dealt in. In other bonds also declines of a point or more resulted from yesterday's selling, but in most cases the transactions accompanying these declines were small.

The principal transactions reported in the outside market yesterday, with the high, low, and last prices, were as follows:

PUBLIC NOTICES.

An Ordinance granting to the New York and Long Island Traction Company the right or franchise to construct and operate a street surface railway in, upon and along certain streets and highways and bridges in the City of New York.

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of New York, as follows:

Section 1. The Board of Aldermen of The City of New York hereby grants to the New York and Long Island Traction Company, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter set forth, the franchise, right and privilege to construct and operate a double-track surface railway, with all connections, turnouts, switches, crossovers and suitable stands necessary for the accommodation and operation of said railway, by the overhead system of electricity, or any other motive power which may be lawfully employed upon the same, in, upon and along the following named streets and highways and bridges, all situated in the boroughs of Queens and Brooklyn, City and State of New York, set forth in the following descriptions of routes:

First—Beginning at a point on Fulton street (otherwise known as the Hempstead and Jamaica turnpike) at the easterly line of the Borough of Queens, in the City of New York; running thence northwesterly on and along said Fulton street to the intersection of said Fulton street and the Jerrico turnpike at or near Queens, in the Borough of Queens; with a branch line from the intersection of said Hempstead and Jamaica turnpike and Sherwood avenue; running thence southerly on and along said Sherwood avenue to Old Country road, all in the Borough of Queens.

Second—Beginning at a point at the intersection of said Fulton street and Springfield road (at or near Queens, in the Borough of Queens), running thence southwesterly on and along said Springfield road to a road known as Old Country road; thence generally westerly on and along said Old Country road past the intersection of said Old Country road and South street, to a point on said Old Country road about opposite Bryan Avenue in Hollis Park; thence generally westerly on and along private property to Bryan avenue in Hollis Park at its intersection with Farmer avenue; thence westerly on and along said Bryan avenue to its intersection with South street; thence westerly on and along South street to Puntine street in Jamaica; thence northwesterly on and along Puntine street to Linden street; thence westerly on and along Linden street to New York avenue; thence southerly on and along New York avenue to South street; thence westerly on and along South street to Prospect street; thence northerly on and along Prospect street to and across the bridge over the tracks of the Long Island Railroad to Fleet street; thence westerly on and along Fleet street to Twombly place; thence westerly on and along Twombly place to Church street; thence northerly on and along Church street to Fulton street in Jamaica; with a branch line from the intersection of said New York avenue and Linden street in Jamaica; thence northerly on and along New York avenue to a point on New York avenue south of the tracks of the Long Island Railroad; thence westerly on and along private property crossing Union Hall street and Washington street to a point on Prospect street south of the tracks of the Long Island Railroad in Jamaica; also on and along Centre street, from Union Hall street to Washington street, all in the Borough of Queens.

Third—Beginning at a point at the boundary line between the City of New York and the Town of Hempstead, Nassau County, New York, on private property contiguous to and lying north of the conduit of the Brooklyn City Water Works in the Borough of Queens; running thence westerly on and along private property contiguous to and adjoining the property of the Brooklyn City Water Works on the northerly side thereof; crossing Ocean avenue (otherwise known as the road to Wright's mill), Rosedale avenue, Foster's Meadow road, the property of the Brooklyn City Water Works, known as conduit branch, Springfield road, Farmers avenue, New York avenue, Rockaway turnpike, to the junction of the Three-Mile road and Old South road; thence westerly on and along said Old South road to the road to Bergin's Landing; thence westerly on and along private property contiguous to and adjacent to the right of way of the Brooklyn City Water Works, and on the northerly side thereof crossing Old South road, Hawtree Creek road, road to Remsen's Landing, Centreville avenue at the southerly end thereof, road to landing or Woodhaven road at the southerly end thereof, and Cedar lane, to the right of way of the Cross Country Railroad Company; thence northerly and westerly on and along private property crossing Old South road to a point on Eldert lane, about 500 feet south of Liberty avenue, in the Borough of Brooklyn; thence northerly on and along Eldert lane to Liberty avenue.

Fourth—Beginning at a point on the Jerrico turnpike at the extreme easterly boundary line of the City of New York and the Town of North Hempstead, Nassau County, New York, and running thence westerly on and along said Jerrico turnpike to a point at the intersection of said Jerrico turnpike and the Hempstead and Jamaica turnpike (otherwise known as Fulton street), all in the Borough of Queens.

And with the right or franchise to cross such other streets and highways and bridges (named and unnamed) as may be encountered in said routes.

Section 2. The grant of this franchise is subject to the following conditions:

First—The consent in writing of the owners of half in value of the property bounded on said streets and highways and bridges, to the construction and operation of said railway, shall be obtained by the grantee, or in the event that such consent cannot be obtained, the grantee shall obtain the favorable determination, confirmed by the Court, of three Commissioners, appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, before said railway is built or operated.

Second—The said right, privilege and franchise to construct and operate said railway shall be held and enjoyed by said railway company, its lessees or successors, for the term of twenty-five years from the date when this ordinance is signed by the Mayor, with the privilege of renewal of said grant for a further period of twenty-five years upon a fair revaluation of said right, privilege and franchise, but such renewal shall not provide for any further renewal. Such revaluation shall be of the right, privilege and franchise to maintain and operate said railway by itself, and shall not include any valuation derived from the ownership, operation, or control of any other railroad by the grantee, its successors or assigns. It shall be made in the following manner:

One disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment or its successors in authority; one disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the railway company; these two shall choose a third disinterested freeholder; and the three so chosen shall act as appraisers and shall make the revaluations aforesaid. Such appraisers shall be chosen at least six months prior to the expiration of the grant, and their report shall be filed with the Comptroller or his successor in authority within three months after they are chosen. They shall act as appraisers and not as arbitrators. They may base their judgment upon their own experience, and upon such information as they may obtain by inquiries and investigations without the presence of either party. They shall have the right to examine the books of the railway company. The valuations so ascertained, fixed and determined shall be conclusive upon both parties, but shall not in any event be less than the minimum amount fixed as the sum to be paid annually for the last five years of the original franchise.

Third—Upon the termination of the said franchise, right or privilege, whether original or renewal, if the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York or its successors in authority shall so desire, there shall be a fair valuation of the plant and property of the grantee necessary for traction purposes upon the said streets and highways and bridges, and of the land in private ownership upon which the said railway shall be operated, or the easements of right-of-way or other necessary easements in such lands, as the case may be, including power-house, equipment, tracks and appurtenances, which plant and property shall be and become the property of the City of New York at the option of the said Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successors in authority, on the termination of this grant and the payment to the grantee of such valuation. The valuation shall be based upon a fair appraisal of the property, excluding any value derived from the franchise, and such value shall be determined by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment or its successors in authority; provided that in the valuation of the land in private ownership, on which such railroad is constructed, or the easements affecting such land, as the case may be, their value shall not be fixed at an amount in excess of the original cost thereof, to the grantee of said franchise, its successors or assigns. A sworn statement of such cost executed by said grantee, and verified by the affidavit of one of its officers, shall be filed with the Comptroller of the City of New York, before any act is done by the grantee, or its successors or assigns, in the construction or operation of the railway upon any route hereinbefore mentioned, which includes private property.

Fourth—The New York and Long Island Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall pay for this franchise to the City of New York the following sums of money: During the first term of five years an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $1,000, and which shall be equal to three per cent. of its gross annual receipts derived from passenger and freight traffic, within the limits of the City of New York, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $1,000; during the remaining twenty years of the term, an annual sum which shall not be less than $2,000, and which shall be equal to five per cent. of its gross annual receipts as above, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $2,000.

In computing the amount of the gross receipts derived from passenger traffic, and above referred to, the routes hereinafter mentioned shall be considered, and the persons who are upon the cars of the company at any point upon such routes shall be deemed to have paid the fare provided to be paid by the ordinance granting the franchise aforesaid, whether they enter or leave the car upon such route or upon any other route upon which the grantee or its successors or assigns operate its cars.

Such sums shall be paid into the treasury of the City of New York on November 1 in each year; provided, however, that the first payment shall only be for that proportion of the above sums as the time from the signing of this ordinance by the Mayor to September 30 next preceding shall bear to the whole of one year. The fiscal year shall end on September 30 next preceding said date of payment, and the provisions of the Railroad Law, as it existed at the time of the adoption of this ordinance relating to the manner of payments and statements of percentages of gross receipts of street railway companies shall, as to said railway, be strictly followed. The intention of this paragraph is to fix an annual charge to be paid by the grantee, its successors or assigns, to the City of New York, for the rights and franchise hereby granted, and it shall not be construed as providing for the payment by the grantee, its successors or assigns, for said franchise, of a percentage of gross receipts within the meaning of any general or special statute.

Fifth—The said annual charge or payments shall continue throughout the whole term of the franchise hereby granted, whether original or renewal, notwithstanding any clause in any statute or in the charter of any other railway company providing for payments for street railway rights or franchises at a different rate, and no assignment, lease or sublease of the rights or franchises hereby granted, whether original or of renewal, or of any part thereof, or of any of the routes mentioned herein, or of any part thereof, shall be valid or effectual for any purpose, unless the said assignment, lease or sublease shall contain a covenant on the part of the assignee or lessee that the same is subject to all the conditions of this grant, and that the assignee or lessee assumes and will be bound by all of said conditions, and especially said condition as to payments, anything in any statute or the charter of such assignee or lessee to the contrary notwithstanding, and that the said assignee or lessee waives, so far as this franchise is concerned, any more favorable conditions created by such statute or its charter, and that it will not claim by reason thereof, or otherwise, exemption from liability to perform each and all of the conditions of this grant.

Sixth—The rights and franchises granted hereby shall not be assigned, either in whole or in part, or leased or sublet in any manner, nor shall title thereto, or right, interest or property therein, pass to or vest in any other person or corporation whatsoever, either by the act of the New York and Long Island Traction Company, its successors or assigns, or by operation of law, whether under the provisions of the statutes relating to the consolidation or merger of corporations or otherwise, without the consent of the City of New York, acting by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successors in authority, evidenced by an instrument under seal, anything herein contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, and the granting, giving, or waiving of any one or more of such consents shall not render unnecessary any subsequent consent or consents.

Seventh—The said railway may be operated by overhead electrical power, substantially similar to the system of overhead electrical traction now in use by the New York and North Shore Railway Company, or by the underground electric system now in use by the Interurban Street Railway Company in the Borough of Manhattan, and by any other motive power, except locomotive steam power or horse power, which may be approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners, and consented to by the owners of property, in accordance with the provisions of the Railroad Law.

Provided that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successors in authority, upon giving to the grantee, its successors or assigns, one year's notice, in writing, may require it or them to operate its railway upon the whole or upon any portion of its route by underground electrical power substantially according to the system now in use on the railways in the Borough of Manhattan above referred to, and thereupon to discontinue the use of the overhead trolley system, and to remove its poles, wires and other structures used by it for that purpose, from the streets and highways and bridges of The City of New York.

Eighth—The said railway shall be constructed, maintained and operated subject to the supervision and control of all the authorities of The City of New York, who have jurisdiction in such matters under the Charter of the City.

Ninth—Said railway shall be constructed and operated in the latest improved manner of street railway construction and operation, and the railway and property of said company shall be maintained in good condition throughout the term of this grant.

Tenth—The rate of fare for any passenger upon said railway shall not exceed five cents within the limits of The City of New York; the said company shall not charge any passenger more than said sum for one continuous ride from any point on said railway, or a line or branch operated in connection therewith to any point thereof, or of any connecting line or branch thereof within the limits of The City of New York. The rates for the carrying of property upon the cars of the grantee shall in all cases be reasonable in amount, and shall be subject to the control of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successors in authority, and may be fixed by such Board after notice and hearing to the grantee, and when so fixed such rate shall be binding upon said grantee, its successors or assigns, and no greater sums shall be charged for such services than provided for by it.

Eleventh—The cars on the said lines as proposed shall run at intervals of not more than one hour, both day and night, and as much oftener as the reasonable convenience of the public may require, or as may be directed by the City ordinances; provided, however, that said railway company during the first five years of this franchise shall not be required to operate its cars on any of its lines within the City of New York between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and four o'clock A. M. each day, unless the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of said City shall determine after a hearing had thereon that public convenience requires the operation of its cars during said hours.

Twelfth—The said railway company shall apply to each car run over said railway a proper fender and wheelguard in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities.

Thirteenth—All cars on said railway shall be heated through the cold weather in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force, or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities, and each car shall be well lighted, either by the Pintsch gas system or by electricity, or by some system of lighting equally efficient.

Fourteenth—The said company shall at all times keep the street between its tracks, and for a distance of two feet beyond the rails upon either side of said streets, free and clear from ice and snow.

Fifteenth—The said railway company, so long as it shall continue to use any of the tracks upon said streets and highways and bridges, shall have and keep in permanent repair that portion of the surface of said streets and highways and bridges, between its tracks, the rails of its tracks, and two feet in width outside of its tracks, under the supervision of the proper local authorities, and whenever required by them to do so, and in such manner as they may prescribe. And the City of New York shall have the right to change the material or character of the pavement of any street and highway and bridge, and in that event, the grantee, its successors or assigns, shall be bound to replace such pavement in the manner directed by the proper city officer, at its own expense, and the provision as to repairs herein contained shall apply to such renewed or altered pavement.

Sixteenth—The said railway company, its successors and assigns, so long as it shall continue to use any of the tracks upon the streets and highways and bridges hereby granted, shall cause the entire roadway of each of the same to be watered at least three times in every twenty-four hours, when the thermometer is above 35 degrees Fahrenheit, except that when the width of any roadway between curb lines shall exceed 60 feet, then a roadway of but 60 feet shall be watered as above.

Seventeenth—In case of any violation or breach or failure to comply with any of the provisions herein contained this grant may be forfeited and avoided by The City of New York, by a suit brought by the Corporation Counsel, on notice of ten days to the said railway company.

Eighteenth—If any of the streets and highways and bridges above referred to, or described, shall not now be open or in use as public highways, no right or franchise therein shall vest in the grantee by virtue of this ordinance until after such streets and highways and bridges shall be legally opened as a public highway, and such right or franchise shall expire at the end of the term created by this ordinance as above set forth. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as an obligation on The City of New York, in respect to the opening of such streets and highways and bridges, nor as in any manner granting property or rights of any kind in or upon its lands now owned or occupied by it under any title, except only the public streets and highways and bridges in the usual acceptation of such terms, which are specifically referred to above.

Section 3. This grant is also upon the further and express condition that the provisions of Article 4 of the Railroad Law, as it existed at the time of the adoption of this ordinance applicable thereto, and all laws or ordinances now in force or which may be adopted hereafter affecting the surface railways operating in The City of New York shall be strictly complied with.

Section 4. This grant is also upon the further and express condition that at any time after five years from the commencement of the operation of any portion of the railway hereby granted, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successors in authority, if it deems it necessary in the public interest so to do, may require the grantee, its successors or assigns, in case the railway upon any portion of the routes above described shall consist of a single track, to construct and operate a second track upon any or all of the routes hereby granted, whether on street highways and bridges or upon any private property or right-of-way included in any of such routes so as to make a double-track railway.

Section 5. Said grantee shall commence construction within three months from the date when it has obtained complete legal authority to begin construction, including necessary permits from the city officials and departments, and shall complete the construction of at least ten miles of single track railway on or before July 1, 1904, otherwise this grant shall be thereupon forthwith and immediately forfeited, without judicial or other proceedings. If upon any of the routes above described, or upon any portion thereof, there shall not be constructed and in actual operation by July 1, 1905, a railway properly equipped and operated as provided by this ordinance, the said route or portion thereof shall be conclusively taken to have been abandoned by the company, and so much of the rights and franchises hereby granted as pertains to such routes, or parts of routes, not then constructed from and after July 1, 1905, shall be thereupon forthwith and immediately forfeited, without judicial or other proceedings. Provided that such time may be extended upon the same conditions as to forfeiture under and for the causes specified in Section 99 of the Railroad Law, as it now exists, and by a properly executed instrument in writing; and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may similarly extend such time for a period or periods not exceeding one year, if, in their discretion, it seems best so to do, and that the city officials or departments who of which shall at the time of such construction have authority over the said streets and highways and bridges, may similarly extend, by properly executed instrument in writing, such time for a period or periods not exceeding one year further, if reasonable, in their judgment, by reason of requirements as to the manner of construction imposed by the city officials.

Section 6. If for any reason the right or franchise of the grantee in any of the streets, highways and bridges above described shall cease, or if for a period of six successive months the railway tracks upon any of such streets, highways, and bridges shall not be operated as provided for in this ordinance, the Comptroller of The City of New York may require the grantee, its successors or assigns, to remove its tracks and other structures upon such streets, highways and bridges within thirty days after notice, and in default of their removal pursuant to such notice, the proper local authorities having jurisdiction may cause them to be removed, and The City of New York may recover the cost and expenses of such removal, either by deducting them from the fund deposited, as required in Section 7 hereof, or by action; and the rights and franchises of the grantee, its successors or assigns, in such portion of the streets, highways and bridges, in case any such cease, shall forthwith and immediately cease upon the removal of such tracks or structures, and without judicial or other proceedings.

Section 7. This grant is upon the express condition that the New York and Long Island Traction Company, within thirty days after the said company has been duly authorized to operate its railway and before anything is done in exercise of the rights conferred thereby, shall deposit with the Comptroller of The City of New York the sum of three thousand dollars, either in money or in securities, to be approved by him, which fund shall be security for the performance by such company of the terms and conditions of this grant, especially those which relate to the payment of the annual charge for the franchise, the repairs of the street pavement and the removal of snow and ice, and the quality of construction of the railway; and, in case of default in the performance by said company of such terms and conditions, The City of New York shall have the right to cause the work to be done and the materials to be furnished for the performance thereof, after due notice, and shall collect the reasonable cost thereof from the said fund without legal proceedings, or after default in the payment of the annual charges shall collect the same with interest from such fund after ten days' notice in writing to the said company. Or in case of failure to keep the said terms and conditions of this grant relating to the headway of cars, fenders, and wheelguards, and the heating of the cars, and the watering of the streets, the said company shall pay a penalty of $50 a day for each day of violation, and the further sum of $10 a day for each car which shall not properly be heated or supplied with fenders and wheelguards in case of the violation of the provisions relating to those matters. In case of any drafts so made upon this security fund, the said company shall, upon thirty days' notice in writing, pay to the Comptroller of The City of New York a sum of money sufficient to restore the said fund to the original amount of three thousand dollars, and in default thereof, the grant hereby made may be cancelled and annulled at the option of the Comptroller of The City of New York, acting on behalf of said City. No action or proceeding or rights under the provisions of this section shall affect any other legal rights, remedies or causes of action belonging to The City of New York.

Section 8. This grant shall not become operative until said railway company shall duly execute, under its corporate seal, an instrument in writing wherein said company shall promise, covenant and agree on its part and behalf to conform to and abide by and perform all the terms and conditions and requirements in this ordinance fixed and contained, and file the same in the office of the Comptroller of The City of New York within ten days after the adoption of this ordinance.

Section 9. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

The City of New York, Office of the City Clerk, May 20, 1903.

The foregoing proposed ordinance and grant of franchise was approved by resolution of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, adopted May 1, 1903. It was received by the Board of Aldermen May 5, 1903, and on that day a resolution was adopted by the Board of Aldermen appointing the 19th day of May, 1903, for the consideration of the subject matter of such ordinance. On May 19, 1903, the Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution laying the said ordinance over, and making it a special order for Tuesday, June 2, 1903.

The Mayor of The City of New York has designated The New York Times and The Star as the two daily newspapers published in said city in which the said ordinance shall be published at the expense of the proposed grantee, pursuant to the provisions of Section 74 of the Greater New York Charter.

P. J. SCULLY,
City Clerk.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York City.

BELL, SCHOOL, AND ZIMMERMAN.—A transcript of judgment from Albany County for $44,296 was filed here yesterday against George S. Bell, Henry L. School, and Frank Zimmerman, in favor of Sheldon Frost, as receiver for the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

GIGLIO & SERVIERI.—The Sheriff has taken possession of the grocery store of Giglio & Servieri, at 203 Varick Street, on an execution for $1,285 in favor of P. Giglio, a relative of one of the partners, to whom a promissory note for this amount was given on Jan. 5, 1903, the day the firm started in business.

Out of Town.

GEORGE A. WILLIAMS COMPANY.—The plant of the George A. Williams Electrical Company of Jersey City was sold yesterday by Receiver Pierre F. Cooke to Dr. Leonard J. Gordon for $4,500. The company was declared insolvent some time ago, the liabilities being $58,000 and the assets about $17,000. Vice Chancellor Stevenson confirmed the sale.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

A. W. MILLAR.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was yesterday filed against Arthur W. Millar and George E. Kilgore, composing the firm of A. W. Millar & Kilgore, neckwear, at 460 Broome Street, who made a general assignment May 15 to James Savin, by William Mayer & Co., $1,528; Muser Brothers, $598, and Herman J. Newman, $251. The firm had been in business about three years. The liabilities are said to be about $7,000, with assets of about $2,000.

CHARLES STEMPLER.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was yesterday filed against Charles Stempler, cloak manufacturer, of 9 East Eighth Street, by G. Gandig & Blum for $617, Otto Erler for $700, and Lee, Tweedy & Co. for $297. On petition of Karl Wesby, Judge Holt appointed Rudolph F. Rabe temporary receiver, the receiver's bond being fixed at $2,000. Mr. Stempler started in business in 1897 at 61 East Eleventh Street.

CHARLES E. SMITH.—Schedules in bankruptcy of Charles E. Smith, auctioneer, of 8 West Twenty-eighth Street, against whom an involuntary petition was filed April 8, show liabilities of $57,829 and assets of $4,374. The latter consist of debts due, $1,231, and proceeds of sale of personal property by receiver, $3,143.

DISCHARGES IN BANKRUPTCY.

The following discharges were granted yesterday by Judge Holt in the United States District Court:

Charles E. Cosgrove. Petition filed Aug. 6, 1901. The liabilities consisted of a judgment found against Cosgrove by the American Surety Company for $15,391, which the latter concern, as surety for Cosgrove, paid to Stewart, Howe & May Co. On May 18, 1901, Cosgrove pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $15,391 from Stewart, Howe & May, and was sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the Elmira Reformatory.

Thomas J. Ellison, real estate, 528 West One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street. Petition filed March 16, 1903; liabilities, $4,890.

Hotchner, Teddelaus & Beck, cloaks, 42 East Ninth Street. Petition filed Nov. 1, 1902; liabilities, $9,136.

Frank J. Keyes, liquors, 218 Third Avenue. Petition filed March 18, 1903; liabilities $1,815.

David T. Kennedy, builder, 19 West Seventy-fourth Street. Petition filed March 31, 1903; liabilities, $164,088.

Mistakow & Polasensky, trading as M. Mandeberg & Co., 24 Walker Street. Petition filed Sept. 12, 1902; liabilities, $2,808.

Patrick K. Lentry, builder, 767 Lexington Avenue. Petition filed Feb. 10, 1903; liabilities, $11,460.

Simon R. Lewingood, clothing manufacturer, 137 Wooster Street. Petition filed March 20, 1903; liabilities, $9,786.

Israel Lebowitz, baker, 48 Ludlow Street. Petition filed March 5, 1903; liabilities, $1,997.

Charles K. Starr, 45 East Sixteenth Street. Petition filed Feb. 1, 1902; liabilities, $5,000.

Max Uttal, furs, 1,852 Second Avenue. Petition filed March 17, 1903; liabilities, $3,712.

Samuel Vossler, 107 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street. Petition filed Jan. 9, 1903; liabilities, $1,511.

Mary Wells, New Rochelle. Petition filed April 6, 1903; liabilities, $13,005.

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY.—FRANKLIN TRUST COMPANY, plaintiff, against NEW PALTZ & POUGHKEEPSIE TRACTION COMPANY and others, defendants.

In pursuance of an order of foreclosure and sale herein, bearing date the 21st day of March, 1903, and filed in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on the 23d day of March, 1903, the undersigned Referee in such judgment named, will, on the sell at public auction at the Office of the New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company, in the Village of New Paltz and County of Ulster, State of New York, at one o'clock P. M., of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and is described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Lloyd, in the County of Ulster, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows, viz.: Beginning on the north side of the New Paltz Turnpike Road, at a small white ash tree, and runs as the needle pointed May, 1835, first along the north side of said turnpike north seventy-one degrees and thirty minutes west three hundred and fifty feet to a stone; thence north forty-six east one hundred and eighty-one feet to a stone set in the ground; thence south fifty-seven degrees and thirty minutes east two hundred and seventy-seven feet to a stone set in the ground; thence south nineteen degrees west one hundred feet to the place of beginning, containing one acre of land.

And also, all that certain tract or parcel of land situate in said County of Ulster, described as follows, viz.: A strip of land at least ten feet wide, running the entire distance of the lands and premises of the said party of the first part, and known as the New Paltz Turnpike, beginning at Poughkeepsie Ferry at Highland, N. Y., at the most easterly line thereof to the Wallkill River at New Paltz, N. Y., the most westerly line of the same, for the purpose of building and maintaining thereon, and for that purpose only, an electric railway, and being the same premises conveyed to the New Paltz and Wallkill Railroad Company by Ferdinand McKeige, by deed bearing date the 29th day of April, 1897, and subject to the same conditions and restrictions contained therein to which reference is hereby made.

Together with the road constructed, properties, rights, privileges, franchises, cars, buildings, rails, ties, poles, machinery, motors, dynamos, tools, and grants of every kind, and all the property and appurtenances, real and personal, which were of the New Paltz and Wallkill Valley Railroad Company of every kind and description; and also all the estate, title, and interest, property, possession, claim, and demand whatsoever, as well in law as in equity of the New Paltz and Wallkill Valley Railroad Company and its successors in and to the same, and every part and parcel thereof, with the appurtenances. Being the same premises and properties conveyed to the said Mortgagor, (meaning the New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company) by John W. Searing, Referee, by deed dated January, 1900, and recorded or intended to be recorded simultaneously herewith, (meaning the mortgage of January 17, 1900) at the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster, in the said State of New York.

Together with all the property and appurtenances, real and personal, of the said Mortgagor (meaning the New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company) of every kind and description, acquired and to be acquired, in possession or in expectancy, and also all the estate, title, and interest, property, possession, claim, and demand whatsoever, as well in law as in equity, of the said Mortgagor, (meaning the New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company,) and its successors in and to the aforesaid and every part and parcel thereof, with the appurtenances and its corporate franchises.

The above property being offered for sale as an entirety and in one lot or parcel, no bid for the mortgaged premises, property, rights, and interests offered for sale less than Twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars, will be accepted. No bid will be received from any person offering to bid for the mortgaged premises, property, rights and interests who shall not first deposit with the Referee, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, in case of its acceptance, the sum of Five thousand ($5,000) dollars in cash, or by certified check on some National Bank or Trust Company of the State of New York, made or endorsed payable to the Order of said Referee. Immediately upon the receipt of the highest bid for said mortgaged premises, property, rights and interests the said highest bidder shall forthwith deposit with the undersigned as Referee, as security that he will make good his bid, in case of its acceptance, the sum of Fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars in cash or by certified check on some National Bank or Trust Company of the City of New York, made or endorsed payable to the order of the said Referee, or Thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars par value of the bonds secured by the mortgage dated January 17, 1900, executed by the New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company to the Franklin Trust Company as Trustee. Any cash which may have been previously deposited by the successful bidder as a pledge that he will make good his bid shall be received on account of the amount so required on the acceptance of his bid. All deposits received from the successful bidder shall be retained by the undersigned Referee and to be applied by him on account of the purchase price of the mortgaged premises. Deposits received from any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him. In addition to the deposit of cash or bonds, the purchaser may be required to make such further payment in cash on account of the purchase price as the Court by its order may require. Upon the failure of a purchaser or his successor or assigns to comply with the conditions of this sale or any order of the Court, in respect to the payment of the purchase price, the Court reserves the right to take and re-sell the said premises, property, rights, and interests in said judgment directed to be sold; and all sums paid by such purchaser, his successor, or assigns shall be forfeited as a penalty for such failure, but in case said sale shall not be affirmed by the Court, any deposits or payments made by the purchaser, his successor, or assigns, on account of such sale, shall be returned to him.

Any further amount to be paid upon the purchase price of the property, not directed to be paid in cash, may be paid in bonds and coupons belonging thereto, secured by the mortgage set forth in the complaint. Such bonds and coupons will be received at the sum which the holder thereof as such would be entitled to receive thereupon from and out of the proceeds resulting from the sale of the mortgaged property, premises, rights, and interests, if the entire purchase price was paid in cash, and after making all payments therefrom, which are directed to be made by said judgment or hereafter directed by the Court.

The purchaser shall not be required to assume or adopt any contract or agreement of the defendant New Paltz and Poughkeepsie Traction Company, but shall have the right to elect whether or not to assume or adopt the same within six months after the confirmation of the said sale.

For a further and more particular description of the premises and property so to be sold and the conditions of the said sale, reference is hereby made to the complaint, to said decree of Foreclosure and sale and to the original mortgage foreclosed on file in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster.—Dated May 4th, 1903.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

FISHER, BASIL JOHN.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Isabella Fisher, Lillian Brenda Fisher, Olivia Maud Fisher, Elsie May Fisher, William Randolph Grover Fisher, and [illegible] Fisher, the widow, heirs and next of kin of BASIL JOHN FISHER, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Theodore F. Kluttz of Salisbury, North Carolina, has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of Basil John Fisher, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 30th day of June, one thousand nine hundred and three, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 8th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three.

STOCKS DROP MUCH LOWER

Wall Street Hears a Story That a Millionaire Steel Man Had Been Called to Put Up $20,000,000.

The heavy selling movement which developed in the stock market on Saturday, causing a decline in active stocks of from 2 to 3 points each, was continued all day yesterday, with the result that there were further and in some instances severe breaks in prices. In representative issues, such as St. Paul, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, and Northwest, the losses extended from 2 to 6 points, while in Brooklyn Union Gas an extreme drop of 11¼ points was reported. Incidentally, on the curb Northern Securities sold down 3 points, to the lowest price on record.

As for the real reasons for the heavy sales—the total of the day ran beyond the million-share mark—the Street was altogether at sea, for at no time during the day was there anything new of a specific nature or any developments other than those already known. The Gould-Pennsylvania rupture, the labor troubles, gold exports, and the depleted condition of bank reserves—these were in their turn advanced as at least partial explanation for the market weakness.

From high sources, however, it is learned that while each and all of these may have had a part in forcing the present decline, the real reason must be sought for in another direction, to wit, the overextended, overspeculative condition of several prominent Western and Pittsburg interests (some of them now living in New York) who in recent years have made fortunes in the steel and iron business.

While not yet a matter of public talk, it is nevertheless a topic of discussion in important banking quarters that one, at least, of these millionaire steel men—recently returned from abroad and reputed less a "plunger" than some of his associates—has lately been called upon to put up some $20,000,000 to protect various syndicate and underwriting propositions in which he has become interested. To do this—to protect, in other words, these "undigested securities"—this magnate, so the story runs, has been obliged to dispose of thousands upon thousands of shares of marketable and standard stocks which he either has owned outright or has been carrying on ample margin. Some of these stocks, it is understood, were bought several years ago, and therefore show no loss on the sales, but in the case of the majority the purchases were made at the time of last Summer's ill-advised "boom," and the losses on them have been very considerable. In this connection, the stocks principally mentioned as sold are St. Paul, Union Pacific, Reading, and the Steel Trust stocks.

This, of course, does not take into consideration the forced liquidation on the part of this person's associates. These also have suffered—have had their newly made fortunes sadly depleted in the last few months, and, it is said, are apprehensive lest through the timidity or otherwise of the public they may not be able for many months to sell the new securities which, because not now readily marketable, they have been obliged to hold on to.

Beyond all this there was yesterday a good deal of selling by such of the old-time speculative element as have been carrying stocks, margined, in the hope of a turn for the better. Instead of such a "turn," things, marketwise, have gone from bad to worse, and thus it was that yesterday many disgusted holders tumbled out their shares without ado. Out-of-town selling of this kind was particularly in evidence, some of it being necessitated by the exhaustion of margins.

The market's greatest weakness was between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning, and then, after some slight recovery and a period of hesitancy, between 1:30 and 2:30, St. Paul broke precipitately to 147⅝, the lowest price in several years, carrying the whole list down with it to a general new low level since the collapse of the big bull speculation. The gossips had it that the Standard Oil interests were assisting in this decline, in continuance of an alleged "gunning" campaign for stock which they are credited with planning some months ago.

On the final afternoon break substantial supporting orders were put into the market by large banking interests, resulting in bringing about a rally of perhaps a point all round, this rally being in progress when the market closed.

All day long the Street was filled with stories of houses in trouble, failures impending, and of a "war" on among the controlling interests in Rock Island. The Rock Island report is emphatically denied, while as for the failure rumors they are always an incident to a declining market, and, so far as investigation shows, seem to have no basis.

SCHWAB'S VIEW HOPEFUL.

Steel Trust President Denies Wall Street Report That He Sold Stocks Heavily.

President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation, who returned to this city yesterday, gave out during the day this statement of his view of the steel situation. Mr. Schwab said:

"I have returned from a trip, taking in our mills in the Pittsburg district, where I find everything in the best possible shape, this being especially true of the labor situation. Reports of serious labor difficulties among the various departments of our business are without foundation.

"Business continues good, and we are booking just as many orders as we were taking a year ago. We now have sufficient orders booked to run our business up to the first of next year.

"We are just concluding the purchase of pig iron for the first quarter of this year, and will say that we are taking practically all the iron that has been offered us, and will still have a very considerable shortage below our requirements. The price of this pig iron is $19.35 per ton at Pittsburg."

Incidentally and at the same time Mr. Schwab took occasion to deny very positive reports which went the rounds in Wall Street yesterday that he had been a heavy seller of stocks, especially of United States Steel. Mr. Schwab said he had bought these stock and not sold. He also denied the report that he was ill, which was telegraphed from Pittsburg early in the day.

AGAINST INSPECTOR MURRAY.

Court of Appeals Upholds Indictment of Chief of Bureau of Combustibles, and He Must Stand Trial.

The District Attorney's office was notified yesterday that the Court of Appeals had upheld the indictment for neglect of duty found against W. H. Murray, Inspector of the Bureau of Combustibles, shortly after the disastrous explosion in the Park Avenue section of the subway. It was this explosion which partially wrecked the Murray Hill Hotel.

The indictment was based on charges that Inspector Murray had allowed excessive quantities of dynamite to be stored along the tunnel. A demurrer was interposed in his behalf on the ground that it lay with the Fire Commissioner to determine how much dynamite could be thus stored, and that the Commissioner had never given the Inspector any instructions on the subject. This demurrer the higher court has set aside. Murray will have to stand trial, but the date of his appearance has not been fixed.

Sent to Jail on Eve of Wedding.

Thomas Williams, a stenographer, who has been convicted of stealing valuable books from G. H. Richmond, a dealer in old manuscripts and rare editions, was sentenced yesterday to State prison for three years by Judge Cowing, in the Court of General Sessions. His conviction came on the eve of his proposed marriage to a young woman of good family in Albany.

Eight Years for a Highwayman.

Michael J. McCarthy, who with three other men attacked and robbed J. H. Kaylor, a messenger of the Bronx Borough Bank, of $2,071.20 on April 20, at Third Avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-third Street, was sentenced yesterday to State prison for eight years by Judge Cowing, in the Court of General Sessions. McCarthy was the only one of the thugs captured.

CANFIELD NOW UNDER BOND

Pleads "Not Guilty" to an Indictment of Four Counts.

Bail Fixed at $1,500 by Judge Newburger—The Trial Cannot Be Called Until September, Says Jerome.

With a smile Richard A. Canfield walked into Judge Newburger's court yesterday, surrendered himself, and entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment charging him with maintaining a gambling house and being a common gambler. His bail was fixed at $1,500, and property worth $225,000 was put up as security for his appearance at the trial. Canfield was accompanied by John Delahunty and Forbes J. Hennessey, his counsel, and Andrew J. Dam, a hotel proprietor, his bondsman and his cousin. Mr. Delahunty advanced to the railing and said:

"We understand that there is an indictment against Richard A. Canfield in the keeping of this court. Mr. Canfield is here to surrender himself, and we ask your Honor to fix the amount of bail."

In the crowded courtroom there was a great craning of necks to catch a glimpse of the man said to be proprietor of the most exclusive gambling resort in this hemisphere. Judge Newburger asked Clerk Cowing for the indictment, and fixed bail at $1,500.

When the court gave permission to plead to the indictment, Mr. Canfield advanced and stood beside his counsel. He wore a dark cutaway coat, dark trousers, standing collar, and black silk scarf held together by a pearl pin. In his hand were a black derby and a pair of tan gloves. He looked more like a minister of the Gospel than a gambler. When the formal question was put, he remained silent, but his lawyer said "Not guilty." Mr. Dam then gave the Hotel Jefferson, in East Fifteenth Street, as surety for the bond, informing the Clerk that the property was valued at $225,000 and had no mortgages on it.

During the proceedings in court not a word was spoken by anybody on behalf of the District Attorney's office.

The indictment, which is almost identical with that against David W. Bucklin, Canfield's manager, was filed on the same date, Jan. 23. The names of the three witnesses on the document are H. Archibald Pell, Henry K. Vingut, and Clarence Luce. The first two are well known young clubmen, and Mr. Luce is an architect who has done considerable work for Mr. Canfield both at Saratoga and in this city.

There are four counts to the indictment: Maintaining a gambling house, allowing gambling to be carried on in premises over which he exercised control, authority and supervision; having been and being now a common gambler, and creating a public nuisance by keeping a common gaming house where idle and evil minded persons congregated and gambled for excessive sums of money to the disturbance of the decent residents of the neighborhood and persons passing and repassing the premises. The offenses are charged as having been continuous from Dec. 1, 1898, up to the time the indictment was filed.

"The bail sum is satisfactory to me and I was consulted in the matter," said District Attorney Jerome last night. "I do not know when the case will be moved for trial, but it cannot be until September."

Mr. Canfield again declined to discuss his case. When asked about his plans for Saratoga this Summer, he said he would open the restaurant of his club if there was demand for such action by his patrons, but he did not believe there would be any play in the club, and he was not sure he would go there himself.

"Will you spend the Summer at Providence?" he was asked.

"I will not," was his reply. "Mrs. Canfield is coming here and will stay in the city with me."

"AL" ADAMS'S APPEAL DELAYED.

Court Grants Ten Days' Extension—Lawyer Criticises Jerome.

"Al" Adams's appeal will be delayed by an extension of ten days granted by Justice Scott yesterday on the motion of Assistant District Attorney Rand, who asked for a wait of twice that time in which to file the settlement of the case on appeal. Adams, convicted of conducting policy games, is in Sing Sing Prison serving a two years' sentence.

Kellogg & Rose, his attorneys, having prepared their appeal papers in five days, opposed any extension, but Mr. Rand excused his application on the ground of the heavy business now being handled by the District Attorney's office. Mr. Kellogg charged gross delay on the part of District Attorney Jerome in this case, and said that if the prisoner's appeal had been prepared in five days Mr. Jerome's staff certainly could prepare its case in the twenty days it already had had, without any further extension. He said he wanted the case passed upon by the Appellate Division in June, so that it could reach the Court of Appeals by October. He added that Adams was seriously ill, that if the case could not be heard in the Appellate Division before October the Court of Appeals would not be able to render a decision before the end of the prisoner's term.

LINER BULGARIA CRIPPLED.

Sighted in Midocean on Way to Halifax, but Declined Assistance.

The Atlantic Transport liner Minnetonka, in from London yesterday, reports that on Wednesday in midocean she spoke the Hamburg-American liner Bulgaria, which signaled that she was not under control.

The Bulgaria declined assistance, however, as her injuries were such as could be repaired at sea. She is bound for Halifax and has on board about 2,000 immigrants.

LEGAL NOTES.

Erroneous Admission of Evidence.—For a second time the Appellate Division has reversed a judgment for the defendant in the suit brought by Levi L. Gans against Tillie Wormser to recover on a check for $10,000 given by her as the purchase price of certain shares of stock in the American Box Strap Company. Mrs. Wormser's defense was that she was induced to purchase the stock by false representations made to her husband, as her agent, as to the value of the company's machinery. The decision on the former appeal was that the verdict in Mrs. Wormser's favor was not supported by the evidence. While the testimony on the second trial was substantially the same as that on the first, the Appellate Court says that it would be averse to reversing again on the same ground, but must, nevertheless, order a new trial because of an error in the admission of testimony. It appeared that Mr. Wormser, against the plaintiff's objection, was allowed to give in evidence a written memorandum he had made of Mr. Gans's statements. Mr. Gans denied that the memorandum was made in his presence. It was, the court holds, the mere written declaration of Mr. Wormser, and as such was not admissible in evidence unless the witness was unable to recollect the transaction or the facts constituting it, and could not, independently of the memorandum, give any evidence of it. (National Ulster Co. Bank vs. Madden, 114 N. Y., 280.)

⁂

Conditions in Insurance Policies.—A mutual benefit certificate in the Modern Woodmen of America provided that it should be void if the assured was killed in a duel. The word "duel," the Missouri Court of Appeals has held, in an action brought by one Davis against the insurance order, (73 Southwestern Reporter, 923,) signified a combat resulting from prearrangement, and hence that the certificate was not avoided on that ground, although the assured was killed in a combat, in the absence of any evidence of prearrangement. It appeared that the deceased, seeing a neighbor, with whom he had been on bad terms, passing in the highway, armed himself, and, going out, had a wordy altercation with the neighbor. After the latter had passed on the deceased stationed himself near the road and waited fifteen or twenty minutes for him to return. When he did so, both parties fired and one was killed. It was held that in awaiting the neighbor's return the deceased was guilty of an unlawful act, avoiding the condition in his certificate that it should be void if the assured was killed in consequence of a violation of law.

ARDSLEY VICTIM IS DEAD

Regained Consciousness Long Enough to Corroborate Companion.

Belief That Footpad Mistook Hefferan for Wealthy Club Member Arouses Residents—Edwin Gould Would Supply Bloodhounds.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 25.—John Hefferan, who was shot Sunday night close to the Ardsley Clubhouse at Ardsley, died early this morning in the Dobbs Ferry Hospital from the effects of his injury. Miss Sarah Campbell, who was in his company when he was shot, and who was detained for the night at the Ardsley Club so that she could be seen by the authorities, has told her story, and the authorities did not hold her. She will try to identify the man who shot Hefferan if he is caught.

Miss Campbell's story as told in detail to-day to Coroner Russell was fully borne out in every way, and she bore out the statement of a member of the club made last night that there was a struggle between Hefferan and the man who shot him. In her excited condition on Sunday night she omitted telling about the struggle.

The authorities think that the footpad who shot Hefferan mistook him and Miss Campbell for wealthy members or guests of the club and expected to have an easy time in obtaining money from the man. Instead, Hefferan, who was a powerful man, promptly sprang at the stranger when the demand for money was made, and was getting the best of the footpad when the latter fired his revolver.

Miss Campbell, who lives at the Irving Institute, where she is employed, said that when the stranger ran across the track, and, displaying a revolver, commanded, "Hands up," Hefferan demanded what for, and in a second the men had clinched. Hefferan had the other man down when the latter freed one hand and fired the shot. She was so frightened she did not know what she was doing, and ran for the train to get into shelter. The assailant was tall and thin and dressed in dark coat and light trousers. The police this morning found near the scene of the shooting a derby hat which had been purchased in Yonkers, near the scene of the shooting. They believe it dropped from the head of the man who fired the shot. The hat was made by John O. Stetson of Philadelphia, and is numbered 11,258,000.

Hefferan regained consciousness long enough to in a measure corroborate Miss Campbell's story. He died from the wound, a subsequent operation proving fruitless.

About an hour or so before the affair at Ardsley a woman was attacked by a man on the railroad tracks a mile north of the scene of the shooting. The woman fought her assailant, who attempted to drag her from the tracks, and finally made her escape from him when he tripped over signal wires. She ran up the track with the man following her, but she gained a signal tower and sought refuge and protection there. The operator did not dare leave his post to go after the man and tried to get a shot at him from the tower, but the man remained out of range. By the time the operator had telegraphed to get help the man had gone.

Edwin Gould has offered to supply bloodhounds to try to track the murderer. It is also believed that wealthy residents of Ardsley and club members will offer a reward for the capture of the murderer. They are believed to be actuated by the belief that the dead man was mistaken for one of them.

The watchman at the Ardsley station to-day informed the police that he saw the flashes of the revolver, and he is positive that the man who fired it was standing up and that the man who was shot was either lying down or in the act of rising.

The police are very secretive, but say that the man who killed Hefferan went from Tarrytown to Ardsley on the same train as Miss Campbell. How they know this they will not tell.

WATCHMAKERS IN A DEAL.

American, Waltham, Elgin, Keystone, and Crescent Interests Buy Toronto Concern Jointly.

Through the combination of four companies in forming a syndicate which has purchased the American Watch Case Company, Limited, of Toronto, Canada, it is believed that a beginning has been made of a combination of the watch manufacturing interests of the United States. E. C. Fitch, President of the American Waltham Watch Company; Charles H. Hulburd, President of the Elgin National Watch Company; T. Zurbrugg, general manager of the Keystone Watch Case Company, and Irving Smith, President of the Crescent Watch Case Company, formed the purchasing company.

Irving Smith of the Crescent Watch Case Company said regarding the syndicate purchase of the Toronto property that an interchange of stock between his company and the Keystone Watch Company had practically joined them, but that the American Waltham and Elgin were still distinctly separate.

The purchase of the Canadian company was to gain control of the trade there, which could only be obtained by buying the Toronto property, as the Canadian duty on cases is 30 per cent., while it is 10 per cent. on the works.

The capital stock of the Waltham Company is $4,000,000, but the surplus and sinking funds bring the actual assets of the business up to $5,000,000; the capital stock of the Elgin Company is $5,000,000, with a surplus of $1,200,000; the capital stock of the Crescent Company is $500,000, with a like amount of surplus, and the capital stock of the Keystone Company is $4,400,000, making a total capitalization of $18,900,000.

MISSING OFFICIAL FOUND.

Bridgeton Building Loan Man Refuses to Admit Defalcation.

Richard L. Howell, ex-Secretary of the Bridgeton (N. J.) Building and Loan Association, was arrested Sunday night in Hoboken at the request of the Bridgeton authorities, and arraigned before Recorder Stanton yesterday morning. Howell disappeared from Bridgeton nearly a year ago. He said in court he had been living in Hoboken for the last eight months. He added:

"I left Bridgeton for business reasons—trouble over the accounts of the Building and Loan Association of which I was Secretary. I turned over property to the Building and Loan Association, but they were not satisfied. I do not admit that there was any defalcation."

The amount involved is said to be $15,000. Howell will be handed over to the Bridgeton authorities.

Swindler's Sentence Confirmed.

The Court of Appeals handed down yesterday a decision confirming the conviction of John Shea of the Shea-Morrison gang of swindlers in Brooklyn. He has been in the Raymond Street Jail since July last, having been unable to secure $20,000 bail. The gang made a specialty of swindling by means of bogus saloons. Shea was indicted for swindling John L. McConnell out of $500. He advertised for a partner in what appeared to be a profitable saloon business, and McConnell, who answered the advertisement, paid him $500. Then there was a slump in the "prosperous" business.

Your Vacation in Colorado.

We are going to sell tickets at less than half fare this summer so that people of moderate means may spend their vacations in glorious Colorado.

It is by no means a country of high prices. Our handbook tells all about the hotels, boarding houses and ranches, their prices, names and addresses of the proprietors, attractions within reach, rates for livery, the fishing and hunting, charges for guides, etc. Ask for a copy. No charge.

It takes only two nights on the road to go from New York to Colorado. There is no place in the world like Colorado for beauty of mountain scenery and perfection of climate—it is ideal.

I have never known anyone to return from Colorado disappointed. Where could you find a more delightful place to spend your vacation?
